ALL READY FOR SECOND LIBERTY LOAN

GREAT BOND DRIVE WILL BE LAUNCHED FIRST OF THE WEEK

All Preparations Completed to Put Over Three Billion Dollar
Issue for the War.

TO BE OVER-SUBSCRIBED SAYS M'ADOO

Washington, Sept. 28.—Final preparations for the launching of the second liberty loan of three billion dollars or more were completed today with the publication of details of the offering by Secretary McAdoo.

A nation-wide campaign to obtain patriotic subscriptions to the loan will be started Monday and will close October 27.

Prominent among the features of the new offering is the privilege of converting bonds of this issue into bonds of any subsequent series carrying an interest rate in excess of 4 per cent.

The terms of payment are two per cent on application, eighteen per cent Nov. 15, forty per cent Dec. 14 and forty per cent Jan. 15, 1918. At an interest of four per cent the bonds will be issued in denominations of $50 and more.

They will mature in 25 years but may be redeemed at the expiration of ten years at the option of the secretary of the treasury. Any person who subscribes to the first issue of bonds bearing interest at 3 1/2 per cent may convert his holdings into the new four per cent securities at his option, but the new four per cent bonds are taxable under the sur-tax of the new income.

Summary of the Day's War News

Efforts to break into the new ground won by the British in the renewal of the Flanders offensive on Wednesday are being continued by the Germans. Failing to shake the British line elsewhere they tried it out last night at Zonnebeke where the British have pushed far along the road to Toulon. The British artillery, machine guns and rifle fire was too much for them, however, and the attack was broken up.

Zonnebeke is an important point for the British and their previous efforts to reach and maintain a hold on it had been desperately resisted by the Germans. Their present position in the village places them within half

Tommy in Trenches Writes His Last Will in Rhymes

London, Sept. 7.—(By Mail).—The last will and testament which the little army "pay-book" which he carries with him wherever he goes, is an interesting study. Wills made in the trenches are legal without witnesses and the soldier's own signature is all that is required to make such a will acceptable to the courts. Even if the signature is lacking, the will may still be accepted if there is evidence as to the handwriting or intention of the testator. In every case the war office authorities make every effort to carry out the soldier's wishes, however crudely they are expressed, or how-ever fantastic they may be.

Many of these trench wills have Tommy Atkins' characteristic use of humor. Some are in dialect, some in phonetic spelling. Several have been in cipher, which have taxed the war office experts to solve. Occasionally they leave purely imaginary possessions to institutions for fictitious persons. Here is a will in rhyme which was written while the soldier was on duty at a "listening post" in No Man's Land:

"I haven't a sweetheart, I haven't a mother,
I've only one sister, not even a brother;
My sister Susan is all I've got,
So of aught that's mine she can have the lot."
This will went through the courts without question, despite its unusual form.

Another will in rhyme leaving the money to the "first comer" is the fol-

PREMIER KERENSKY MAKES AN ADDRESS

Radicals Jeer Him and He Tells Them Germany's Fleet is Coming.

Petrograd, Sept. 27.—(Delayed).—Premier Kerensky addressed the democratic congress at its first session today in the Municipal theater, receiving applause which came principally from the less radical groups of delegates.

He spoke in forceful style, with the air of challenging his opponents. The address was largely a defense of the acts of the government during his premiership.

M. Kerensky was interrupted frequently by shouts from one group and another, which led at times to altercations lasting several minutes.

At one point, when the premier spoke

FRISCO LABOR WAR GOES ON

Expected End of Strike is Not Reached Because of Boilermakers.

REFUSE TO ACCEPT AGREEMENT TERMS

Ties Up Work on Eighth of Ship-Building Work of the Government.

San Francisco, Sept. 28.—The strike of 30,000 metal trades unionists here which was to have been ended today, was indefinitely prolonged late last night when members of the boilermakers' union voted not to return to work under the terms of a temporary agreement made Sunday, and which had been accepted by a majority of the unions affiliated with the iron trades council.

The employers issued a statement announcing that as a result of this action the plants would remain closed today and that any plants which opened inadvertently would be shut down Saturday. The action of the boilermakers will paralyze indefinitely all work on one-eighth of the entire ship building contracts let by the United States government. Work has been suspended eleven days owing to the strike and the temporary agreement was signed Sunday by labor leaders only at the urgent request of President Wilson.

mans to Recover Ground Fail.

HAIG CLEARS UP
THE NEW GROUND

Russians Announce Capture of Oromaru, a Point in the Caucasus.

London, Sept. 28.—Another German counter attack was made last night against the new British positions near Zonnebeke. The attack was broken up by the British, the war office announced. The statement follows:

"Yesterday evening another counter attack by the Germans against our positions in Zonnebeke was broken up by our rifle and machine gun fire and artillery. South of Tower Hamlets and south of Polygon wood isolated strong positions in which parties of the enemy were holding out close to our new position have been cleared up."

"We killed or captured several Germans without loss to ourselves in carrying out a successful raid last night south-west of Chissey."

"The enemy's artillery showed considerable activity during the night south of Lens. The artillery on both sides has been active on the battle front."

RUSSIANS WIN SUCCESS.

Petrograd, Sept. 28.—The Russians have captured Oromaru, 24 miles west of Meri, in the Caucasus, it was announced officially.

BIG BATTLESHIP IS FAST AGROUNDS IN HOME WATER

Washington, Sept. 28.—The navy department at noon authorized an announcement that a battleship of the fleet is aground in home waters, but floating easily and probably will be floated soon.

The navy department issued this statement: "The navy department has received an official report stating that a battleship of the United States navy is aground in home waters. The ship is resting easily and it is expected she will be floated without difficulty. The newspapers are urgently requested not to print any information which might lead to a disclosure of the ship's name."

WAR TAX BILL IN LAST STAGE

Conferees of House and Senate Meet to Give Their Approval.

MEASURE TO RAISE
$2,700,000,000 CASH

Bill Will Be Finally Put Across Early in the Coming Week.

Washington, Sept. 28.—Senate and house conferees met today to vote formal approval of the new war tax bill, revised to raise approximately $2,700,000,000 of revenue. This is an increase of about $300,000,000 over the bill's total as it left the senate and $332,000,000 over the house bill. Virtually none of the new increases are on war excess profits or incomes.

The conferees plan to present their report on the bill to the house late today, where it will be acted upon first.

Final approval of the report by both house and senate by the first of the coming week virtually is certain, after which the measure will be sent to President Wilson for signature.

NOT SEEKING EARLY PEACE

Colonel House is Merely Collecting Peace Data for President.

WILSON WITHOUT FAITH IN OUTLOOK

British Statesman Asserts That No Peace is Possible at This Time.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—The collection of data on peace, now being made for President Wilson by his close friend and adviser, Col. E. M. House, it was explained at the state department today, does not indicate that the United States is looking forward to an early peace. Neither does the government plan to participate in the readjustments of boundaries or political affairs in Europe when peace is declared.

The interests of the United States, it was reiterated, continue to have no direct connection with the war aims of the allies and remain unchanged.

Until recently no systematic effort has been made to collect the data that would be advisable to have at a peace conference and it was for that purpose that the president requested Colonel House to give his services to the state department. It was emphatically denied that the government authorized the work because faith had been placed in many of the reports that peace might come soon or that his appointment had anything to do with

MILK PRICES IN MIDDLE WEST TO FEEL THE PROBE

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Following the seizure of records of the Milk Producers association, composed of 340 of the largest producers of Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana, and the taking of witnesses before a grand jury, James M. Wilkerson, first assistant attorney general, made public a statement today in which he declared the producers "have violated every anti-trust law, both state and federal, in every way possible."

An examination of the documents seized by the state authorities caused Mr. Wilkerson to declare that the producers "have violated every anti-trust law, both state and federal, in every way possible."

NEW ARMYMEN MUST REPORT

Teeth Will Be Examined at Fort Wayne Dental Depot on Saturday.

EVERY SOLDIER
TO BE EXAMINED

If Dental Work is Needed
Same Will Be Done
Next Week.

Members of the new army to leave next week and those subject to call are ordered to report at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at the Fort Wayne Dental depot, corner of Washington and Clinton streets, to have their teeth examined.

Orders to that effect were received Friday morning by Dr. E. E. Quivy, director for the Twelfth congressional district of the Preparedness League of American Dentists from the surgeon general's office at Washington, D. C. Dr. J. S. McCurdy is director for Allen county.

Every conscripted man is expected to report at the Fort Wayne Dental depot and all those needing dental work will be assigned to a local dentist for some day next week. The majority of the dentists of the city have volunteered their services and have been given the following instructions: "All devitalized teeth having a history of chronic abscess (even without symptoms at the time of examination,) all teeth hopelessly pyorrhetic, and all impacted third molars should be extracted. Fill only those teeth that can be made serviceable. Whenever practicable, amalgam fillings should be inserted in molars and bicuspids; cement should be used as the filling material in all other cavities."

Because of the limited time no other notice to the new army men can be given to report.

Roy Coffelt, 25, Member of Fort Wayne Company, Found Dead.

GENEVA YOUNG MAN
HANGS HIMSELF

Was Among First Called in District—No Cause is Known.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., Sept. 28.—By means of a rope tied to a crossbeam in the barracks bathroom, Roy Coffelt, age 25, of Geneva, Ind., committed suicide here early this morning by hanging. He was the son of Mrs. Anna Coffelt, formerly of Geneva, an inmate of the state insane asylum at Richmond.

No cause is known for Coffelt's action. He was last seen at 12:35 a. m. when a fire call aroused all the men from the barracks and at that time he was supposedly in good spirits. The body was discovered hanging by a rope tied to a crossbeam in a shelter house. A small bench near by had evidently been used to carry out the deed.

EXPORTS SHOW A HEAVY DECREASE FROM LAST YEAR

New York, Sept. 28.—Exports of merchandise at the port of New York fell more than $95,000,000 last month, as compared with August, 1916, according to the monthly report of foreign trade made public at the custom house. Imports for August of the present year shows a gain of more than $14,000,000 as compared with August, 1916.

The report shows that total exports for August, 1916, were $274,627,773, and for August of this year $179,624,369. Imports for August, 1916, were $167,929,942, and for last month $182,241,000.

GET TRUE BILLS FOR LEADERS IN TREASON PLOTS

Federal Grand Jury in Chicago Has Found Indictments Against 160 of the I. W. W. Chiefs.

RESULT OF RECENT WIDE-SPREAD RAID

Washington, Sept. 28.—More than 160 leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, engaged in the alleged nation-wide conspiracy to hamper the government in carrying on the war have been indicted by the federal grand jury at Chicago.

Indictments will be handed into the court probably late today.

Between 160 and 170 persons, resident in almost every section of the country, are named in the indictments.

Seditious conspiracy—the crime nearest to treason within the definition of the criminal code—is charged. This offense is punishable by six years imprisonment or $5,000 fine or both. Indictments are understood to be based upon revelations brought to light in the recent country-wide seizure by federal authorities of documents and correspondence of the I. W. W. in approximately fifty towns and cities.

Show a Conspiracy.

These documents are understood to have revealed the existence of a conspiracy, the most far-reaching in its scope of any yet unearthed, to embarrass the government in the prosecution of the war by resistance of the draft law, by fomenting labor disturbances, by burning crops and forests and in numerous other ways.

Small Coterie Rules.

A comparatively small coterie of men is understood to have directed the entire movement. Officials here feel that in many instances the alleged ring leaders of these anti-war activities are virtually guilty of treason, but because of the narrow definition of treason in the criminal code and in numerous court decisions, it was thought best to ask the grand jury to find indictments on

WAR CANNOT BE WON IN TRENCHES ALONE

Mighty Army to Produce
Food is Needed Says
Carl Vrooman.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 28.—Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, addressing the American Bankers' association today said that if the war is to be won the United States not only will have to put an army in the trenches, but will have to put several other armies in the field at home. "We shall have to have an army of food producers in the furrows," he declared, "a women's army of food conservers, beating back the attacks of that world-old camp follower of war—famine, and a patriotic army of civilians in the business and political worlds, fighting against disloyal greed, unpatriotic partisanship, perverted personal ambition and economic treason to the republic."

"Ten million of the flower of American manhood by the selective draft have had their names written on the nation's immortal roll of honor."

"The nation calls today for an equal number of volunteers to fight in the business world and at the ballot box, to make the conduct of this war as clean and patriotic, as heroic and self-sacrificing in the business world at home as it is in the trenches of France and Flanders."

In urging increased food production Mr. Vrooman declared we are face to face with famine. "Not as a people, of course, but as one of a sisterhood of nations. We are not ourselves starving, but millions of our fellowmen are."

All members and friends of Christ Lutheran church are invited to attend important meeting at new church tonight.

THE HOUSE OF QUALITY

Hitting the Mark

"It sometimes happens that a man hits the bull's-eye by accident rather than by skill; but he is not likely to repeat. The man who is most precise and most determined in his aiming and most persistent in practice is, naturally, the man who stands the best chance of scoring high and of being able to preserve his record."

When your shots begin to land inside the target, you're in a fair way of hitting the "bull's-eye." The Gates Store Trade Shots are landing inside the target right along.

We take considerable satisfaction in seeing our "score" going higher day by day. The new garments—Suits, Dresses, Coats, Blouses—which have been crowding in for the week-end sales will raise the score still higher. Every new style seems to be more attractive than those which have preceded. There are so many such charmingly beautiful things here now ready for your choosing that we are really anxious to have you come in and to hear your expressions of pleasure at seeing them.

And now a word about coming in "just to look around"

Many women who enjoy seeing the authentic new styles as they are brought out hesitate about coming in "just to look" because they fear they might cause the salespeople unnecessary trouble.

Please remember that here our salespeople are all so enthusiastic about the garments and the unusual values we are showing that it will be a pleasure to them to have you come to see without a thought of buying.

You will not be importuned to buy. We cordially invite you to keep in touch with the latest style developments as exemplified by the Gates Store showings in the various departments and in our show windows.

Every day there is much here that is new and interesting, which we will enjoy showing you quite as much as you will enjoy seeing. Come.

The Last Days of the Anniversary Sale

For the last days of this great Anniversary Sale which closes Saturday night, hundreds of extraordinary offerings have been prepared—offerings in choice seasonable garments at savings too important to be overlooked.

VATERLAND TURNED AGAINST GERMANY

Greatest Vessel Afloat to Carry Americans to Fight Abroad.

(Staff Special.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 27.—Kaiser Wilhelm himself has contributed Uncle Sam's greatest aid in transporting armies to France.

Thanks to the Kaiser's orders to the German shipping companies, Uncle Sam has today one ship which can stand submarine attack better than any ship afloat. Gun platforms for a whole flock of rapid fireers were cunningly built into her. Her speed enables her to run away. Through a system of watertight compartments she is practically unsinkable. It struck squarely by two or three torpedoes she would remain afloat. As Uncle Sam's engineers have proceeded to remodel the Vaterland since the American flag was hoisted over her, they have been running into surprise after surprise. They have found their work already done for the most part.

The suitability of the Vaterland for transport purposes have heightened the suspicion that she was built especially to carry a little army for a surprise attack on a distant coast—the United States or Brazil in all probability—if things had gone as the Kaiser planned, and our turn had come.

The highest military experts in Germany were consulted in the building of the Vaterland. And now their pot weapon is turned against themselves. The Vaterland can cross the Atlantic in less than a week. She could take 20,000 men per month to Europe. The troops sailing on the Vaterland can drill every day. On her giant after-deck a whole regiment can deploy.

No troops have ever sailed the seas in the solid comfort enjoyed by the boys who go "over there" in the Vaterland.

Thank you, Bill!

GREAT LAUNDRY FOR SAILORS.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR, THICK, WAVY, FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Draw a Moist Cloth Through Hair and Double Its Beauty
at Once.

Save Your Hair! Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops
Coming Out.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp.
Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.
You can surely have pretty, charming lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a bottle of Knowl-
ton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed

IS MOST REMARKABLE SOLDIER IN FRANCE

American Veteran of Franco-
Prussian War Shames
Slackers.

By G. C. HENON.

WHEN the American Troops in France, Sept. 20.—(Controlle Americaine).—The most remarkable soldier in the entire French army is George
Le Mesnager, of 384 Douglas street,
Los Angeles, Cal.
If there be any cowards and slackers
in America, let them know Le Mesna-ger's story and be ashamed.

Early in September, 1914, an old man walked down the gangplank of a steamer just arrived at Havre, France,
from America.

His hair, once black, would soon be white. Shaggy eyebrows shaded eyes that always twinkled. A reddish-brown beard made him look older than he really was. His carriage was military.

War had been declared in France
only a few weeks before and the authorities were suspicious of entering strangers.

Le Mesnager had hardly reached the dock before he was in the custody of the police who demanded his business.

"I'm here to enlist in the army," he said, in perfect French. The gendarme laughed derisively.

"What, an old man like you enlist
in the army? Impossible!"

Le Mesnager took from his pocket
a little case that contained the highest médal a French soldier can receive.

"I came from America and fought for France in 1870 and they gave me this," he said simply. "I've come back to fight again."

It was no time for quibbling. The Germans were hammering their way toward Paris and every available
Frenchman was being rushed to arms.

The gendarme said: "If you're determined to enlist, there's a recruiting station down the street."

The recruiting officer hesitated. "A man 64 years old and a private in the infantry?" It's almost unheard of."

Le Mesnager's Franco-Prussian war
medal again got him by. That night
he was on a troop train for the front.

That was three years ago. Today
Le Mesnager, nearing his sixty-eighth birthday, is a French infantry lieutenant and his breast is covered with medals.

He received his first wound, a rifle ball through the arm, seven days after he arrived at the front. It put him in the hospital for a month. When he went back they made him a sergeant
for gallant conduct.

For months Le Mesnager fought in the trenches at Verdun, in one of the greatest and longest battle in history.

One day the ammunition ran short and the colonel called for a volunteer to bring up an ammunition train. The German bombardment was terrific. It seemed sure death.

Le Mesnager volunteered and in a short time brought up ammunition.

A few days later the old Californian was called before his regiment and the "Croix de Guerre" (cross of war)
pinned on his coat. He was mentioned in dispatches.

"Every soldier should have the courage and spirit of this veteran comrade," the colonel told his regiment.
It wasn't long until Le Mesnager was commissioned a lieutenant.

One evening he was chatting with his regimental adjutant when a German shell passed between them. It exploded almost at their feet.

By some miracle neither was killed,
but both were hurled quite a distance.
Le Mesnager recovering, found himself on the ground under a tree.

He looked around and found parts of the German shell which he gathered up and carried back to his trench.

"It was nothing at all, nothing at all," he laughed. "Don't ever be afraid of a shell like this one. It's only the shell that hits you that you need to dread."

His colonel heard this remark and was so impressed with the old fighter's
"spirit" that he recommended him for further honors. This time he was decorated with the "palm."

Another medal was given him for bravery in hand-to-hand conflict. Le Mesnager's regiment had "gone over the top," but soon found itself surrounded by a superior force.

A big German picked the old man
out as his own particular prey, but Le Mesnager ran him through. A little later he discovered the hiding place
of the bugler who was sounding the German charge. Three shots silenced him.

Le Mesnager has been a resident of Los Angeles since 1867. He lived in France until he was 16, when he emigrated to America. He is a full-fledged
American, and has been since he was 21. In Los Angeles he is a substantial citizen. For many years he has been a court interpreter. He has accumulated a comfortable fortune in real estate.

Since the arrival of the American expedition Le Mesnager has been recalled from the trenches and assigned to one of the French divisions training with the Americans. Most of his work is that of interpreter.

"I couldn't remain quiet when the war broke out," he told me the other day. "Ever since 1871 I had itched
to get back at the Germans."

"I knew, however, that my family would object on account of my age, so I 'ran away' from home one day, when my wife was out of the city on a short visit."

"It was one of the happiest days of my life when the United States, MY country, joined in the war against Germany on the side of the country of my birth."

An anti-smoke campaign in Pittsburg is reported to have reduced its noxious smoke by at least 75 per cent, thereby saving on property alone
$7,500,000 annually.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation
of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can find any dealer

PROBING MILK PRICES.

The state authorities of Illinois in special co-operation with the legal department of Cook county have launched an investigation of the recent sharp advances in the price of milk. Wisconsin authorities will be represented in the grand jury inquiry that has been started and it is not improbable that Indiana may find occasion for direct concern in it.

The inquiry will proceed on the theory that criminal laws of the state of Illinois have been violated and that producers no less than other agencies identified with the milk industry and trade are guilty of criminal practices. Records have been seized for examination by the grand jury and it is stated that the investigation will be thorough. Already it is predicted that indictments will be returned against members of the Milk Producers' association, an organization that embraces dairy interests in Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. This inquiry is provoked by evidences that price-fixing has been proceeding on a scale that is rapacious and by methods that are a violation of the law.

It is interesting to note that the legal authorities of Illinois have in mind to carry their inquiries into other fields of the food business and find out if they can what is responsible for the soaring prices of so much that seems to be plentiful. A public that is deeply concerned with the cost of everything that it must have for subsistence will accompany the work of the law's probe with more than casual interest. The same public will also soon begin to wonder just when, about where and in what manner the national food administration will move on from wheat and flour and sugar to some other phases of the problem of food control.

Save for the shortage of wheat—which itself is not actually calamitous—the greatest abundance of foodstuffs in the country's history has been produced this year. The corn crop is beyond precedent. The potato crop is likewise the heaviest ever known in this land. War gardens alone are said to have yielded something like a $350,000,000 aggregate of edibles on top of regular production. Allowing reasonably and even generously for the general level of "war prices" the cost of living is abnormal and burdensome. It is just this that the national food administration is designed to prevent. It may be that there has been no adoption of the general practice of economy and conservation that have been urged with so much steadfastness and that because demand for consumption has not been in an ydgree nor in any respect abated that prices continue to soar. It is just possible that later in the season when domestic consumption begins to have recourse to the conserved stores in household cellars and pantries the food trades will be brought into competition with a factor that they are not just yet appreciating at its full value.

In the meantime, the outcome of the Chicago inquiry will be awaited with more than ordinary interest and expectancy. It will have value as disclosing in at least one branch of the food industry and perhaps in others what forces are at work and what practices are invoked to keep profiteering in its comfortable seat.

MR. NIEZER AND THE MAYORALTY.

Maurice C. Niezer is a business man. His success in business has been distinct and in a large way. Those who know anything about him know that his success is the consequence of a high order of business ability, honorable conduct and a steadfast adherence to correct business practices. Material success and sound reputation in business come by no other way.

As mayor of Fort Wayne Mr. Niezer would continue to consult the principles and make use of the practices that have marked his career in private business. Indeed, we do not believe he would find it possible to pursue any other course if he tried. The trained instincts of business are apt not only to remain but to persist and this in the case of Mr. Niezer could mean only that his good sense, shrewdness, executive capacity and veneration of honorable principles would be employed with the same zeal and to the same good effect for the people of Fort Wayne that they have been employed for himself and his associates in private business.

We believe that Mr. Niezer's ability and training are just what Fort Wayne needs greatly to have at the head of municipal affairs. And when this city has a mayor in whom there are joined to practical qualities of the first order an intense public spirit, fine civic ideals and true consecration to service, there will be a chief executive in whom the public will find nothing is wanting.

To suppose that Mr. Niezer will not make such a mayor is merely to suppose such an absurdity as that going into the city hall to work he will leave outside the door every quality, principle and ideal that has influenced and secured his great success in his fine private career. No sensible person will suppose such a thing. It is not supposable, to begin with, and failure will accompany any partisan attempt to create a false and malicious belief that Mr. Niezer for the sake of the mayoralty will surrender his independence and self-respect, sacrifice his high reputation in business, desecrate every civic ideal that he has tried to exemplify and betray the confidence of thousands of devoted friends who are proud of their faith in him.

The mayoralty of Fort Wayne is nothing to Maurice C. Niezer save as it opens to him a path to further and higher service. He does not need it. Its emoluments are nothing to him. Its honors as symbolizing the highest degree of public trust and public confidence and its duties as offering the most ample career of public service in a city that he loves are everything to him.

When the people of Fort Wayne have fully examined this political situation and carefully taken into account its vital relation to the future of the city they will not be tardy to understand the importance of placing a man like Mr. Niezer at the head of their municipal affairs.

GERMANY'S LIBERAL PARTY.

In Germany Admiral von Tripitz heads the new liberal party whose chief tenet is no peace that is not a German peace. In other words, there must be no peace that is not the peace of victory and that means that Germany keeps Belgium and such part of France as she can hold, together with anything else in the way of territory that it may be of advantage to her to discard.

The von Tripitz party is at least honest. It is making no hypocritical pretenses. It is not bidding for peace upon any terms that it does not mean to accept and that it is not willing to fight for to any length of endurance. Von Tripitz and the Junkers are thoroughly at one in the respect that they believe in themselves and the autocracy and their power to come through undismayed by war costs, untainted by democracy, unchastened by loss and suffering—thoroughly bourbon and unregenerate. As they see it a dynasty that isn't Hohenzollern and a Germany that isn't autocracy and Junkerism is no Germany at all—not worth fighting for, not worth preserving. It is the whole program for which the war was launched or none of it.

The new liberal party's contest with the actual forces of liberalism and with the advocates of peace, who are growing in numbers and vociferousness, will be watched with interest. Its purpose is to fight the peace element in the reichstag, to stand by the whole program of war aims and make a peace that realizes something of the dreams of two generations.

Of course, soldiers can get along without books and the war can be won without that million-dollar library fund, but it will make the lot of the boys who do the fighting a great deal easier and will do them much good in spirit and morals if they have an abundance of good literature to help them while away the time that must now and then grow heavy. Soldiers are not all the time on the march, in the battle line or "going over the top" and jabbing bayonets into the foe. There are days in long rows when there is nothing to do but wait for the command to go forward. Books fill in the time. Help the library fund. A small contribution will go far. A dollar keeps one book moving for a year.

Among the several names mentioned of congressmen thought to have been influenced by the von Bernstorff propaganda are Senator La Follette and Representative Billy Mason. This is surprising, astounding, shocking, painful—indeed, not to be borne. There may be some copperheads in congress, but the loyalty of La Follette and the devotion of Mason cannot be questioned. Their words prove their fealty, their friends establish their patriotism. Either one can get a word of praise from von Bernstorff or an endorsement from Big Bill any time asked for.

The man who thinks von Bernstorff could have made any headway with $50,000 in buying up congressmen must take that aggregation for a most pitiful group of men.

The man who thinks von Bernstorff could have made any headway with $50,000 in buying up congressmen must take that aggregation for a most pitiful group of men.

THE TRANSFER CORNER

By R E M

"Fare, please! All the glad ones, and the sad ones! All the good ones, and the bad ones—get on here!"

SONNETS—"THE OTHER WOMAN'S SHADOW."

The other woman's shadow stands between—
That one who stabbed your heart, and maimed your soul!

I would be blinder than the earth-hid mole
Did I not see her mucking, scornful mien!
She points at me, like an audacious queen,
And sneers, "I had him first; where then, wert thou?"

Could I place orange blossoms on my brow,
Forgetful, perhaps, on her lips had been;
That she may greet me with dismayed surprise!
Or wave me hence when I lay in your arms?
Would not her shadow laugh, if I should weep?
Nay, love, I take you for my chosen lord—
But, would that white flesh of her wanton charms
Were hidden from us in the final sleep!

But stay, I see the sorrow in your eyes!
Love, I shall heal, where she but lived to kill!
Let vanities of earth-life claim her still—
My love shall make me wifely kind and wise!
Love, I shall pray the glad sun on you rise!
Love, I shall shape the labour of my hands
To bless the highways of your life's demands—
That she may greet me with dismayed surprise!
Come, let us face her! I shall fear no more!
Let her be dead, who never lived to me;
Let her be silent, when we speak and kiss!
Perchance, hereafter, on the blessed shore
Her meek-eyed ghost may find us, chaste and free—
And give us greetings in our lovers' bliss!

—Fred R. A.

Our Daily Affirmation.

WE ALL LOVE VIOLIN MUSIC—BUT, OH, GEE! PIZING THE FIDDLER IS QUITE ANOTHER MATTER.

What we can do for the other fellow is a test of power; what we can suffer for him is a test of love.

We're getting so tired of these German plots. They seem to have been made over a single stupid pattern—made in Germany, as it were.

Somebody says that satirists traffic in gods and retail thrones—but if they have as hard a time selling them as we do getting rid of the Kaiser we'll bet their goods are shopworn.

Goethe said, "He is happiest, be he king or peasant, who finds peace in his home." But they don't care much now-a-days in Germany for what Goethe once thought.

Once we thought work a curse—now we simply curse work and let it go at that.

After we get the bad blood squeezed out of Germany we might set to work squeezing the serum out of the vaccination freaks.

We raised our boy to be a soldier all right—but hang us, if we raised him to be vaccinated!

Speaking of doctors—we think they are a pretty good sort, their worst trouble being a longness for theory and a shortness for facts.

George Washington had not learned his ideals in Germany when he cried out at the battle of Monmouth, "Young man, restrain your impetuosity; in the name of God I beseech you not to make a slaughter-house of the field of battle." Let us preserve that true American ideal—after we have made the world fit to fight in, of course.

The Retort Courteous.

"I observe," remarked Mr. Noonsance, "that you bite your finger nails. Every time you open your mouth you put your finger in it." "I suppose, then," replied Mr. Diggs, "that you bite your toe-nails, because every time you open your mouth you put your foot in it."

Gila Monster (who has not appeared in T. C. since the "wig tree" fished away) calls our attention to the fact that spring chickens in Hungary, any time of the year, cost $1.50 each, and that no one will believe him at such a cheap price as we pay here.

Saw Germans Bomb Hospitals

HOOSIER'S WAR STORY.

A two-hour bomb attack from the air on a French hospital is described in the accompanying article by Alfred Thompson, a Rensselaer Ind. man now serving as an ambulance driver in France. In this attack the German airmen dropped some forty bombs, some of which were incendiary, setting fire to the wooden hospital buildings. Many wounded men were killed by the bombs and others were burned to death, while hospital attendants and others were victims of the raiders.

Mr. Thompson tells the story in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delos Thompson, of Rensselaer.

(Reprinted from the Rensselaer Republican.)

Yesterday was a big day, the biggest for me that I have had in France. We have been waiting for a call any hour for the past four weeks and yesterday afternoon we got it. We have been living in our cars, you know, sleeping on our stretchers with all our baggage in the car.

When the order came we had to get everything out of our cars, the stretchers, and be ready to leave in ten minutes. It was some hustle but we did it and were one of the first in line ready to start. We were called to one of the triage hospitals, which are the hospitals to which the wounded are taken from the post de cours (first line hospital, preparatory to being picked up by the ambulance drivers), which are very close to the trenches.

The hospital we went to was about eight or nine miles back of the front lines and we supposed we were to do evacuation work, that is, carry the (wounded) from there way back to a base hospital. We stopped on our way and when we tried to crank the car again we couldn't get any results at all.

As a result almost every car in the line passed us, and when we finally discovered the trouble and got started we were fifth from the back. We finally arrived at the hospital and lined up to receive our charges. It was pretty slow going and we had a long time to wait, so we got out and walked around. It was the closest to the front I had ever been and there were lots of interesting sights.

Sky Filled With Airplanes.

There were several airplane fields there and the sky was filled with airplanes. Several times we could see the French shooting at Boche planes over us and every few minutes a plane would rise from the field and soar off. We, Dee and I, walked up to the hospital and I saw a Boche plane. The plane was jammed with Boche wounded. They were a sorry, sorry sight. Men with no chins, one eye, one arm or leg, shot to pieces and covered with bloody rags. Their uniforms were torn and covered with mud and blood. It certainly was a ghastly sight. We walked on up to the rest of the buildings and looked in.

Some were filled with Boche wounded, others with French, most of them just recently brought in with the rough dressings they receive at the post de cours. They all bore it well, though, and there was very little groaning or moaning.

Then we walked up to where they were loading and discharging cars. The cars were coming in with loads of from three to five wounded, in a steady stream. It was my first real glimpse of the horror of the war and it was very pitiful.

wounded) each and moved off in pairs to make the drive to the base hospital, about forty miles (twenty-five miles). By the time our turn came there were no more blesses to load so we waited. In the meantime we had seen two separate groups of German prisoners marched past. They had just been captured and seemed glad to be prisoners so they could get out of the trenches. There was an awful lot of them.

We waited and waited for our loads, but nothing happened. Meanwhile all the other cars had gone, leaving only five. Finally about 8:30 in the evening, they asked us in and gave us some supper and tea and wine in the hospital. It certainly tasted good.

Boches Bomb Hospital.

After that we thought we would go, but they did not load us and we pulled out a couple of stretchers and some blankets and made a bed on the ground, as we thought we might be there all night. I was lying almost asleep when all of a sudden from the sky I heard the roar of an aeroplane motor, then a tremendous boom and felt the whole hospital building shake, then a great flash.

Immediately the rockets began to fly and the guns to boom and several searchlights began piercing the sky in search of the Boche plane. He had been high in the air, and had shut off his motor and coasted slightly down to a very low level, probably two or three hundred yards, then dropped his bomb, turned on his motor and was off like a shot before the place was awake.

The whole place was soon alive, the sky was filled with bursting shells, rockets, warning Roman candles and searchlights. I rushed to the building as soon as I could and crouched against the wall, as everyone else in the whole place did. We thought it was a pretty close shave, and thought probably it was a single Boche plane which had sneaked up trying to demolish the aviation camp, but it was mild to what was coming. We were all wide awake then and soon we heard another plane above.

Searchlights Tried to Find It.

The searchlights tried to find it, but didn't seem to do any good and suddenly it swooped down, and there was a blinding flash, a tremendous roar, and again we sought cover by lying flat on our faces on the ground against a wall. The bomb threw stones and dirt all around us and as we looked up we saw it had struck one of the hospital buildings a hundred yards away.

It was an incendiary bomb and in half a minute the whole building, wooden, of course, was a roaring mass of flames. I never saw fire envelop a building so quickly in my life. The blaze lit up the whole country for a mile or more and we and the hospitals, were plainly visible to the attacking planes. The fire they had started made a splendid target for the planes and they proceeded to make good use of it.

There must have been a whole lot of planes. For a while all would be quiet and people started to resume their usual work, and we started out to watch the fire. Then we would hear, sometimes see, a plane in the air, the whole scene would be lit up, the plane swoop down, a moment of deadly silence, then another terrific crash and again we would lie prone while the debris, etc., fell all around us on the buildings.

Attack Lasts Two Hours.

They kept that up for two hours at intervals of a few minutes, and we all felt that at last we were being made our blesses, most of whom, if not all, had been hurt in the bombardment, and to evacuate them to another hospital fifteen miles away. We did so.

Just as our car was filled the cry went around that gas was coming from the bombs dropped. We didn't hesitate much in putting on our masks, and every one in the place did likewise. The bombs were pretty bad, but the cry of "gas" was the last straw, as it is fearful stuff, and I endured the terrible smell of the mask and the uncomfortable feeling of it with gladness and I was mighty glad we had them.

After our car was loaded with its load of wrecked bodies we had to wait for the other four cars to load. It took a good deal of time and it was nervous work sitting in the car with the engine running waiting either to go or be bombed.

On Duty Under Fire.

Finally, the order came to move and we pulled out and passed the still flaming building, past a dead horse that had been fearfully mangled, out on the road. We could still hear the planes above and every now and then a terrific explosion, or a great flash of light, according to whether the bomb was just explosive or incendiary as well.

One I saw strike a little ways off in a field and a great column of stones and dirt shot skyward. Finally, we were off and it was with a sigh of relief that we saw the glow of the fire fade in the distance and as we breathed fresh air again without our masks.

Every now and then we could see the flash of the incendiary bombs. They lighted up the road for us for a couple of miles or more. Of course we drove without lights and did not find it so very difficult, either, although we had to drive very slowly. We finally arrived without further excitement at the hospital that was our destination and discharged our wounded.

Most of the cars had received their wounded at the hospital we just came from during the bombardment. One of the cars had two dead men in it when they arrived, but ours were all alive, but some had terrifying holes in them. After we had received our stretchers and blesses' blankets back we proceeded back to our old camp and arrived about 3 a. m., tired and sleepy, and no longer filled with any looking at the men in the hospital, and having no longer the rather scornful idea of the effect of the air raids.

Wounded Are Burned to Death.

This morning we heard they dropped some forty bombs. Many of the wounded in the hospital were burned to death, as they couldn't move and there was no time for the others to take them out. It was not over a minute at the most after the bomb struck, that the whole sky was a mass of flames. Our American chef, who has been in the service many months and who has seen many bombardments by aeroplanes and artillery, was there and said it was one of the worst he had ever seen, as the bombs were much worse than the heaviest shells, and there were so many of them.

He said before the whole section this noon that we stood it very well. It certainly was quite a baptism of fire, for the first time we have done any work, but I am mighty glad I was there. Wouldn't have missed it for anything.

We may be here a month now and have no more work. On the other hand, we may go out again tonight, but it is very, very unlikely that we would run into anything like this

HOLD BOYS' RESERVE MEETING AT SCHOOL

Isaac D. Strauss and Asa J. Smith Urge Espousal of Cause.

"It is so tremendously necessary," declared Isaac D. Strauss, federal state representative of the United States Boys Working Reserve, at the high school yesterday, "that we increase our food supply that I am letting my own business be neglected to aid in this work. Indiana farmers must not fall the country in the crisis and the young men of the country must volunteer to aid the farmers plant the crops next year."

In view of the continued state of unresponsiveness toward the working boys for boys in Fort Wayne only a small percentage of boys and young men have enrolled for the war work, some wonderment has been aroused as to the cause of the disinterestedness.

It seems there is some misapprehension," continued Mr. Strauss, "about this boys' reserve. There is nothing about it that makes the volunteer open to military service. Each boy will be paid the full market value for his services and he will receive all the protection necessary. It is possible that the necessity of each boy taking the oath of allegiance is in the way and creates an impression that there is some intention to make the boy a soldier, but such is not the fact. Every man who enters the civil service of the government in any way has to take the oath of allegiance."

Five prominent local men have agreed to serve on an executive committee for the reserves. They are C. A. Wilding, George W. Beers, Rabbi Weinstein, H. G. Hogan and C. R. Lane.

Asa J. Smith, of Wabash, state organizer, who addressed the meeting at the high school, explained in detail the purpose and plans of the Boys' Working Reserve. He said that as a reward for faithful service the government had prepared special bronze medals to be given to the boys and in case of special service, a bar will be added to this medal. Mr. Smith said further that working hours would be so arranged in every case that they would not interfere with school work. He said that if parents decide that it is not wise for their sons to continue in the service a written order will release them.

CARD INDEX OF ALL AMERICAN SOLDIERS

Aluminum Tag for Each Man and a Record of It in War Department.

Washington, Sept. 28.—A card index of all American soldiers at home and abroad, is to be compiled by the war department. Congress has appropriated money for the purpose in the general deficiency bill. Every man in the army, whether officer or private, will be indexed by name, and the records filed in alphabetical order for immediate reference should he appear in army orders or casualty lists.

With the description of each soldier will be given the name of his next of kin and emergency address.

The plan of giving each man a number virtually has been abandoned and it is understood that each soldier instead will be supplied with a small aluminum tag bearing his name and company. It will be worn around his neck, as at present.

Plans have been completed for the creation of a "statistical division," with a branch in Paris which will employ several hundred clerks to compile records. It will include not only men actually in the fighting corps, but civilians, war correspondents and others attached to the forces. Major J. J. Jones, of the adjutant general's department, is to head the statistical division here.

GOES TO BOWSER PLANT.

WOMAN'S SCREAM CALLS ATTENTION TO TANGLE

Eternal Complication Promises to Be Five Angled Mystery.

When Mrs. Neva Kurtz, 321 West Superior street, ran screaming from her home, Thursday night, she called up a lot of trouble for police and started a court investigation which caused Judge H. W. Kerr to scratch his head in police court Friday morning.

At McKee's laborer, went to the home of the woman in summons to a telephone call, says the man who is charged with disorderly conduct in city court. He found Mrs. Kurtz and her two small children in the house. McKee and the woman quarreled about the relations of Mrs. Kurtz with Lewis Kurtz, railroad fireman, McKee testified.

Mrs. Kurtz has been married to McKee for 11 years.

house at 11 o'clock. Neighbors, who were alarmed by the woman's cries, called police. When officers arrived, McKee was in the house attempting to care for the small children. The woman had fled into the night.

McKee was locked up. An officer was posted at the house to await the return of the woman. The patrolman waited through the long hours in vain for Mrs. Kurtz did not come back home during the night. She did not appear at the house until late Friday morning. She was at once placed under bond to appear as a witness against McKee on Monday morning.

"This woman is supposed to be married to Kurtz but I don't think she is," said McKee, Friday morning. "I have bought all her clothes for the past four years. Most folk think we are married. I take her to shows and things."

"Whose children are these at the house?" queried Judge Kerr.

"We don't know," calmly replied McKee.

"Let us try to unravel a part of this tangle on Monday," said the judge as he ordered McKee held and the fireman and Mrs. Kurtz placed under bond.

MAXWELL SAYS HE IS RESEMBLANCE VICTIM

Was Shot in the Leg Because He Was Mistaken for Another.

Charles Maxwell, local bartender, and secretary of the bartenders' union, has notified Fort Wayne friends that he was shot in the leg in Anderson Thursday evening because he was mistaken for another man. Maxwell was only slightly hurt as the bullet entered the fleshy part of his leg and was easily extracted, it has been learned.

Maxwell was a delegate to the Indiana Federation of Labor convention at Anderson. He was on a downtown street when Weldon Neff, an Anderson teamster, shot him through the leg. Neff fled and took a train for Elwood. He was arrested by the Elwood police.

well was critically hurt. Hospital examination revealed that the wound was not critical, however. Anderson police claim that Neff had quarreled with a man named Ross, whom Neff accused of being intimate with his wife, and that Neff did not doubt took Maxwell for Ross as the two men resemble.

Miss Olive Spalding came home on Thursday from Minnesota, where she had been with relatives for two years, and had taught successfully in public schools. Josephine Hoffman, Amelia Brown and Messrs. Ralph Reiter, Ben Hoffman, Roy Smith, Ernest Lewis, William McKelvey and Simon Hantz.

Miss Norma Woodworth, who is going to Bowling Green, Ohio, in a few days to live, was honored by a gathering of friends at the home of Miss Margaret Fields, of Jackson street, on Wednesday evening. Goldenrod and flags were the decorations of the rooms and made an unusual and pretty effect.

The guests were particular friends of Miss Woodworth and they presented her with a gift, which she prizes highly. In the company were Gertrude Martin, Eleanor Stark, Nellie Murrell, Violet Beattu, Myrtle Smith and Kathryn Lynch.

HAVE FINE DISPLAY.

Steele-Myers Company Holding Season's Opening Days.

The handsome store of the Steele-Myers company is thronged with visitors these three days of its season's opening and the beautiful display of beautiful goods is much admired. The window showing is equal to big metropolitan cities, going some of them one better, even in originality and taste. The realistic painted scenery in the center, the high class forms on which goods are shown, the classic figures for ornamental purposes and the rich materials in the way of gowns, suits, furs, hats and wraps not only halt the steps of the pedestrian, but serve as a means of invitation to the interior.

The firm is continually doing something to further improve the luxurious appearance of the store and to tend to the comfort of customers. The venture of the tearoom has developed so rapidly that the rear of the main floor has been enlarged, dumb waiters have been placed and the management is prepared to serve many hot things on the cool days so fast approaching.

New goods attract attention in every department and it is possible to pick out any gift you choose from a fifty dollar beaded bag or an "over night" patent leather bag down to a pin seal purse, or a flower painted basket for your sewing table or to catch the scraps in your library. Or you can step into the silk department and get the newest things out, satin brocade enough to make a new skirt and coat to match or you can select one of the new silver tones, or a bolivia cloth or get a georgette crepe in new shade and trim it with metallic lace or don't trim it at all, or don't buy it either, but go to the second floor and buy something handsome all ready to wear.

For there's a plenty such and their like up there, even to the plain sweaters for every day wear, etc. And of course, all the plainer and everyday comforts are in plenty from your bed to the dining room table and from your stockings or hose to your waists, skirts or four-in-hand ties.

This store is also a good place to get camp comforts to send to the boys from home who are now in war environments. Boxes all fitted up with khaki handkerchiefs, an outing helmet for sleeping, a silk flag and a U. S. war edition of "What you want to say and how to say it in French," forms the contents of one box. Another box has a French mirror instead of the French book, but mirrors can be bought separately, rust-proof and non-breakable mirrors, just what the soldiers would like.

AT THE PALACE

MYSTERIOUS KAR-MI.

High Priest of the Occult in Baffling Feats at Palace.

There are several hundred people in Fort Wayne today who readily understand why some of the folks in the far east believe their high priests are endowed with supernatural power. These are the people that comprised two big houses at the New Palace yesterday and witnessed the feats of Kar-Mi, the mystic from India, who conjures humans out of thin air, wafts objects into nothingness right before the prying eyes of his audience. Kar-Mi is an astounding deceiver the superior of all who have been seen here.

With Irene Rittenhouse, Harry Browning and Marguerite Evans in the principal roles a snappy rollicking little singing and dancing medley called the International Revue, is a splash of girls and song on this bill. The act is the daintiest "girl act" of the season, the costumes being exceptionally snappy and the girls good to look upon.

Arthur Rigby, the black face funster with the new stories, gags and parodies; Belle Oliver, a talented singing comedienne with a group of exclusive songs; Tiny Armstrong and Archie Strouse, in a mixture of their own that includes some rapid costume changing by the fair Tiny, and Sigbee's wonderful trained canines complete this bill.

Mr. Sigbee has a bunch of dogs that can do anything but talk, and tomorrow afternoon a special matinee for the kiddies will afford the young folks an opportunity to enjoy these canine actors in some special tricks.

Irene Bordoni

WRITES ABOUT HER FAVORITE HAT

Written for The Fort Wayne Sentinel.

By Irene Bordoni.

("Best Dressed Woman on the Stage.")

My favorite hat is a small, close-fitting toque of white feathers made over a foundation of white twill silk. The whole hat is made small. The individual feathers are made of a foundation so that they point upward and toward the back.

I like it for the same reason that every woman likes a small hat of this type—because it is very light and fits snugly, needing no hatpins and always looking well. I wear it low-down, so the front droops over the eyebrows.

Because it is a small hat, it will go with almost any street costume, and it is quite a fitting head covering also so," says Dr. Woodward.

A comfortable table and chair, however cheap, but all the pupil's own, tend to stimulate interest and to prevent improper postures during hours of study.

"Do not allow the child to dawdle or to be disturbed during the study period. Lessons can be learned much more easily under such conditions, and proper habits of study will be developed.

"Every pupil, including those in the high schools, should have not less than eight hours of sound refreshing sleep, preferably in the open air, seven nights every week. In the kindergarten and lower grades, the minimum number of required hours is ten. Parties, dances, and other social functions that interfere with this program should be forbidden.

"A simple, wholesome meal three times a day is essential to the greatest mental efficiency of the child. A lack of appetite for such a diet, or inability to digest it, shows something wrong. Do not let a child go to school without breakfast, or make lunch upon pickles or sweets. Coffee and tea are stimulants and should be excluded from the child's dietary.

Cleanliness of body, including teeth and nails, and of clothing, is essential to health, vigor and self-respect. Habits of cleanliness constitute the very best safeguard against communicable diseases.

"As many hours as possible should be spent in the sunshine and open air. A child should not be allowed to associate with anyone who is ill, even in his own home, unless the illness is certainly not communicable.

"When a child is apparently not well, he should not go to school. Unless it is certain that the illness was not of a contagious nature, he should not be allowed to return after recovery, without the approval of a physician."

NOVEL SLEEVE TREATMENT.

Perhaps you have a sleeveless nightgown—sleeveless nighties are quite the thing now, you know—but you would really like to have a bit more covering over your arms. Well, here's a suggestion that is every bit as fetching as it is practical. To the lower part of one armhole attach two pieces of ribbon about one-fourth of a yard in length and two or three inches in width; secure both ends in a flat bow to fall midway between the shoulder and elbow. This is a decidedly becoming way of relieving the unclothed appearance of an utterly sleeveless gown.

"Do not allow the child to dawdle or to be disturbed during the study period. Lessons can be learned much more easily under such conditions, and proper habits of study will be developed.

"FLYING SQUADRON" AT COLUMBIA CITY

Byron Somers Speaks There
Under Auspices of State
Council of Defense.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 28.—Over 300 people of Whitley county heard the speeches of the "flying squadron" of state council of defense orators who spoke at the Commercial club here Wednesday evening. Judge Wilkie, of Elwood, a native born German, gave his impressions of German autocracy during the first twelve years of his life spent in Germany, and Judge Eggenman, of Fort Wayne, stirred everyone with his impressive eloquence. Editor Frank I. King, of Wabash, outlined the present war conditions and stated that it matters not whether democrat or republican, Catholic or protestant, the boys will go over the top in France with elbows rubbing in the spirit of fellowship in the cause of democracy and liberty. The spokesman of the evening was Byron Somers of Fort Wayne. A message to D. V. White-leather, chairman of the Whitley county council of defense, was read, urging that farmers of the county increase their acreage of wheat 25 per cent and of rye 35 per cent, making the necessary acreage—wheat, 25,000 acres and rye, 3,000 acres.

Columbia City Brief Items.
In a letter to his father, Attorney Joseph R. Harrison, of this city, Lieut. Ray P. Harrison, now with the Pershing forces in France, states he is now in command of his company during the absence of his captain, who is acting major over another battalion. Lieutenant Harrison recently was personally introduced to President Poincaré, ex-Premier Clemenceau and General Joffre.

Miss Gertrude E. Martin, of Decatur, Ill., graduate of James Milliken university, and instructor in summer school art at the Kansas State Normal, has begun her duties here as art instructor in the schools, succeeding Miss Eleanor King, who has gone to Cincinnati.

The Commercial club committee which attended the agricultural fair at Bluffton, reported favorably on the matter and will recommend that a similar fair be given for Whitley county, in this city, next year.

County Auditor Thomas A. McLaughlin announced Thursday that Whitley county's share of the auto vehicle tax distribution for the first six months of 1917 is $7,457.99, as against $5,114.41 last year. There are at present 72,792 miles of county roads, with about thirty-five miles more under process of completion. The above distribution was partly given over to township roads.

Attorney Frank J. Heller, grand vice chancellor of the Knights of Pythias lodge of Indiana, left Friday to prepare for the opening of the grand lodge next Tuesday at Indianapolis, when he will be made grand chancellor of the order in the state. Mr. Heller, who is also grand vice chancellor of the local lodge, began official grand lodge work five years ago. He had many friends who did everything to assist him in his rise to the pinnacle of state Pythianism, and his future new title carries with it a handsome salary. Mr. Heller's successor as grand vice chancellor will probably be his next in rank, Charles L. Pulliam, circuit judge of Terre Haute.

Mrs. Mary Quinn, aged 30 years, sister of Mrs. Aaron Burnheimer, of Elma, and born and reared in Noble county, died at her home in Garrett, Thursday, from a complication of ailments. She leaves her husband and three children, Mildred, George and Willard; also two brothers and a sister. The funeral occurs Saturday at Ormas.

The Whitley county conscription board has certified the following six men to the district board: Fred Kempf, Clifton Cordill, Albert H. Fenker, Simon J. Hively, John Alba Glassey and Cuyler Phillips. So far twenty-one have been certified from the last ninety-four examined, with two more cases pending.

Thursday morning at 6 o'clock a low mass occurred the marriage of Mrs. Louise Hartford, aged 48, to Martin Mindnich, 55, at the Catholic church, by Father J. F. Kohl, for whom the bride has done housekeeping for several years. The couple will reside on a farm near LaVelle.

Harry Travelbee, brother of John Travelbee of this city, has arrived safely in France, according to a cable sent his father, Will Travelbee, of Lafayette. Mr. Travelbee is first lieutenant in the United States artillery.

Daily Doings in South Wood Park

DR. NEUENSCHWANDER BUYS IN SOUTH WOOD PARK.

Another of the professional men to select home sites in South Wood Park, the new south side residence development of Hilgeman & Schaaf, is Dr. Wilbur E. Neuenschwander, dentist, of 2015 Broadway. Dr. Neuenschwander's property fronts on Drury Lane. It is one of the handsome wooded lots in that portion in which Dr. H. A. Duemling was one of the original purchasers. The sale of the Neuenschwander property was handled by Former City Forester Carl J. Getz, who has been a member of the Hilgeman & Schaaf sales force since his resignation from the city office.

NOT ALL WOODED LOTS HAVE BEEN SELECTED.

In answer to the inquiry as to whether the wooded property in Section B, South Wood Park, has been sold, Hilgeman & Schaaf state that a few of these choice selections remain. A photograph of one of these appears elsewhere in today's Sentinel. The number is growing gradually less, and all who wish to join this high-class community should give prompt thought to the plan.

MACHINES NARROWLY AVOID FATAL CRASH

Three Youths Unhurt When Car Does Not Turn as It Leaves Road.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 28.—Three Oslan youths had a lucky escape Thursday afternoon when a Ford automobile driven by Lee Somers left the road and plunged into a deep ditch. Somers and his two companions were coming to the Bluffton fair when the accident occurred. They were going at a high rate of speed trying to keep ahead of a National Six, which was following. Both cars were speeding when the driver of the larger machine went around the Ford. The wheels of the National slipped on some loose gravel at the edge of the road and skidded, locking its back wheel with the front wheel of the Ford, causing the latter to plunge into the ditch. The Ford did not turn over, which was a miracle considering the speed at which both cars were traveling. The driver of the National slowed up to see if anyone was hurt, but on seeing the boys crawl out of the wreckage resumed his trip.

WILL DEDICATE CHURCH.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 28.—After months of patient endeavor and effort on the part of the congregation, the Union Chapel church, located near the Wells-Jay country line, will be dedicated Sunday, Sept. 30. Plans are being made for an all day meeting to be featured at the noon hour by a big basket dinner. The church structure was destroyed during the cyclone two years ago, and the congregation has been busy ever since raising funds to have the church rebuilt. The new building is a great improvement over the old one, and a good sized vestibule at the front adds to the convenience of the church. Rev. Arrick, of Farmland, will preach both in the morning and afternoon.

TRAIN KILLS FARMER.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 28.—A farmer by the name of Marsh, residing two miles east of Swanton, O., was killed Tuesday by New York Central passenger train No. 636, eastbound, according to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McDonald, of this city, who were passengers on the train. Mr. McDonald said the train was running at high speed to make up time, when the fatality occurred. Marsh, who was 55 years old, stepped onto the tracks just as a freight train cleared the crossing and was in the direct path of the passenger train which struck him, badly mangled his body.

HAS EYE REMOVED.

Warren, Ind., Sept. 28.—C. H. Morse, of this place, was operated on at Hartford City for the removal of his right eye following an accident last Friday week. While working on a silo on the Wolverton farm, north of Hartford City, he was struck in the eye by a fragment of stone. He thought nothing of the injury at the time, but two days later the eye began to pain him and he consulted a doctor. It was found that an ulcer had formed on the tear sac. Last Sunday the eye burst and the eye was removed as the only means of saving the other eye.

VALENTINE BURNS DEAD.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 28.—Valentine Burns, well known civil war veteran, is dead at the state soldiers' home at Lafayette. Mr. Burns was of advanced age and death came from a complication of causes and his old age. Surviving besides the wife are several children and a step-daughter here. Mrs. Nora Hedges. Mr. Burns was a member of the G. A. R. post here and only went to the soldiers' home about a month ago. The body will be brought here for burial, arriving tomorrow morning. The funeral will probably be held Saturday.

GO INTO A DITCH.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 28.—About 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening A. L. Byler was driving out of town on Lake street and after he had crossed the old river bridge he was blinded by the lights from another auto coming south, and in trying to make room for the other car, he and the car that he was driving went over the embankment. The car turned over with Byler underneath. He was unhurt but the top of the car was torn off.

PIERCETON MAN HURT.

Piercetown, Ind., Sept. 28.—Alva South, who is employed as lineman of the Piercetown Telephone Co., was slightly injured on Wednesday while working on a pole near the John Maynard home north of town. The pole broke and fell over with him, alighting on his feet. Drs. Long and Leedy attended him. He was brought to his home here.

WILL BE ASSISTANT.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 28.—Warren Oils, who is a senior in chemical engineering in the University of Michigan, returned to that institution Thursday afternoon to resume his work for the coming year. He has an appointment as assistant in the laboratory for the year, necessitating his return a few days earlier than the formal opening which takes place next week.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Stroh, Ind., Sept. 28.—Roy Shrock and William Cox narrowly escaped death when they fell a distance of fifty feet from the peak of a barn. Cox suffered a dislocated arm and a fractured leg, while Shrock received a badly sprained leg. The men were engaged in tarring the roof of the barn on the Dr. H. E. Pfennig farm, about four miles east of here, when the accident occurred.

WARNS PIE-HUNTERS.

Nankin, Sept. 28.—Before leaving Nankin for Peking, Acting President Feng Kuo-Chang addressed a circular letter to all probable place-hunters among his followers, warning them that they should not go to Peking in

According to recent dispatches from Berlin, German men both on and off the firing line are wearing shirts made of paper and wood pulp, owing to the scarcity of cloth. This will probably be hailed as something new and as further showing the ingenuity of the Germans under stress of necessity. But in many other instances, the Yankee inventor was first in the field.

Thomas Edison thought of the paper shirt about twenty-five years ago and put it on the market. It failed to become popular and soon passed out of use. There is one difference between the American and German product. The American paper shirt was intended to be worn until soiled and then thrown away. The German sends his to the laundry, and, though it generally returns to him a shapeless, sodden mass, he must do it again, for "shirt cards" are extremely scarce.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. F. B. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 30

THE GOODNESS AND SEVERITY OF GOD.

(Review.)

LESSON TEXT—Daniel 9:3-19.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plentiful in mercy.—Psalms 103:8.

A profitable way to spend the hour would be to make a study of Daniel's prayer as recorded in the lesson assigned for our reading today, and have the lessons of the quarter as illustrations of the goodness and severity of God. Announcement of the plan may be made the Sunday before, and the different lessons of the quarter assigned to different members of the class to tell how they bear upon the topic of the lesson for this week. A broad analysis of Daniel's prayer is as follows:

I. Confession of the Nation's Sins (vv. 3-15). The circumstances of this prayer were extraordinary. The crisis was so serious that Daniel sought after prayer to the Lord with fasting, sackcloth and ashes. In his confession the people's sins are placed in contrast with God's righteousness. He acknowledges that their sorrows and sufferings justly belong to them. Daniel, the holy man against whom there is no record of wrongdoing, includes himself with his people.

II. Supplication for Mercy and Forgiveness (vv. 16-19). He pleads for God's anger and fury to turn away, and his remembrance of the Holy City and his chosen people. The Lord's honor was at stake. He confesses that Israel had no merit, were utterly destitute of righteousness, and pleads consideration on the ground of covenant relationship.

Another way to conduct the review would be to ask different members of the class to report on the different lessons by giving the vital and central teaching of each. The following are suggested as vital teachings of the several lessons:

Lesson 1. God is absolutely holy, therefore those who have been sanctified by fire from the heavenly altar are qualified for his service.

Lesson 2. He who turns away from the Lord shall be judged by the Lord. Lesson 3. In Hezekiah's reformatory work the Passover Feast was restored, showing that the only way to get people to return to God is to gather them around the Cross of Christ—the Atonement by Blood.

Lesson 4. Though our unfaithfulness and cowardice have shamefully humiliated us, we should turn to God in prayer.

Lesson 5. God's gracious invitation is extended to all without money and without price.

Lesson 6. No matter how wicked one may have been in his apostasy from God, if he sincerely repents, God will be found of him.

Lesson 7. Regardless of one's age and experience, God can use him in doing mighty work if he will but open his heart unto him.

Lesson 8. The Word of God found and read will mightily convict of sin, and transform one's life and environment.

Lesson 9. God's predictions as to the captivity of Israel were fulfilled to the letter. Nothing shall fail of that which God has said he will do.

Lesson 10. Jehovah is the shepherd of captive Israel, and will surely gather them out from their wanderings and save them.

Lesson 11. One should be unflinchingly loyal to God under all circumstances.

Lessons 12 and 13. God is able to deliver those who trust him, from fire and from wild beasts.

When God Probes.
God loves us too much to let what would hurt us stay with us. So, because of this love, he himself is willing to hurt us in order to save us from the greater hurt. Probing is done in order to get rid of something that would injure. And so, as Prebendary Webster has said: "Do not be afraid of God's probing. He never wounds except to heal. He never humbles except to exalt. Do let God deal with you; do not be afraid of his probing." Most of us have been afraid of it; we may be dreading it just now. We shall not fear if we remember what kind of love is back of it: that all-sacrificing love that died for us on the cross. So we can safely, gladly let ourselves go utterly into his hands and ask those nail-pierced hands to do with us what they will. Then he can begin to show us his love as we may never yet have known the meaning of love.—Sunday School Times.

Need to Catch Vision of God.
When we are content to live on the lower levels of life it is because we haven't caught the vision of God.—L. K. Smith.

Martyrdom Sublime.
Christianity has made martyrdom sublime and sorrow triumphant.—E. H. Caplin.

The Mother's Influence.
There never yet was a mother who taught her child to be an infidel.—Henry W. Shaw.

Billions Headache.
All that is needed is to correct the biliousness and the headache disappears. Take Chamberlain's Tablets and you will soon be as well as ever. In fact you should take a full dose of these tablets as soon as you feel the first symptoms of an approaching attack.—Advertisement.

Credit Is Fighting Liberty's Battles Abroad

There is not enough actual cash in circulation throughout the entire world to finance the great struggle for universal liberty which is being waged in Europe. Without the extension of credit to the nations engaged in warfare civilization would be trampled into the dust.

When the great nations of the world look upon credit with favor certainly the individual has every reason to feel the same way towards the system that enables him to supply the comforts of home which are his privilege and do so at his own convenience.

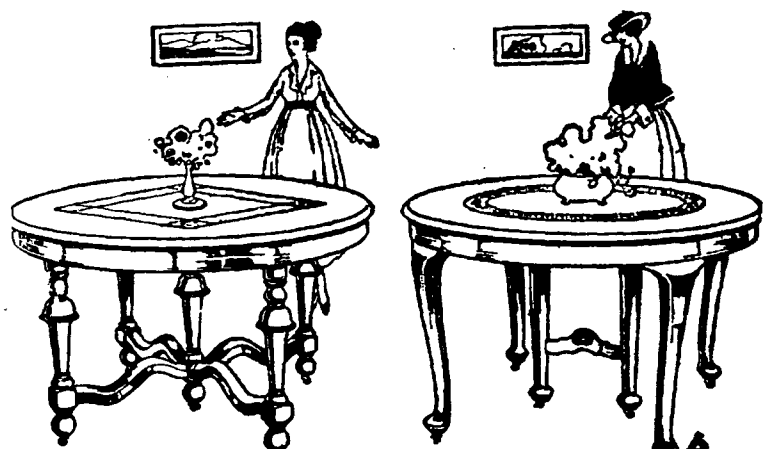

Let us explain our credit system to you in detail.

Elite Range $28.75

This "Elite" Range is one that is not only backed up by the maker's guarantee, but by our own, too. The entire chain of stores with whom we club our purchasing have been selling this stove for years, and we have all agreed that it is the best kitchen range on the market today. The consumption of fuel is surprisingly little in this stove. The oven is well nigh perfect in its baking qualities. The "Elite" is an all-around winner in stoves.

Dining Tables $ 39 in Period Designs

William and Mary Period

A few of these tables only are to be had. And a few fortunate families will enjoy eating tomorrow's dinner at this new table. It is a matter of who can come earliest—for all can afford it at our low credit terms.

Queen Anne Period

Supported by six legs—of mahogany, like the William and Mary table. And like the other one, the Queen Anne table illustrated above, is to be had only by a few, owing to the small quantity. Those wishing to renew the table in their Queen Anne suites will be here early!

Mahogany Four-Poster 27.50

Look Beyond the Design

The four-poster is winning great popularity again. But it is important to look beyond the design of the bed, in purchasing it. A four-poster may be had at a very low price. But consider its adaptability to your other bedroom furniture—and more important—will it give long service?

This Bed Will Become an Heirloom

Built with the same ruggedness of construction of the beds which have come down to us from colonial days, this bed will last for generations. And its dignity will improve the appearance of any bedroom, while bringing into it that quaint charm which has again popularized the design.

GREEKS LOOKED FOR AN AMERICAN FLEET

Thought Uncle Sam Was to Come Over to Support
King Constantine.

Athens, Aug. 26.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The proclamation of martial law, which is now in force by royal decree, has been adopted by the government as a means of dealing with the elements which continue to agitate in behalf of the old regime of King Constantine. It is a drastic measure, suspending the constitutional guarantees of free speech, speedy trial and placing the capital and the region of southern Greece, comprised in Attica and Boeotia, in a state of siege, and giving to the military instead of the civil authorities the safeguarding of public order.

On the abdication of Constantine most of his ministers and chief officers were exiled or deprived of their functions. But it was impossible to make a clean sweep of all these friendly to the old regime, and many of the leaders, including prominent military men, remain at Athens. It is said they hold meetings at two points, one at Kaphissia, a suburb, and the other at Athens, where plots are hatched and the eventuality of Constantine's return looked forward to. While the new administration has a firm hold of affairs, and is in complete accord with the entente allies, yet the upstart officials feel there is still a danger in the old military element which continues to agitate with the public, and is even said to have some of its representatives in the entourage of the new king.

Martial law is expected to reach these military plotters. It is also expected to put a stop to the spread of sensational rumors which keeps the ignorant classes and the peasantry in a continual state of unrest, with the evident purpose of making them believe that a German victory and the return of Constantine are near at hand. Some of these reports were of the fall of Verdun, the flight of the French government from Paris, and a separate peace by Russia. The government and the allied diplomats are satisfied that all this is part of a systematic campaign by which the central powers are operating through the element favorable to the late king.

An American official closely in touch with recent events tells how a report circulated, that an American fleet was coming to support King Constantine. This report was widely believed and had been printed as a fact in the local press. One of the king's household met the American minister, Mr. Droppers, and said:

"At last we are to have the American fleet."

"Indeed," said the American minister, "when is it coming?"

"Very soon; it has passed Gibraltar; we have telegrams from that point."

"I am sorry to differ with you," said the minister, "but I don't believe the fleet is coming."

"Why not," demanded the royal official.

"Because," said the minister, "if an American fleet is sent to Greece the American minister will be one of the first to know it."

This put an end to the report that the fleet was coming, and it brought about considerable coolness toward the American authorities. It is this sort of rumor, for political effect, that martial law will seek to stop.

The rigors of this martial law are indicated by the rules issued by the commanding general of the Athens district. One of the prohibitions he lays down is as follows:

"The communication in any public manner, by express, opinion, or information, of anything likely to increase in the eyes of the people the force of the enemy, or to diminish our force or that of our allies, or which will attribute too much importance to the dangers of the war and the losses it involves, or inspires fear or uncertainty among the people or in the army, or doubt upon a favorable issue of the war, or upon its efficacy, or upon the necessity to consent to all sacrifices in view of this issue."

Another prohibition is against expressing any "hope or tendency in favor of the reversal of the present regime." This sweeping measure puts an end to any open plottings by the old regime, but it remains to be seen to what extent they can carry on their work in secret.

FINDING PLACE FOR LABORERS OF INDIA

Great Britain Will Send Them to West Indies
and to Fiji.

London, Sept. 10.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—A plan for encouraging the emigration of native laborers from India to British Guiana, Trinidad, Jamaica and Fiji, announced by the British government, is expected to result in the permanent settlement of many thousand East Indians in each of these four colonies, three of which are close enough to the Atlantic seaboard of the United States to make the project of neighborly interest to the American people.

The object is to provide a fair substitute for the abolished system of indentured or contract East Indian labor. In some countries to which Indians used to go under the indenture system, their coming led, as it was bound to lead in the end, to serious trouble. They were white communities, which wanted the labor of the East Indian but did not want him as a settler.

It is claimed that there was and is no question of that kind in the case of the four Crown colonies selected as areas for the new settlement scheme. They each possess already large and prosperous Indian communities. Their industry is tropical and depends on Asiatic labor, which they have been accustomed to obtain from India without any sense of grievance on either side.

Laborers who enlist under the new plan will serve a probationary period of three years' employment in their new homeland, before being invited to become landholders. During this probationary period of employment under government supervision, they will be trained and fitted for the new conditions of life, at the same time affording the colony the benefit of their labor.

At first arrival the immigrant will undertake three years' employment. He will then be free to move from one employer to another a month's notice, being encouraged to work for the ensuing two and a half years in agricultural industries by the offer of numerous benefits, subsequently as a colonist. At no time will he be under any indenture or contract, the relation between him and his employer being exactly the same as that prevailing in the colony between any employer and employee.

For the protection of the immigrants, the government will decide who may or may not employ them. A fair minimum wage will be fixed, and will be revised every five years on the basis of changes in the cost of living.

As soon as the worker has completed three years' employment, he will have the choice of returning to India or becoming a permanent settler. If he chooses the latter the land will be put at his disposal by the colonial government.

The emigration from India of whole families will be encouraged as far as possible, particularly of families containing young unmarried girls who may become in the colonies the wives of other immigrants. Women unaccompanied by their families will not be assisted.

MEXICO TO FIGHT SMUGGLERS.

Mexico City, Sept. 28.—Word has been received here from General Salvador Alvarado, in charge of military operations throughout Chiapas, Gu-

don of troops along the border between Chiapas and Guatemala in order to prevent any supplies or munitions reaching the rebels in Chiapas from Guatemala. The country along the border is wild and not densely populated, and it is said munitions have been smuggled into Mexico without the knowledge of the Guatemalan authorities. The presence of the strong cordon along the border also has served to quiet apprehension of German activities along the frontier, fostered by German coffee planters.

MATERIAL DECLINES IN PRICES OF CORN

Absence of Signs That Any Frost Damage Has Come Cause Break.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Material declines took place in the corn market today, influenced chiefly by absence of signs that there had been any serious damage from frost. Peace gossip was also a bearish factor. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/2 to 1 1/2¢ lower at 1.18 1/2 to 1.19 1/2¢ December and 1.16 1/2 to 1.17 1/2¢ May, were followed by a moderate increased setback. Oats duplicated the action of corn. Sharp breaks in the provisions market seemed to result from the weakness in grain.

STATE BOULEVARD IS TO BE EXTENDED

Every Item in the $60,000
Program Passes the Board of Works.

Among the numbers on the $60,000 improvement program of the board of public works, Thursday evening, was the passage of a resolution for extending State boulevard, from Spy Run avenue, over the old feeder canal, to Clinton street. Movement for extending the drive has been under way for several months. Objections were always raised to the extension plan because of the expense of filling in the canal.

The boulevard extension was the only item on the lengthy session of the works board to meet organized opposition. There were half a dozen citizens who remonstrated in person to the proposed improvement. They asked that the extension be delayed until after the war. The resolution was passed over the head of the objectors and work of extending the boulevard will start soon.

A delegation of Florida drive residents, in Forest Park, appeared before the board and asked the installation of a boulevard lighting system for the drive way. Their petition was granted with the understanding that the property owners pay additional costs for more posts than are installed by the city.

The board approved the plat for the new Joseph Tomkinson addition in the south side. An assessment roll was adopted for building a sewer in the alley between Oliver street and Bowser avenue, from Grier to Eckhart.

Bids were received for the paving of several alleys. Those for concrete were a little above $2 and for brick about $3. Concrete was specified, but property owners may have this changed within ten days. The alleys for which bids were received were: First west of Indiana avenue, from Kinnaird avenue to the alley south; between Wildwood and Kinnaird avenues, from South Wayne to Indiana avenue; first east of Fairfield from Kinnaird avenue to the first alley north; between Jefferson and Madison from Lafayette to Monroe; first west of Wells from Putnam to Archer.

Resolutions were confirmed for the grading of Helen street from Lafayette to Hanna and for Holton court from Eckhart to Reldmiller avenue.

The board also adopted resolutions for construction of sewers in the alley between Wagner street and Prospect avenue, from the alley east of Spy Run avenue to the St. Joseph river; in the alley between Elizabeth and Kamm streets, from the main sewer to the alley east of Spy Run avenue; in the alley east of Spy Run avenue, from Elizabeth to Clinton streets; in the alley between Barr and Lafayette street, from Elizabeth to Kamm; in the alley between Randolph street and State boulevard, from the alley west of Spy Run avenue to the alley west of Clinton street; in the alley west of Clinton street from the alley north of Spy Run creek to the north line of Jacobs' third addition, and in the alley east of Clinton street, from the alley north of Spy Run creek to the alley south of Spy Run avenue.

Assessment rolls of benefits and damages were allowed for the following improvements: Vacating Welleser Park avenue from Eckhart street to Welleser park; vacating the street along the north side of Jacobs' third addition; widening Richardson street at its intersection with Osage street, and opening of Shady court from Burnett avenue to Oakdale drive.

Improvement resolutions were confirmed for the building of sidewalks on the east side of Piqua avenue from the alley south of Wildwood avenue to Packard avenue, and on both sides of Fairmount place, from Wells street to P. A. Randall's sub-division.

HARVARD SQUAD SMALL.

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 28.—Only twenty candidates reported for Harvard's "infamous" varsity football team when fall practice began yesterday. In other years from sixty to eighty men have come out on the first call.

Snow at guard, Likens at end and Flynn at tackle were the only members of the old squad to report, other men being in military or naval service. The squad went into practice under Coach Leo Barry and Reggie Brown, practice, but the coaches said they hoped to have many more out soon.

WORKING TO MAKE CITY GARDEN FAIR SUCCESS

Allen County Farmers Are Urged to Hear
Vrooman.

The necessity of bringing home to the farmer and city producers the necessity of increasing crops next year and the conservation of all available products has impelled the local committee on food relief, headed by Frank Hilgemann, to more strenuous efforts in making the city garden fair Oct. 3 at the baseball park a big success. The address of Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of the department of agriculture at Washington, should be of great benefit to farmers and gardeners, it is pointed out. In addition, the speech scheduled by ex-Congressman Moss should attract many.

received yesterday from the chairman of the state council of defense, by William H. Scheiman, chairman of the Allen county patriotic council, which reads as follows:

"United States department of agriculture and the national food administration urgently request Indiana farmers to increase acreage of wheat 20 per cent and of rye 30 per cent. The necessary increase in your county is estimated at 6,000 acres. These crops are absolutely necessary to meet food demand. As only a few days remain for seeding, every agency in your county should be used. Call in the county agent, the food production committee, farmers' institutes, grain dealers and millers and use papers and other agencies to secure largest possible acreage. We urge immediate action and request an early report."

Mr. Scheiman declared that nothing is as important in days of war than an ample supply of food next year for the allies, in a statement today. He said further that it was necessary for American farmers to rise to the relief of their country in the time of emergency.

While the exhibits at the city garden fair will be limited to products grown in Fort Wayne city lots, farmers over the entire county are being urged to attend. All persons who intend to enter the exhibits in the city garden fair can obtain information by calling M. Costello at the headquarters of the food relief committee on Barr street, phone 2800.

SHERMAN'S STORES RAISE PRICES ON MEN'S CLOTHING

Tomorrow is the last day in which you can buy Sherman's clothes at the old price of $10. Many people have taken advantage of the old price this week and bought two or three suits. In fact the amount of people taking advantage of the time limit so overcome the local store that it was impossible to wait upon them at times.

The raise in price was found imperative as the government has taken over the entire supply of wool to furnish the troops with the necessary clothing. The Sherman's stores are located throughout the middle west and the raise in price affects every store. The present price of $10 will be in effect until Saturday night and when the

HAD STOLEN $200 WORTH OF GOODS

Telford Craddock, Colored
Elevator Boy, Makes Confession in Court.

A trunk full of silk shirts, waists, sweaters, ties, silverware and other jewelry opened in police court, Friday morning, bears mute evidence of the culminating power of "little by little and bit by bit."

Telford Craddock, colored, formerly elevator boy at the Tepper store, on East Berry street, admitted that he had gathered the goods, valued at $200, by the patient process of removing an article at a time from the store by putting the piece of goods under his coat when he left the store of an evening.

Police claim that Preston Lyons, colored, former porter in the Tepper store, was an accessory to the theft. Officers produced a signed statement which Craddock admitted that he had sworn to on Thursday evening and which told that Lyons had helped steal the property.

Craddock testified that he had signed the statement under the influence of Chief of Police Lenz and Detective Sergeant Walter Immel, who Craddock testified had told him that he would get off light if he involved somebody else in the case. The officers deny making such a statement and declare that outside influence has been brought to bear upon Craddock since he made a full confession.

Lyons stoutly denies a part in the theft. Both the colored men were bound to the circuit court under $500 bond.

Craddock was arrested in Chicago Thursday, after Detective Sergeant Walter Immel had located him in that city and had wired officers to capture him. Craddock had tried to sell the goods, officers state. On the way back to Fort Wayne the negro divulged evidence which caused Lyons, a married man, living on Bureau street, to be arrested.

Other Police Court Cases.

tax rates, while the 3 1/2 per cent issue is exempt. The effect of this will be that holders of large amounts undoubtedly will keep their tax exempt bonds although they bear a lower rate, while the smaller holders, who have not enough to come under the new surtaxes will convert their bonds to the higher rate.

SEES OVER-SUBSCRIPTION.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 28.—Vast oversubscription of the three billion dollar second liberty loan was confidently predicted by Secretary McAdoo in an address here today before the American Bankers' association calling upon the bankers to give the same patriotic support to the new bond issue that they gave to the first.

"It has been urged upon me," said the secretary, "that many men of wealth will refuse to buy the 4 per cent bonds with liability to super income taxation. I should be loath to believe this; but if it is true, the position of the government must always be equitable to all alike, which will make the widest possible appeal to all the people without regard to the fact that a man may be rich or poor.

It has been suggested to me that patriotism should play no part in the sale of government bonds. I do not concede this, although I believe the American people will buy these four per cent government bonds on their merits. Patriotism is the love of country above everything—above life itself; second, love of country, combined with vital interest in the nation's welfare and safety, which will make secure the material interests of each individual and promote his happiness and prosperity.

If this be true, the man of wealth, with patriotism or modified patriotism, or without patriotism, has a greater stake in the security of the government than any other class, because if the government's credit is destroyed and disaster comes upon the country, as it inevitably will if the government's credit fails, what is property worth to the rich man, what is life worth to the free man?

Great Job Ahead.

Emphasizing the tremendous financial task ahead of the nation Mr. McAdoo pointed out that it would be necessary to raise between thirteen and fourteen billion dollars by additional bond issues before June 30, 1918. This will not be easy, he said, but it can be done by everybody, banker, business man and men and women in every walk of life joining hands to see it through.

"Fortunate," he added, "the resources of America are never so ample for ourselves and so formidable for our enemies as now. The combined resources of the national and state banks (including trust companies) of the United States are now $37,000,000,000. At the outbreak of the civil war the combined resources of the banks were estimated to be $1,500,000,000, and yet with these limited banking resources the union government raised $3,000,000,000 by bond sales, or twice the amount of the banking resources of the country.

"Upon the same basis we should be able to raise $74,000,000,000 through government loans. I am not suggesting that this may be done; I am only drawing a comparison."

The secretary briefly reviewed the causes for America's entry into the war, declaring this could not be done too often, because of the efforts of noisy agitators and disloyal writers to confuse the issue. Much of this propaganda, he said, probably had been carried on with money left behind for the purpose by von Bernstorff, "the advent and malevolent German ambassador."

While it is true that America went to war to make liberty and democracy secure throughout the world, said Mr. McAdoo, it must be remembered that she entered also for a more immediate reason—the wanton disregard of American rights and ruthless destruction of American life and property. If the United States had acquiesced in the Kaiser's order that its shipping stay off the seas, he declared $3,400,000,000 of commerce with Great Britain, France and Italy would have been cut off and "with one stroke of his pen the Kaiser would have accomplished more destruction on our farms, in our factories and in our mines than he could achieve with all the armies and navies of the German empire."

the broader charge of seditious conspiracy.

Wm. C. Fitts, the assistant attorney general, under whose direction the nation-wide raid of September 5 was carried out without a hitch, is in Chicago today in personal charge of developments.

Austrians Predominate.

One feature which the investigation brought out sharply was the large, almost predominating membership of Austrians in the ranks of the I. W. W. local organizations and also the large membership of the various races which comprise Austria-Hungary. Thousands of these men, unrestrained because the United States is not at war with Austria, federal investigators have found, have been free to carry on whatever activities were planned.

OFFICIALS ARE SILENT.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Federal officials in Chicago today continued their policy of silence on the activities of the grand jury which has been investigating the I. W. W. and kindred organizations.

There was early no hint of when indictments would be returned in court or whether they might not be presented in chambers with an accompanying secrecy that would prevent publication of names of persons indicted until after arrests had been made. There has been activity in the federal building here for weeks, both preceding and following the spectacular nation-wide raids on I. W. W. quarters.

of the refusal of the soldiers' and workmen's delegates at Helsinki to oppose the reopening of the Finnish diet, although the government had forbidden it the Bolshevik burst into loud cheers.

"Cheer, my friends, if you will," said M. Kerensky, when he was able to make himself heard, "but bear in mind that a German fleet is moving up the Baltic."

The delegates of the right jeered the Bolsheviks, asking them why they did not cheer the premier's remarks, inasmuch as the Germans were their friends.

MUST SAVE REVOLUTION.

Petrograd, Sept. 28.—The democratic congress held its first session this evening in the municipal theater, about twelve delegates from all parts of Russia being in attendance. All the members of the provisional government, headed by Premier Kerensky, were present. Several members of the diplomatic corps occupied a special box. N. O. Tshedshe, president of the council of soldiers' and workmen's delegates, said that the moment had come for democracy to gather all its political wisdom to save the conquests of the revolution, which were threatened with irreparable catastrophe if not safeguarded.

any of the various efforts made to bring about a peace conference.

NO PEACE YET.

London, Sept. 28.—Viscount Milner, minister without portfolio in the British war council, speaking today at the American luncheon club, declared against any peace with the "unrepentant German rulers." Touching on the entry of the United States into the war and the moral significance, Lord Milner evoked a tremendous outburst from those at the luncheon when he said: "I feel that your country and mine are now united by something far stronger than any written pact or alliance, namely, by an absolute unity of motive and aim."

FIGHT REICHSTAG PEACE PLAN.

Copenhagen, Sept. 28.—Charges that certain government authorities are supporting the peace movement and conservative forces in the agitation to reverse the reichstag majority peace resolution and commit Germany to the so-called Hindenburg peace, may be made the subject of an interpellation at the present session of the reichstag. Berlin newspapers which arrived tonight after a three day interruption, indicate that the interpellation was discussed at a meeting of the steering committee of the reichstag on Wednesday. It was decided to postpone action in order to give Chancellor Michaelis and his aides an opportunity to make certain explanations. This Philip Scheidegger, the socialist leader, explained would allow the committee to determine the form which the interpellation should take, but it will not head off a big debate on the subject. Georg Ledebour, the radical socialist, made a vain attempt to set the debate for today.

JUSTIFIES TURKEY'S WAR STEP.

Amsterdam, Sept. 28.—Turkey's entry into the war was justified by Talaat Bey, the grand vizier, in a speech closing the congress of the party of union and progress, according to a dispatch from Constantinople. He defended the Turkish treatment of the Armenians, but admitted that the deportations could not be carried out by regular forces because the gendarmes had been drafted into the army and order could not be maintained.

Irregularities in connection with the deportations had been investigated, he said, and the guilty parties had been punished severely, with some death.

Referring to the pope's peace note Talaat Bey declared that Turkey adhered to the principle of arbitration. Regarding disarmament he said, "We shall oppose no solution which is compatible with our vital interest."

He concluded by saying that no one could say when peace would come, but it was obvious that the end was approaching.

The deceased was a member of the Sixty-seventh company a Fort Wayne organization. He was the first man to be called up in the draft from Geneva and had been regarded as being in good health by those who knew and unopposed to serving in the army by those who knew him. Before coming here was a laborer at Geneva, having been employed in several places shortly before being called into service. He is said to have relatives in Fort Wayne.

The only Coffelt listed in the city directory is Percy Coffelt, 327 Montgomery street, a barber who could not be located at time of going to press.

FIFTY DOLLARS FOR DESERTERS OF DRAFT ARMY

Washington, Sept. 28.—With a reward of fifty dollars for the delivery of each deserter the provost marshal general's office today began a drive to round up at once all drafted men who have not reported to their local boards as directed and all who have not reported to the adjutant general's office of their respective states when ordered. All such are considered deserters. Where delinquency is shown to be not wilful, they will only be delivered to the proper camps. Wilful deserters will be court-martialed.

BRITISH HOLD TO NEW GAINS

FRENCH REPULSE GERMAN.

Paris, Sept. 28.—The Germans made an attack last night in the Argonne region. Today's official statement says they were repulsed three times, suffering heavy losses.

GERMAN OFFICIAL REPORT.

Berlin, Sept. 28.—British forces which yesterday advanced for strong local attacks northeast of Frezenberg and on the Mehin road, on the Belgian front, were driven back, says the official statement issued today by the German war office. On the Ypres-Paschendale and the stemant adds, the British still occupy crater positions on the German front line.

AUSTRIAN FRONTIER CLOSED.

Geneva, Thursday, Sept. 27.—The Austrian frontier was closed yesterday. No telegrams or travelers' newspapers arrived in Switzerland today from Austria. Abbas Hilmi, former khedive of Egypt, however, received a special pass from Vienna. The ex-khedive, who has been living in Switzerland for several months, has decided to take up permanent residence in that city.

a dozen miles of the important north and south railway line connecting Lille with Ostend, on the coast, the cutting of which permits domination at even medium range, artillery fire, and would seriously handicap the Germans in their Flanders operation. In the Tower Hamlets and Polygon wood regions, toward the British right flank the clearing up process which followed Wednesday's battle was carried out further by night and the Germans were driven from isolated positions to which strong parties of them were clinging.

There has been other military activity, but little of a nature to call for mention in the official statement, except in the Argonne region on the French front. The Germans of the French prince's forces made an attempt last night to break into the French lines of this sector, attacking three times. These assaults were all repulsed, the Germans sustaining heavy losses, says today's Paris war office report.

On the Caucasus front the Russians are showing renewed aggressiveness. In engagements with the Kurd detachments of the high the forces have been driven back to the Rux region, where the Russians today report the capture of the town of Oromaru, twenty-four miles west of Meri. The Russian admiralty reports the loss in the Baltic of the Russian destroyer Oohotnik, which struck a mine.

The Russian convention has begun its sessions in Petrograd with 200 delegates in attendance. Premier Kerensky met with a mixed reception when he addressed the body, the principal applause for him coming from the less radical delegates. The conservatives taunted the extremists who have great strength in the congress, with friendliness to the Germans.

Great Britain's attitude toward peace with the present German government was indicated by Viscount Milner, member of the war council, when in a speech to the American Luncheon club in London today he declared against any peace with the "unrepentant German rulers and reiterated that it was the aim of the allies to pursue to the end their aim to make the world "a better place to live in."

President Ilirigoyen, of Argentina, is understood to be against a break with Germany over the Luxemburg incident. It is reported he will inform congress to this effect in a message pointing out that the Argentine government considers the incident closed by the explanation given by the foreign office.

AMERICAN HURT DURING GERMAN RAID OVER CAMP

Washington, Sept. 28.—The slight wounding of First Lieut. Howard E. Keating, of Philadelphia medical corps, during an air raid on the night of Sept. 24, was reported to the war department today by General Pershing.

The death of Private James Tracey, Company F, first engineers, as a result of "an accident in the line of duty," also was reported. His next of kin is Mrs. E. J. Tracey, 1947 West Morris street, Philadelphia.

SHE ONLY ALLOWED HIM THIRTY CENTS A WEEK

Husband Calls Pusillanimity
Cruel and Inhuman
Treatment.

Besides being quarrelsome and fiery tempered, Mrs. Agnes Murphy only allowed Lloyd Murphy, 830 Greely street, thirty cents a week for picture shows and maybe some chewing tobacco and sodas, the husband sets out in the cross complaint he filed against the divorce action of his wife, in superior court, Friday. The paltry sum of three dimes for seven days is classed as a form of cruel and inhuman treatment by Murphy.

The wife filed divorce action on Tuesday. Her attempt to slither the gordian knot, which has bound the pair since December 15, 1914, brought prompt response from the husband. The only thing in the wife's complaint which is admitted is the bond of wedlock. All other statements are denied and besides Mrs. Murphy often cursed Lloyd and accused him of associating with immoral women, the cross action, filed by Attorney Andrew W. Perry, sets out. There is a son, Charles, aged 13. Both parents ask custody of the child.

Local Companies Sued.

Two suits for $100 from William, Arthur and Elmer Wunderlin and $200 from the Maier Hide & Fur company were filed in the circuit court Thursday by Jack Beams, proprietor of a store at Spencerville. He alleges that the above amounts are due him for wool that was stolen from his store by Lee Chapman, Eugene Baker and Russell Davis and disposed of to the firms named in the suit. He claims that they refused to surrender it to him when he informed them it was stolen property.

City Will Do It.

An agreement was reached Thursday which will make up the assessment rolls on the new twenty per cent property tax to be put into effect next year for paving of street intersections. The agreement was reached between Deputy Auditor J. H. Johnson and City Attorney Guy Cole-lick. The special tax which was made possible by an act passed in 1909 has never been in effect before.

Grabill School Levy.

The Grabill school tax levy for 1918 will be fifty cents on tuition and fifty cents on the special fund with a fifty per cent poll tax for the two funds.

Stock Increased.

The certificate showing the increase of the capital stock of the Indiana Engineering and Construction company from $10,000 to $15,000 has been filed with the county recorder.

Suit on $1,800 Note.

Suit for $1,800 alleged to be due on a note has been filed by the Tri-State Loan and Trust company against Catherine Sherburn and Michael Sherburn.

Decision in Kelsey Case.

Judge Watkins, of the Huntington court, gave a decision Friday in the superior court in the case brought by Homer J. Kelsey against Daniel W. Rhodes and others, involving the building of a house on a property line. Kelsey was given $200 damages and Rhodes was given a piece of ground eight feet wide, enough to clear his house.

Two Judgments.

Judgment for $308.93 was given to John G. Alexanian from Joseph L. Wensley and judgment for $240.40 to Fred J. Goke from John and Charles Maxwell.

Notes of the Courts.

Tom Snook has filed his bond as a notary public.

A petition has been filed by the Ford Sales and Service company to change its name to the Pennell Auto company. Theodore C. Koch, administrator of the estate of the late Christian Koch, has filed his final report and asked that he be discharged.

Final report was filed by John W. Brewer, administrator of the estate of the late John Linker. He asked to be discharged.

Stop--Wasting Half Your Fuel Coles Original Hot Blast BURNS THE GAS YOU WASTE

How To Save the Valuable Gas Half of Your Fuel and Turn It Into Heat.

The most valuable Half of soft coal is gas, which is distilled from the burning bed of coal and is continually collecting in the upper part of the stove.

How to save this valuable gas and turn it into heat, is of intense interest to every one.

In order to prevent its escape up the chimney you must first of all have an absolutely air-tight stove. The slightest leakage of air into the stove from below the fire pot, as in all oak stoves and imitation hot blast stoves (See illustration No. 3) passes up through the bed of coals and pushes this valuable gas half of your coal up the chimney unsaved and unused.

The secret of our remarkable fuel saving air-tight construction lies in the fact that Cole's Hot Blast Heater is really "two stoves in one"; i. e., the ordinary oak stove, placed inside a jointless boiler plate body, double-seamed and riveted bottom and side absolutely air-tight.

This air-tight construction gives perfect control of the air entering the stove and is the secret of operation of Cole's Fuel Saving Hot Blast Draft. This draft tube extends from the top center of the stove to a point just over the fuel bed (See illustration.) Down this tube a blast of fresh air heated to over 600 degrees Fahrenheit is discharged over the surface of the burning coal and thoroughly churned and mixed with the valuable distilled gas held above the fire and prevented from escaping up the chimney by our air-tight construction.

This thorough mixture results in the combination of the superheated oxygen in the air with the carbon in the valuable gas rising from the coal and results in perfect economical combustion.

The economical operation of Cole's Hot Blast stove, just described, has never been equaled by others and it is the only heater in the world sold on a guaranteed saving of one-third in fuel as against any underdraft oak stove of the same size on the market.

Read This Remarkable Guarantee

1. We guarantee a saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size, with soft coal, lignite or slack.
  2. We guarantee Cole's Hot Blast to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any other base burner made with same size fire pot.
  3. We guarantee that the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning with the fuel put in the stove the evening before.
  4. We guarantee that the stove will hold fire with soft coal or hard coal from Saturday evening to Monday evening.
  5. We guarantee a uniform heat day and night with soft coal, hard coal or lignite.
  6. We guarantee every stove to remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.
  7. We guarantee the feed door to be smoke and dust proof.
  8. We guarantee the anti-puffing to prevent puffing.
- The above guarantee is made with the understanding that the stove be operated according to directions, and connected up with a good flue.

FREE DENTAL CLINIC FOR SELECTED MEN

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 23.—A free dental clinic for all drafted men will be broached tonight at a session here of the thirteenth District Dental society. Dr. John A. Stoeckley, president of the society, has called the meeting to formulate plans for the work. Dr. Stoeckley states that because more than 600,000 men are being thrown into service and because a shortage of dentists exists it has been impossible to care for men with bad teeth. In order to cope with the situation the government has asked dentists over the nation to assist in getting the drafted men in condition before they are sent to the training camps, said Dr. Stoeckley.

Girls! Juice of Lemons Clears and Whitens Skin

Prepare a quarter pint of lemon beauty lotion at the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sal-lowness, and tan and is the ideal skin softener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy or toilet counter and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach, and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.—Advertisement.

SUBURBAN DAY FOLKS TO HELP GARDEN FAIR

Invited to Join Fort Wayne on the Next "Busy Wednesday."

FREE TO ALL.

Chairman Frank H. Hilgeman, of the food conservation committee, wishes to make it plain to all out-of-town people that the big City Garden fair is free to all. The exhibit and the addresses during the afternoon and evening will be of benefit to all who arrange to attend.

Elsewhere in today's Sentinel, additional details of the big city garden fair of next Wednesday are presented, showing that the occasion is to be one of great interest not only to the people of Fort Wayne but to the people of the cities, towns and rural communities who will come to Fort Wayne on Suburban day, next Wednesday, October 3.

In many of the cities and towns of the Fort Wayne trading area, the real significance of Suburban Trade day is just beginning to be realized. For these, the following condensed bit of information will be of value:

Fort Wayne's Suburban Trade day is an established thing. Backed by more than one hundred of the city's leading business houses who form the Fort Wayne Suburban Day Trade association, every Wednesday will be known as Suburban Trade day. The series of "busy Wednesdays," as they have come to be called, began on the 19th of September. A large crowd came on this first day. The attendance was larger on the second week, and next Wednesday will doubtless see a much broader representation of people from the cities and towns within the Fort Wayne trade circle. These "busy Wednesdays" are characterized by the offering of many attractive Suburban Day "specials," which are liberally advertised by the merchants and others who are back of the movement. Also, with the growth of the importance of the day, big events are coming into the arrangement, such as the city garden fair of next Wednesday at Leaning park, conveniently located down town.

While this event was not arranged by the association but by the food conservation committee, the event fits into the association's plans admirably. The merchants are making elaborate plans for next Wednesday, the theaters will present attractive matinee and evening programs, and altogether the day will eclipse in interest the two preceding Wednesdays of the series.

HOW DOES THIS BUILDING SITE APPEAL TO YOU?

This is one of the few unsold wooded lots in Section B, South Wood Park. Many of the pictures of South Wood Park which have appeared in The Sentinel have presented views of lots which have been purchased by many of the best-known residents of the city; but today the rule has been changed. The photograph shows one of the few lots in the wooded section that have not yet been chosen, and the reason for the breaking of the rule is that many appear to believe that all of the wooded property in Section B has been sold. This picture will appear again in The Sentinel, just as soon as the lot is sold. In the meantime, the lot is still available. The best time to buy is now. The best place to buy is here. The best price is the one you can get. The best way to buy is to buy now. The best time to sell is now. The best place to sell is here. The best price is the one you can get. ## GEESSE BREAK ONCE MORE INTO HISTORY

This Time They Were Ducks, But They Saved British Detachment.

With British Forces in Saloniki, Aug. 20.—(Correspondence.)—This is the story of how geese of Kale-Zir gave the warning and saved a British detachment.

When the Bulgars left their native fastnesses and came down into the plains, their advance was halted by a certain famous river and a historic lake. A British company was holding the upper lake, for it was divided into two parts connected by the river. The company was charged with responsibility for the upper lake and five miles of the connecting stream as far as Kale-Zir. They had absolute command of the lake, thanks to the motorboats, and a crossing there was inconceivable, but the river flowed through a maze of reeds and swamps and forests, most parts of which appeared absolutely impenetrable from the British side. A feeling of comparative safety pervaded the British camp.

Then one evening the orderly officer set out from the camp on his bicycle to visit two outposts up the river, nearly two miles from the camp. It was very dark. As he neared the sentry, he heard the movement of wings, and distinguished flock after flock of ducks flying from their night rest among the reeds.

"Looks odd," he remarked to the sentry. Then to a sergeant, "I'll take one man, sergeant, and we'll cycle down the path and have a look."

The path ran a quarter of a mile along the marsh and then died an abrupt death in a stifling fence of reeds. The officer and his orderly dismounted and listened. They could discern over in the swamp a long line of men in single file.

Back at the picket post, the orderly sent a man to warn the camp, while he remained behind to keep the enemy raiders under observation.

The raiders were two hundred strong, under command of a German officer. They kept to the path until just before it came into a clearing. Then they halted and prepared to attack. They got into a loose sort of open order and came on quickly. At that moment the British officer fired four shots. Immediately a light over the British camp appeared. The glare was dazzling. There was a moment's silence and then a roar of fire. It was a complete surprise. The raiders were bunched close, and must have had fifty casualties in the first fusillade. They made no attempt to resist, but fled everything away and made for the maize fields.

The first person picked up was the German officer in charge of the enterprise, who had been hit in the thigh. Altogether there were 25 dead and 58 wounded, while 35 more surrendered during the morning at different places and more kept giving themselves up for several days. Probably not more than five or six ever got back to the Bulgar lines.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

The great benefit derived from the use of this remedy in cases of coughs and colds has been gratefully acknowledged by many who have used it. Mrs. Benj. F. Blakeney, Decatur, Ill., is one of them. She says, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is by far the best medicine for colds and coughs we ever used in our family. I gave it to my children when small for grip and have taken it myself. If all mothers knew as much as I do about this medicine they would appreciate its real worth."—Advertisement.

amusement, sous and double sous are taken in all through the day and evening, and none given out if it can be avoided. Subway and tramway employees have even refused to sell tickets unless the passengers offer the exact change. Theatre and moving picture box offices are also collectors of coppers.

M. Hudelo, the new prefect of police, made a round of Paris in the subway the other day. He was required to furnish coppers for his tickets after offering a franc alive piece. At one station the ticket seller refused in his presence to make change for a wounded soldier who offered a two-franc piece. M. Hudelo passed in his card and ordered that the ticket be delivered, whereupon both the ticket and the change were forthcoming.

"So you had the change. Now you may go to the office and get your pay. You are discharged," said M. Hudelo, whose authority extends to all employees of public service.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

The result of his investigation was a circular to commissaires of police calling upon them to enforce the regulations and prosecute every person speculating in copper money, and to send to police headquarters the names of every employee of any public service refusing to make change without plausible reason.

There has been a regular market for coppers at the Place Vendôme where subway employees and collectors bring sous and double sous in rolls and dispose of them at 10 per cent. The buyers pay the premium they pay for the change and make an additional 15 per cent, through their sale to Switzerland. The paper and silver money is counted there, copper is not enough, paper at Paris is not counted there.

Soldiers Will Prove Strong Opponents for Friars Club

Have Big Array of Talent in O. R. C. at Camp Custer.

Some classy football for Fort Wayne is the prediction of George W. Fisher, president of the Fort Wayne Friars club, during the coming season. Fisher says that the Friars will be fully as strong this fall as formerly, if not stronger. A large number of players have already agreed to places and the caliber of these men indicates the strength of the club for the coming season.

The first game of the season should be as good as any that follow, according to Fisher. The football team of the 85th division U. S. A., at Camp Custer, is composed of members of the officers' training camp similar to the one at Fort Benjamin Harrison which was attended by a number of Fort Wayne athletes.

Every player on the soldier team according to word received by Fisher is backed up by a college or university football reputation. Among the stars who will be seen at the ball park October 7 are Chief Gardner, former Carlisle star; Harry Costello, of Georgetown university, All-American football choice; Miller and De Prado, of the Michigan Aggies; Mah-bott and Shields, of the Detroit Her-alds, and numerous other luminaries including two University of Michigan men. One the whole they form an array which will be hard for the Friars to beat. The soldier footballers are continually training and therefore with their previous football practice will be well qualified to stack up against some of the best teams in the country.

Because of the fact that the soldiers will be the first opponents the Friars' first game will be attended by a military and patriotic demonstration of some sort which is being planned by the Friars club. The embryo officers themselves will probably form a part of the parade which will precede the game.

The following is an excerpt from a letter received by President Fisher from Floyd A. Rowe, office division athletic director, at Camp Custer:

"A word of explanation in regard to our team at this time will not be amiss and I wish to say that we have among the officers of the 85th division men who have played considerable football and all the members of our team have college or university records back of them. These men are giving their time and effort to the building up of our 85th division team and the money taken in by the team this season will be used to purchase athletic equipment for the entire division. Such being the case you will readily see that it is our desire to make as much money as possible in order that athletics may be encouraged to the maximum in this division."

Recognizing the worthiness of the officer athletes' enterprise the Friar management has made a notable concession not usually made for teams playing here in that the game will be played strictly on a 50-50 basis. Season tickets are now on sale for all the games by the Friars and fans who are figuring on attending all the games can save money by buying these, the Sentinel is requested to announce.

George Gibson, veteran coach and right hand man of Manager McGraw. He will coach the pitchers in the big series, and will have a good deal to say as to their selection for mound duty.

CITY SERIES TO WIND UP BASEBALL SEASON

Mart Cleary Hopes to Cop Two Games and Win Championship.

The final base ball windup of the season will occur in Fort Wayne at League park Sunday, when Rade Myers' Cubs and Mart Cleary's Lincoln Lifers cross bats for the last time this season. The championship will no longer be a mooted question. It will be positively decided for once and for all time—that is, until next spring.

In Boston, the Braves and Red Sox will play for the city championship of Boston, and in St. Louis the Cards and Browns will fight it out for the championship of Missouri. The fans have to stand for that, and in Fort Wayne Cleary and Myers will settle all past and present personal grudges in a base ball way, Sunday afternoon in a double header.

If Rade's team can win the first one, Mart will be up against it and the championship of the Summit City in a base ball way will have been decided. Mart hopes that his team can win both games and take the championship. The second game will be played even if the Lifers lose the first contest and the series. Cleary has stood pat in his regular line-up throughout the season and has brought in no new talent for the series.

Ostermeyer and Lampert will do the hurling for the Lincoln Lifes while Dietrich, Seltz and a new man will probably be on the mound for the Cubs.

JOHNSON PICKS SOX

Walter Johnson, the brilliant pitcher of the Washington club, is undoubtedly one of the hardest men to interview now in the national game. He is always backward about expressing an opinion of other players for fear of hurting someone's feelings.

Walter was caught off his guard last week in a conversation at the Washington park, the great pitcher never dreaming he was talking for publication, and for this reason his views on the coming world series can be taken as a true blue opinion.

"The world series this year," is going to be an extremely hard fought contest, but I believe the White Sox have just enough edge on the Giants to win out.

"I understand McGraw and the followers of the New York team are building on the pitching force of their three left-handers, but before the series is over they will be using right-handers or I miss my guess. Joe Jackson and Eddie Collins don't like southpaws as a rule, but they are far from weaklings when going good against them. McGraw will have to figure on beating the White Sox right-hand hitters, as Felsch, John Collins, Chick Gandil and Risberg are hard men to fool and every one of them is especially good against left-handers.

"I have pitched against the White Sox enough to know that a majority of them are natural hitters, and pitchers must have a great deal on the ball to keep them from driving it into safe territory. The way I figure the White Sox is that the only men on the team with whom chances can be taken are the pitchers, and sometimes they hit the best I have a mile or more.

"There are no .300 hitters among them this season, but their winning strength lies in the fact that they generally come through with safe hits when there are men on the bases, and I need not tell you that is the time to hit the ball. I don't believe any of the White Sox can be classed as backslappers when a hit means a run or victory, at least I have always found them at their best at a critical time.

"I have pitched against only two or three of the Giants, but I have seen the many times in action and almost the same that I have said about the White Sox applies to them. Kauff, Robertson, and Burns are natural hitters, with Zimmerman almost with them. There is a youngster on that team by the name of Holke who I have seen handle a bat very cleverly and I wouldn't be surprised if he would turn out to be the best hitter of the Giants in the big series.

"The Giants will have to reckon with a formidable trio of pitchers in Russell, Cicotte and Faber. I wouldn't be surprised if the first named did not outpitch the other two.

"Where McGraw might figure on left-handers beating the White Sox the comeback is in Russell, as he will be able to pitch two games in the big series if necessary, and those of the Giants who bat from the port side will find him a big proposition to overcome."

AHERN TAKES A "SQUIRREL FOOD" SLANT AT WHITE SOX PARK

ALEX PICKS GIANTS

Grover Cleveland Alexander, the king of pitchers—who still retains his throne, peering through the periscope into the future, sees victory ahead for the New York Giants over the Chicago White Sox in baseball's classic.

Here's a pitcher, the modern king of 'em all, willing to admit that pitching alone will not win the series. Quite the contrary, Alex the Great deduces triumph ahead for New York because bats wielded by the Giants will be far more productive in the art of run-getting.

What Eddie Cicotte, Red Russell, Williams, Faber and Darnforth will make the Giants think they are swinging toothpicks when they go up there to take a crack at the ball? Where do you get that stuff? Now, it may be so that the Chicago pitching will throw a monkey wrench into the New York artillery, but I have reason to think otherwise.

"Do I think the Giants are a great scoring machine? Look at my record against them! I won a game from them in our last series; that's all this year. It's beyond me to explain why they bumped me so hard.

"When McCarty is catching and Salce pitching, you have to face nine men, anyone of whom might break up the old ball game with a long drive.

"I've heard it said that the Giants throw away chances to score by playing the hit and run for a flock of runs. That's not so. The Giants care as well as hit and run, and I look for them to continually mix 'em up against the White Sox. New York is the greatest one inning scoring team I ever faced.

"So much for the offensive of the Giants. Now the pitching. There are two men in the Chicago lineup whose bats must be hushed up—Eddie Collins and Joe Jackson. I look for McGraw to pin his faith in left-handers, for once Collins and Jackson are silenced the biggest danger has been removed. Ferdie Schupp, the brilliant left-hander, might shine against Chicago, but I favor Slim Salce.

"It wouldn't surprise me to see McGraw shoot left-handers Schupp and Salce at the White Sox in the first two games. Either could come back after a short rest but it wouldn't be absolutely necessary for there is Peritt, a right-hander, who will give the Sox a lot of trouble.

"I've been hearing a lot about Cicotte's shine ball. He might not have such a thing; it might just be a fever. Anyhow, if he has a shine ball working he certainly will have to be at his very best to pitch it past that hard hitting club.

"The Giants are not a ball club that might be considered a mark for left-hand pitching. They have a batting order well balanced with both types of hitters, a strong infield with Fletcher and Herzog, a great combination around second, a pitching staff especially strong in left-handers, good catchers and a smart outfield. There had been some talk of Herzog being sick, I look for him to play an important part.

"I do not expect the Giants to have a walkover, but they have all three things necessary to win, hitting, pitching and fielding, with cool heads under fire."

COLUMBUS MEETING COMES TO AN END

Deciding Heat of 2:13 Trot to Be Raced Today.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 28.—The grand circuit meeting came to an end yesterday with the racing of five events. Miss Harris M. repeated her victory of last week over the free-for-all pacers, beating the favorite, William, who finished out of the money. Ben Earl won the first heat, but faded after that, while the mare disposed of the others easily. Peter Nash, the heavy favorite in the 2:10 pacing stake, was beaten in straight heats by the third choice, Ben Ali. General Yorke was the winner in the 2:11 trot over the first choice, Jeanette Speed.

All bets made after the fifth heat were declared off on the 2:15 trot, carried over from yesterday, when Michalowa won, the judges not being satisfied with the driving of Stout behind Lotto Watts. The 2:13 trot went six heats and was still unfinished, the deciding heat to be raced today.

Washington, Sept. 28.—Charles A. Comiskey's pennant winners indulged in a merry batting practice yesterday. They faced three of C. Griffith's perfectly good right-handers and at the end of a perfect day the Sox had hung up an even dozen base hits. They triumphed over the Senators 6 to 1, bringing their season's victories to 99 games. As they have three more games on their official schedule it is safe to wager the men of Rowland will finish the season with 100 wins to their credit. Score: R.H.E. The Athletics came back in their half and scored four runs off Louder-milk. After the Browns had scored two in the ninth Bush wound up the contest by striking out Jacobson. Score: R.H.E. ## IN FOOTBALL CAMPS

WISCONSIN.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 28.—Coach Richards of the University of Wisconsin football squad spent most of yesterday afternoon building up a defense for forward passes which his regular back field and ends have been using to good advantage in the daily scrimmages. The morning practices have been discontinued with the opening of classes and the squad worked late into the afternoon.

INDIANA.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 28.—Six of the varsity football men are ineligible because of scholastic rule. Arrangements were made for tutors to assist the stars who have been conditioned. Inasmuch as the material is exceedingly short, the coaches cannot spare any men. Coach Stiehm told the varsity last night their tacking in the scrimmage with the freshmen yesterday was bad. He had them hit the dummy for a long drill.

GREAT LAKES.

Great Lakes, Ill., Sept. 28.—In its last workout before the Marquette university game at Milwaukee Saturday the Great Lakes Naval gridiron team scored seven touchdowns in a half-hour's scrimmage with the seconds. Pat Smith, who was shifted from fullback to tackle; Phil Proctor, Nebraska, and Raymond, Michigan, were the bright lights. Lieutenant Angell, head coach of the jacksies, massed his beefiest line men to oppose the regulars.

NOTRE DAME.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 28.—Notre Dame men will know their signals if nothing else after a few drills like yesterday's, for Harper kept them at it nearly all afternoon. Rockne gave the line men personal and individual instructions. Jake Kline's yearlings were permitted their first line scrimmage and also had their usual signal practice. Seventy men were out.

MICHIGAN.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 28.—Hand-capped by the loss of veterans now in the service, Michigan gridgers began practice yesterday morning under Coach Yost, about forty men turning out. Among the veterans who have responded to Yost's call are Weske, the Cress boys, Goodsell, Boyd, Culver, Sparks, Hamish, Wieman and Froemke. With these men is the mentor placing his hopes. Due to the fact that this year mark Michigan's re-entrance into the conference, an unusual interest is being shown by the returning student body in the development of the eleven. The first game, to have been played on October 7, has been postponed a week to give the Yost men time to get into shape.

FURDUE.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 28.—Scrimmage is on the program again for the Purdue football squad after a day spent in tackling the dummy, falling on the ball and running through signals. All of the men, with the addition of Jordan, were out on Stuart field yesterday, and showed up in fine form. The men are hitting the dummy with accuracy, falling on the ball with speed and force, and Coach O'Donnell has expressed himself as highly pleased with their work so far. The eleven has been strengthened by the return of Orville Roberts, one of the husky guards of last year.

Comiskey Needs Some Help—Will Make It Chicago Affair.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Try this on your adding machine:
Orders for 100,000 seats for each game of the world series at Comiskey park had been received yesterday. There are 33,000 seats.
Thousands of out-of-town applicants will be disappointed, as the White Sox management has announced that the home-grown fans will be "taken care of first."
The one ray of hope remaining for the tardy ones is the fact that 15,000 pavilion and bleacher seats will be placed on sale at the park in the morning before each game.
According to the national commission "there ain't no such animal" as the ticket scalper but—brokers are offering $2.50 for $1.50 reserved seats and $7.50 for $5 box seats.

LIPPE'S FIGHTERS BARRED.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 28.—Fighters under the management of Al Lippe, of New York, will not be allowed to box in the state of Wisconsin in the future. The alleged failure of Lippe to post Jeff Smith's forfeit money for the latter's bout with Harry Greb here recently and his refusal to appear before the board for a hearing resulted in the fact. As a result, the proposed bout between Tom Cowler, New York heavyweight, and Fred Fulton, of Minnesota, some time during the early part of next month, has been cancelled.

WILL USE AMERICAN FARMING MACHINERY

Will Tear Soil of Macedonia
and Thessaly With Plows
Made Here.

Athens, Aug. 22.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—American agricultural machinery is to be used on a huge scale to develop the rich agricultural resources of Macedonia and Thessaly, which have lain for ages in an undeveloped state. One of the largest orders ever given by Greece has just been placed with United States concerns, and the first shipments of 200 farm tractors, 1,500 auto-rakes, and a whole shipload of other large implements left New York on the first of the Greek liners to sail since the entente blockade was raised.

A company with $3,000,000 capital, has just been founded to carry on this development of Macedonia and Thessaly. It is chiefly Greek money, with some French and American. But part of the plan called for utilizing modern American methods, by which farming is conducted in the western states on a huge scale. The ancient methods of ploughing and harvesting still prevail in Thessaly and lower Greece, and this will be the first time that the big steam farm tractors have been operated here on a large scale. Even the primitive wooden plough is used by many peasants, but at Volo, in Thessaly, iron and steel ploughs have been turned out for some time past.

This development of the Balkan granaries on a large scale is one of the necessities forced on Europe by the war. All of the countries have suddenly realized that they could not feed themselves in the pinch of war. Greece alone has bought about $15,000,000 worth of grain every year from the United States, Russia and Bulgaria. With these countries cut off by submarines and war conditions, Greece is now trying to get wheat from India. The other Balkan states are in the same condition. They have lots of idle land but are feeding themselves from America, and beyond seas.

The formation of this new company has resulted from this determination.

encouraged by the government, to develop the fertile Balkan regions so that Greece and the other Balkan countries may hope to be self-supporting and even contribute to the grain supply of the rest of Europe. Macedonia virtually is a virgin soil, very rich, and capable of large crops. The Macedonian tobacco already commands high prices in the world's markets. It trebled in value the last year.

Thessaly is the region where the French High Commissioner, M. Jonnart, introduced intensive farming the past summer in order to meet the pressing needs of Greece. It is one of the best wheat regions, and even with primitive methods it produced last year 5,000,000 bushels of wheat, oats, barley and rye, 10,000,000 pounds of tobacco, and much cotton and rice.

With the large consignments of American machinery now on the way, and abundant capital available, it is expected that these products of Macedonia and Thessaly will be enormously increased, and that the hope will be at last realized of making it one of the largest granaries of Eastern Europe.

NECESSITY TO CLOSE A NEW GATE TO SPIES

Uncle Sam's Mail Bag Will Be Censored Against Sky Letters.

BY MILTON BRONNER.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 27.—President Wilson and Postmaster General Burleson now have under consideration a mail censorship plan whose object will be to eliminate chances of information being slipped out of this country to Germany and her allies. Uncle Sam is the only belligerent in the world who exercises absolutely no censorship on mail matter. There is a censorship on cables. The only order on mail up-to-date has been one forbidding the attempted mailing of matter to Germany and her allies. Aside from that, we have been relying upon the vigilance of our allies. This has worked very well up to a certain point. But it has not closed all the channels for a leak.

The greatest censorship bureau in the world is the British. Not only have vast stores of useful information been obtained by censoring letters, but immense numbers of tips to Germany have thereby been killed.

Practically all mail from this country to the six neutrals of Europe is censored by the British and French. Mail for Asia is censored by the British and Japanese.

The British and French censor all mail for Africa.

But there are ships that ply directly between Havana and Spain and between South American ports and Spain. The chances for a leak into Germany via Spain, are, therefore, many.

Obviously the job for Uncle Sam is to exercise a scrutiny of all mail going to Cuba and the South American continent.

Cuba will readily help us, having come into the war because we came in. The South American matter will have to be handled in a different way if it is to be effective. It will mean a real censorship on all mail matter for those countries.

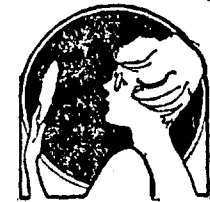

The censorship will have to be exercised here at home, because we can't expect neutral countries in South America to do the job for us.

Whether the government is prepared to make so drastic a move at the present time is unknown. It all depends upon the plans the president is now considering.

Censorship of South American mail would entail the employment of a big bureau of clerks. There would have to be people thoroughly conversant with European languages, and, especially, with Spanish and Portuguese. There would have to be experts who could detect code messages in seemingly simple personal and family letters. And there would have to be still others who could detect messages written in invisible ink.

Catarrah Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrh of the ear, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrh of the ear is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrh of the Ear that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Write for free literature. All drug stores.

MUNCIE MAYOR AFTER SOME LOCAL TRUSTS

Muncie, Sept. 28.—Rollin H. Bunch, mayor of Muncie, has not only contracted for 2,000 tons of coal to be sold to citizens of this city at cost, but he has announced that his entire crop of potatoes grown on sixteen acres of land in the northern part of the state will be shipped to Muncie and sold at cost. The mayor is to name the members of a commission which will have charge of the new city market. He has announced that a woman and reticent farmer will make up two of the three members of the commission. Mayor Bunch reports that onions will be sold at about $1 a bushel instead of several cents a pound.

FIGHTING FIRE IN ATHENS.

Water Hauled to the Blaze in Huge Tanks.

Athens, Sept. 28.—There was a fire on the main street of Athens the other day which permitted one to see the Athenian fire department in full action. First came a huge tank of water drawn by horses. There is no water from fire hydrants, for water is very scarce and people are not permitted to take baths. So the fire department brings the tank of water to each fire, and the fire is held down as long as the tank holds out. Back of the tank comes one of the venerable hand-pumping devices which Benjamin Franklin introduced when he started the volunteer fire organizations in America. Still the Athenian fire department has a good record, mainly because Athens is built of stone and cannot burn.

The day after the fire the huge tank was seen on the same street, saying the dust, and it was explained that the fire department was also the street-sprinkling department.

RAISE FISH IN YOUR OWN PRIVATE PUDDLE

Acre Devoted to Fish Pond Can Be Made to Yield $200 Annually.

Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—The possibility of netting $200 a year from fish raised on a acre of water is explained in a statement by E. C. Shireman, state fish and game commissioner. Although the commissioner sets forth that the care necessary to clear $200 on an acre of water in a year is more than would be required for raising a crop on an acre of land, the profit is greater and the cost of future production is less.

The time necessary for the best results after stocking the pond is three years. Mr. Shireman's statement is based on experiments in Kansas in a circular pond which had an area of about one acre. The pond was shallow near the edges and sloping toward the center to a depth of six feet. For the most part the bottom was of mud. Stocking the pond was the greatest task, and after that little was done except to provide food for the fish for three years.

About 1,000 yearling fish—black bass, croppie, blue gill, sunfish, bull-head catfish, and a few gold fish—were placed in the pond in the spring of the first year. Some of the fish were too small for anything except food for the larger fish. The next year 1,500 two-year-old croppies were added, together with 2,000 bull-head catfish. Later enough of the various kinds were added to make the total put in about 15,000.

The food for the fish included 500 pounds of chopped liver, 600 pounds chopped fish—mostly carp—300 pounds of chopped corn, 50 pounds kahr corn, and 50 pounds of bread and table scraps. The food cost about $105 for the three years.

The pond was kept as nearly at the same level as possible. In the spring of the third year the pond was lowered and a stream of clear water run through while the fish were being taken out to prevent injury to the fish by the mud. The fish were all removed by seines of varying size. In all 26,448 fish were taken from the pond and they weighed a total of 6,799 pounds. Counting out the amount spent for food which might be reduced in many instances on the farm, the total profit for the three years was more than $600.

The commissioner states that on almost every farm is a place where a small fish pond might be made at little cost, especially if there is a spring to provide sufficient fresh water. Such a pond would not only provide fish for the table throughout the year but should provide a profitable investment, according to the commissioner. The fish and game commission has well under way plans for taking from the streams, near Indianapolis, the larger so-called "coarse" fish, which experts say can be prepared into palatable food. The fish are to be sold at low prices to the public. If plans work out successfully they will be put into effect in other parts of the state.

INDIANA HAS MADE UP PROGRAM FOR SCHOOLS

Vocational Education Under Federal Act Will Be Given Start.

Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—The state board of education has made public the program for vocational education in Indiana as adopted under the Smith-Hughes act of congress. It now remains for the national committee on vocational education established under the act to sanction the Indiana program for it to be in force in this state.

Agriculture and various of the trades demanding the highest training will be taught not only by vocational education teachers but by men and women actively engaged in the trades taught the pupils. The program sets out that the instruction is to be less than the college grade.

Equipment is specified as well as methods or instruction, and qualifications and training of the teachers. In providing for the industrial training the program announces that a study of the needs of a community must largely determine what shall be taught.

A four-year course in agriculture is provided with not less than one-half of the four years' work composed of agricultural subjects, each one a unit in itself. Close co-operation between the state board of education and the agricultural department of Purdue university is necessary in teaching the subject according to the program outlined.

The instruction is practical, farming is to be open to persons between fourteen and twenty-five who are preparing for or have entered on the occupation of agriculture. The amount of equipment and the number of subjects taught is to be determined in each case but a minimum cost of $125 for a class of fifteen persons has been set.

Adequate special training in poultry raising, horticulture, dairying, soils, animal husbandry and farm mechanics is to be included. Practical project work is to be carried on every day of the year and the instruction is to be based on the actual daily problems of the farm.

Teachers in such schools must have had five years' actual vocational training besides other necessary qualifications. The instruction in the trades and industries is to be as thorough but must be determined largely by the community's needs.

Does Your Husband Drink? Druggist Tells How to Cure The Liquor Habit At Home

Free Prescription Can Be Filled At Any Drug Store and Given Secretly.

H. J. Brown, a Cleveland man, was for many years a confirmed drunkard. His friends and relatives despaired of ever redeeming him. His sister sought the best medical men in Europe in the hope that she might find something which would cure him. Finally she was recommended to an eminent chemist, who gave her a private formula (the same as appears below) and told her how to use it. She had it filled at the drug store and gave it to him secretly. The results were startling. In a few weeks he was completely cured. That was over eight years ago and he has not touched a drop since. He now occupies a position of trust and is enthusiastic in his efforts to help others overcome the liquor habit. He feels that he can best do this by making public the same formula which cured him. Here is the prescription: Go to any first class drug store and get Prepared Tescum Powders. Drop one powder twice a day in coffee, tea or any liquid. It is harmless, tasteless, odorless and can not be detected. You can use it without the knowledge of anyone. A lady who recently tried it on her husband reports: "My husband was on a spree when I got the powders and he usually stays drunk from three to four weeks at a time. After putting the powder in his coffee for four days he sobered up and has not taken a drink since and says he is through with it forever. He also complained that whisky did not taste the same. I shall not tell him what did it, but I am grateful for this help and I shall recommend it whenever possible."

One woman who used this prescription on her husband says: "It is going on the fourth week since he has touched a drop of anything in the form of liquor or used tobacco of any kind. He seems already like a different man. Tescum has gained a wonderful enthusiasm in me. I regard it as a Godsend. Just think, I have never seen my husband sober for more than 48 hours in years and now it is going on one month since he had his last drink."

Another one gratefully writes: "I have used Tescum powders on my husband and find it one of the greatest cures in this world. He hasn't taken a drink for almost five weeks and says he never will. My home does not seem like the same place and life seems worth living. I hope thousands gain what I have. This has been a good new year for me without drink in my home."

Note—A leading druggist when shown the above article said: "Yes, Tescum is a very remarkable remedy for the drink habit. It is harmless, wonderfully effective and is having an enormous sale. I advise everyone who wishes to destroy the liquor habit to give it a trial."

You take no risk with Tescum as it is sold in this city under a steelbond money-refund guarantee by the Dretter Drug Co., Meyer Bros. and other first-class druggists. They guarantee it to do the work or refund the money.

MILLION BUSHEL OF SEED CORN EXPECTED

Large Amount of High Grade Grain to Be Selected Next Month.

Indianapolis, Sept. 23.—No less than 1,000,000 bushels of high-grade seed corn are to be selected from Indiana fields October 22 to 26, if the program now planned by the Indiana committee on food production and conservation is carried out. The 1918 planting program calls for approximately 6,000,000 acres in corn in 1918. A bushel of seed is required for every six acres.

G. I. Christie, state food director, in an announcement concerning seed corn, says the seed should be selected from the field before the time of heavy freezes. If that is done, and it is stored properly, the yield next year would easily be increased 20,000,000 bushels in Indiana.

Experiments conducted by the Purdue station comparing the germination of corn selected at different stages of maturity are of interest. The work started in the fall of 1907, and statistics kept each year since. Various conditions are covered by the reports.

Corn selected just before denting germinated 79.7 per cent.; corn nicely dented when selected germinated 93.5 per cent. The ripest ears selected when the corn was ready to shock showed 92.6 per cent. germination, while the ripest ears at husking germinated 88.5 per cent.

GERMANY OWNS CEMETERY.

Rome, Sept. 23.—War has drawn attention to the fact that the great Protestant cemetery in Rome, where are buried many distinguished foreigners, including the poets, Keats and Shelley, is the property of the German government, and the rentals for plots therein are still paid to German agents. More than a century ago Prussia was the only non-Roman Catholic power represented at the vatican.

Therefore, it was Prussia which obtained the concession for a cemetery to be used for the bodies of those not of the Roman faith, and the property still remains in the hands of the German government. Prominent foreigners here are now urging that the Italian government should take over the cemetery and place it under British protection.

WAR CANNOT BE WON IN TRENCHES ALONE

Mighty Army to Produce
Carl Vrooman.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 28.—Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, addressing the American Bankers' association today said that if the war is to be won the United States not only will have to put an army in the trenches, but will have to put several other armies in the field at home. "We shall have to have an army of food producers in the furrows," he declared, "a women's army of food conservers, beating back the attacks of that world-old camp follower of war—famine, and a patriotic army of civilians in the business and political worlds, fighting against disloyal greed, unpatriotic partisanship, perverted personal ambition and economic treason to the republic."

"Ten million of the flower of American manhood by the selective draft have had their names written on the nation's immortal roll of honor. The nation calls today for an equal number of volunteers to fight in the business world and at the ballot box, to make the conduct of this war as clean and patriotic, as heroic and self-sacrificing in the business world at home as it is in the trenches of France and Flanders."

In urging increased food production Mr. Vrooman declared we are face to face with famine. "Not as a people, of course, but as one of a sisterhood of nations. We are not ourselves starving, but millions of our fellowmen are."

All members and friends of Christ Lutheran church are invited to attend important meeting at new church tonight.

DAILY CARTOONET

FROM THE SENTINEL
PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

Cool nights and sunny days is now the program for the weather. Judge Hensch addressed a democratic meeting at Monroeville Saturday night. August Detzer is moving into the office room on Harrison street, formerly occupied by Schrader & Wilson. Mr. Detzer intends to manufacture chemical specialties. The overall establishment of Redolshelter & Co., will be removed to the Ewing block, corner of Harrison and Main streets and will occupy the rooms formerly used by the Fort Wayne Turnverein. Seldon Morey, telegraph operator at the Press office, is thought to be improving. He has been at death's door for some days, but a change for the better is noticeable and it is now believed that he will recover. Last Saturday night the liquor house of Fred C. Boltz, on Calhoun street, was entered by thieves sometime after midnight. Entrance was made by means of the transom. All the money which had been left in the cash drawer was taken, as was also a large number of B. & O. cigars. Nothing else is missing. There is not as yet any clue to the thieves. The Aloysius Young Men's sodality of St. Mary's Catholic church held its annual election Sunday, which resulted as follows: Spiritual director, Rev. J. H. Oechtering; president, George App; vice president, A. A. Reinhardt; recording secretary, Alex. J. Reitz; financial secretary, George W. Haffner; corresponding secretary, Frank C. Ehinger; treasurer, Joseph Kramer; collectors, Benjamin and Joseph Derheimer, Jr.; banner carriers, John Kessens, George Zurbach, Martin Schramm; standing committee, Henry C. Kramer, Henry Zurbach, Con. Schuler; librarians, George Miller; assistant librarians, Louis Elbert; secretary of library, Joseph L. August.

Hitting the Mark

"It sometimes happens that a man hits the bull's-eye by accident rather than by skill; but he is not likely to repeat. The man who is most precise and most determined in his aiming and most persistent in practice is, naturally, the man who stands the best chance of scoring high and of being able to preserve his record."

When your shots begin to land inside the target, you're in a fair way of hitting the "bull's-eye." The Gates Store Trade Shots are landing inside the target right along.

We take considerable satisfaction in seeing our "score" going higher day by day. The new garments—Suits, Dresses, Coats, Blouses—which have been crowding in for the week-end sales will raise the score still higher. Every new style seems to be more attractive than those which have preceded. There are so many such charmingly beautiful things here now ready for your choosing that we are really anxious to have you come in and to hear your expressions of pleasure at seeing them.

And now a word about coming in "just to look around"

Many women who enjoy seeing the authentic new styles as they are brought out hesitate about coming in "just to look" because they fear they might cause the salespeople unnecessary trouble.

Please remember that here our salespeople are all so enthusiastic about the garments and the unusual values we are showing that it will be a pleasure to them to have you come to see without a thought of buying.

You will not be importuned to buy. We cordially invite you to keep in touch with the latest style developments as exemplified by the Gates Store showings in the various departments and in our show windows.

Every day there is much here that is new and interesting, which we will enjoy showing you quite as much as you will enjoy seeing. Come.

The Last Days of the Anniversary Sale

For the last days of this great Anniversary Sale which closes Saturday night, hundreds of extraordinary offerings have been prepared—offerings in choice seasonable garments at savings too important to be overlooked.

VATERLAND TURNED AGAINST GERMANY

Greatest Vessel Afloat to Carry Americans to Fight Abroad.

(Staff Special.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 27.—Kaiser Wilhelm himself has contributed Uncle Sam's greatest aid in transporting armies to France.

Thanks to the Kaiser's orders to the German shipping companies, Uncle Sam has today one ship which can transport half a division or over 10,000 men, with all their equipment. The ship was designed primarily for that purpose. The giant Vaterland, outwardly a floating passenger palace, wardly a floating troop transport, is the world's greatest troop transport.

As if the submarine were foreseen, the Vaterland is equipped to withstand submarine attack better than any ship afloat. Gun platforms for a whole flock of rapid fireers were cunningly built into her. Her speed enables her to run away. Through a system of watertight compartments she is practically unsinkable. If struck squarely by two or three torpedoes she would remain afloat.

As Uncle Sam's engineers have proceeded to remodel the Vaterland since the American flag was hoisted over her, they have been running into surprise after surprise. They have found their work already done for the most part.

The suitability of the Vaterland for transport purposes have heightened the suspicion that she was built especially to carry a little army for a surprise attack on a distant coast—the United States or Brazil in all probability—if things had gone as the Kaiser planned.

The highest military experts in Germany were consulted in the building of the Vaterland. And now their pet weapon is turned against themselves.

The Vaterland can cross the Atlantic in less than a week. She could take 20,000 men per month to Europe. The troops sailing on the Vaterland can drill every day. On her giant after-deck a whole regiment can deploy.

No troops have ever sailed the seas in the solid comfort enjoyed by the boys who go "over there" in the Vaterland.

Thank you, Bill!

GREAT LAUNDRY FOR SAILORS.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Ground was broken today at the Great Lakes naval training station for a laundry which is to have a capacity of 1,000,000 pieces weekly. John O. Buckley, chief machinist's mate, who will have charge of the plant, said that when completed it will be equipped to handle the laundry of 25,000 men. The plant is expected to be in operation before cold weather sets in.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR,

THICK, WAVY, FREE

FROM DANDRUFF

Draw a Moist Cloth Through Hair
and Double Its Beauty
at Once.

Save Your Hair! Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops
Coming Out.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful
as a young girl's after an application of Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little danderine
and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of just, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry,
brittle or thin. Besides beautifying
the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies
and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes,
but really new hair growing all over
the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, charming lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a bottle of Knowl-
ton's Danderine from any drug store

IS MOST REMARKABLE

SOLDIER IN FRANCE

American Veteran of Franco-

Prussian War Shames

Slackers.

By C. C. LAYTON.

With the American Troops in France, Sept. 20.—(Controlle Americaine).—The most remarkable soldier
in the entire French army is George
Le Mesnager, of 354 Douglas street,
Los Angeles, Cal.

If there be any cowards and slackers
in America, let them know Le Mesna-
ger's story and be ashamed.

Early in September, 1914, an old man walked down the gangplank of a steamer just arrived at Havre, France,
from America.

His hair, once black, would soon be white. Shaggy eyebrows shaded eyes that always twinkled. A reddish-brown beard made him look older than he really was. His carriage was military.

War had been declared in France
only a few weeks before and the authorities were suspicious of entering strangers.

Le Mesnager had hardly reached the dock before he was in the custody of the police who demanded his business.

"I'm here to enlist in the army," he said, in perfect French. The gendarme
laughed derisively.

"What, an old man like you enlist
in the army? Impossible!"

Le Mesnager took from his pocket
a little case that contained the highest médal a French soldier can receive.

"I came from America and fought for France in 1870 and they gave me
this," he said simply. "I've come back to fight again."

It was no time for quibbling. The Germans were hammering their way
toward Paris and every available Frenchman was being rushed to arms.

The gendarme said: "If you're determined to enlist, there's a recruiting station down the street."

The recruiting officer hesitated. "A man 64 years old and a private in the infantry!" It's almost unheard of."

Le Mesnager's Franco-Prussian war
medal again got him by. That night
he was on a troop train for the front.

That was three years ago. Today
Le Mesnager, nearing his sixty-eighth birthday, is a French infantry lieutenant and his breast is covered with medals.

He received his first wound, a rifle ball through the arm, seven days after he arrived at the front. It put him in the hospital for a month. When he went back they made him a sergeant
for gallant conduct.

For months Le Mesnager fought in the trenches at Verdun, in one of the greatest and longest battles in history.
One day the ammunition ran short
and the colonel called for a volunteer
to bring up an ammunition train. The German bombardment was terrific. It seemed sure death.

Le Mesnager volunteered and in a short time brought up ammunition.

A few days later the old Californian was called before his regiment and the
"Croix de Guerre" (cross of war)
pinned on his coat. He was mentioned in dispatches.

"Every soldier should have the courage and spirit of this veteran comrade," the colonel told his regiment.

It wasn't long until Le Mesnager
was commissioned a lieutenant.

One evening he was chatting with his regimental adjutant when a German shell passed between them. It exploded almost at their feet.

By some miracle neither was killed,
but both were hurled quite a distance.
Le Mesnager recovering, found himself on the ground under a tree.

He looked around and found parts
of the German shell which he gathered up and carried back to his trench.

"It was nothing at all, nothing at all," he laughed. "Don't ever be afraid of a shell like this one. It's only the shell that hits you that you need to dread."

His colonel heard this remark and
was so impressed with the old fighter's
"spirit" that he recommended him for further honors. This time he was decorated with the "palm."

Another medal was given him for bravery in hand-to-hand conflict. Le Mesnager's regiment had "gone over the top," but soon found itself surrounded by a superior force.

A big German picked the old man
out as his own particular prey, but Le Mesnager ran him through. A little later he discovered the hiding place
of the bugler who was sounding the German charge. Three shots silenced
him.

Le Mesnager has been a resident of Los Angeles since 1887. He lived in France until he was 16, when he emigrated to America. He is a full-fledged
American, and has been since he was
21. In Los Angeles he is a substantial citizen. For many years he has been a court interpreter. He has accumulated a comfortable fortune in real estate.

Since the arrival of the American expedition Le Mesnager has been recalled from the trenches and assigned to one of the French divisions training with the Americans. Most of his work is that of interpreter.

"I couldn't remain quiet when the war broke out," he told me the other day. "Ever since 1871 I had itched
to get back at the Germans."

"I knew, however, that my family
would object on account of my age, so I 'ran away' from home one day, when my wife was out of the city on a short visit."

"It was one of the happiest days of my life when the United States, my country, joined in the war against Germany on the side of the country of
my birth."

An anti-smoke campaign in Pittsburg is reported to have reduced its famous smoke by at least 75 per cent, thereby saving on property alone
$7,500,000 annually.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation
of the scalp, the hair roots shrink,
loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few application the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Advertisement.

PROBING MILK PRICES.

The state authorities of Illinois in special co-operation with the legal department of Cook county have launched an investigation of the recent sharp advances in the price of milk. Wisconsin authorities will be represented in the grand jury inquiry that has been started and it is not improbable that Indiana may find occasion for direct concern in it.

The inquiry will proceed on the theory that criminal laws of the state of Illinois have been violated and that producers no less than other agencies identified with the milk industry and trade are guilty of criminal practices. Records have been seized for examination by the grand jury and it is stated that the investigation will be thorough. Already it is predicted that indictments will be returned against members of the Milk Producers' association, an organization that embraces dairy interests in Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. This inquiry is provoked by evidences that price-fixing has been proceeding on a scale that is rapacious and by methods that are a violation of the law.

It is interesting to note that the legal authorities of Illinois have in mind to carry their inquiries into other fields of the food business and find out if they can what is responsible for the soaring prices of so much that seems to be plentiful. A public that is deeply concerned with the cost of everything that it must have for subsistence will accompany the work of the law's probe with more than casual interest. The same public will also soon begin to wonder just when, about where and in what manner the national food administration will move on from wheat and flour and sugar to some other phases of the problem of food control.

Save for the shortage of wheat—which itself is not actually calamitous—the greatest abundance of foodstuffs in the country's history has been produced this year. The corn crop is beyond precedent. The potato crop is likewise the heaviest ever known in this land. War gardens alone are said to have yielded something like a $350,000,000 aggregate of edibles on top of regular production. Allowing reasonably and even generously for the general level of "war prices" the cost of living is abnormal and burdensome. It is just this that the national food administration is designed to prevent. It may be that there has been no adoption of the general practice of economy and conservation that have been urged so much steadfastness and that because demand for consumption has not been in an ydegree nor in any respect abated that prices continue to soar. It is just possible that later in the season when domestic consumption begins to have recourse to the conserved stores in household cellars and pantries the food trades will be brought into competition with a factor that they are not just yet appreciating at its full value.

In the meantime, the outcome of the Chicago inquiry will be awaited with more than ordinary interest and expectancy. It will have value as disclosing in at least one branch of the food industry and perhaps in others what forces are at work and what practices are invoked to keep profiteering in its comfortable seat.

MR. NIEZER AND THE MAYORALTY.

Maurice C. Niezer is a business man. His success in business has been distinct and in a large way. Those who know anything about him know that his success is the consequence of a high order of business ability, honorable conduct and a steadfast adherence to correct business practices. Material success and sound reputation in business come by no other way.

As mayor of Fort Wayne Mr. Niezer would continue to consult the principles and make use of the practices that have marked his career in private business. Indeed, we do not believe he would find it possible to pursue any other course if he tried. The trained instincts of business are apt not only to remain but to persist and this in the case of Mr. Niezer could mean only that his good sense, shrewdness, executive capacity and veneration of honorable principles would be employed with the same zeal and to the same good effect for the people of Fort Wayne that they have been employed for himself and his associates in private business.

We believe that Mr. Niezer's ability and training are just what Fort Wayne needs greatly to have at the head of municipal affairs. And when this city has a mayor in whom there are joined to practical qualities of the first order an intense public spirit, fine civic ideals and true consecration to service, there will be a chief executive in whom the public will find nothing is wanting.

To suppose that Mr. Niezer will not make such a mayor is merely to suppose such an absurdity as that going into the city hall to work he will leave outside the door every quality, principle and ideal that has influenced and secured his great success in his fine private career. No sensible person will suppose such a thing. It is not supposable, to begin with, and failure will accompany any partisan attempt to create a false and malicious belief that Mr. Niezer for the sake of the mayoralty will surrender his independence and self-respect, sacrifice his high reputation in business, desecrate every civic ideal that he has tried to exemplify and betray the confidence of thousands of devoted friends who are proud of their faith in him.

The mayoralty of Fort Wayne is nothing to Maurice C. Niezer save as it opens to him a path to further and higher service. He does not need it. Its emoluments are nothing to him. Its honors as symbolizing the highest degree of public trust and public confidence and its duties as offering the most ample career of public service in a city that he loves are everything to him.

When the people of Fort Wayne have fully examined this political situation and carefully taken into account its vital relation to the future of the city they will not be tardy to understand the importance of placing a man like Mr. Niezer at the head of their municipal affairs.

GERMANY'S LIBERAL PARTY.

In Germany Admiral von Tripitz heads the new liberal party whose chief tenet is no peace that is not a German peace. In other words, there must be no peace that is not the peace of victory and that means that Germany keeps Belgium and such part of France as she can hold, together with anything else in the way of territory that it may be of advantage not to discard.

The von Tripitz party is at least honest. It is making no hypocritical pretenses. It is not bidding for peace upon any terms that it does not mean to accept and that it is not willing to fight for to any length of endurance. Von Tripitz and the Junkers are thoroughly at one in the respect that they believe in themselves and the autocracy and their power to come through undismayed by war costs, untainted by democracy, unchastened by loss and suffering—thoroughly bourgeois and unregenerate. As they see it a dynasty that isn't Hohenzollern and a Germany that isn't autocracy and Junkerism is no Germany at all—not worth fighting for, not worth preserving. It is the whole program for which the war was launched or none of it.

The new liberal party's contest with the actual forces of liberalism and with the advocates of peace, who are growing in numbers and vociferousness, will be watched with interest. Its purpose is to fight the peace element in the reichstag, to stand by the whole program of war aims and make a peace that realizes something of the dreams of two generations.

Of course, soldiers can get along without books and the war can be won without that million-dollar library fund, but it will make the lot of the boys who do the fighting a great deal easier and will do them much good in spirit and morals if they have an abundance of good literature to help them while away the time that must now and then grow heavy. Soldiers are not all the time on the march, in the battle line or "going over the top" and jabbing bayonets into the foe. There are days in long rows when there is nothing to do but wait for the command to go forward. Books fill in the time. Help the library fund. A small contribution will go far. A dollar keeps one book moving for a year.

Among the several names mentioned of congressmen thought to have been influenced by the von Bernstorff propaganda are Senator La Follette and Representative Billy Mason. This is surprising, astounding, shocking, painful—indeed, not to be borne. There may be some copperheads in congress, but the loyalty of La Follette and the devotion of Mason cannot be questioned. Their words prove their fealty, their friends establish their patriotism. Either one can get a word of praise from von Bernstorff or an endorsement from Big Bill any time asked for.

The man who thinks von Bernstorff could have made any headway with $50,000 in buying up congress must take that aggregation for a most pitiful troupe of pikers.

"Fare, please! All the glad ones, and the sad ones; all the good ones, and the bad ones—go on here!"

SONNETS—"THE OTHER WOMAN'S SHADOW"

The other woman's shadow stands between—
That one who stabbed your heart, and maimed your soul!

I would be blinder than the earth-hid mole
Did I not see her mocking, scornful mien!
She points at me, like an adulterous queen,
And whispers, "I had him first; where then, wert thou?"

Could I place orange blossoms on my brow, Forgetful, benediction on her lips had been;
Would she not sit between us at the board,
Or wave me hence when I lay in your arms?
Would not her shadow laugh, if I should weep?
May, love, I take you for my chosen lord—
But, would that white flesh of her wanton charms
Were hidden from us in the final sleep!

II

But stay, I see the sorrow in your eyes!
Love, I shall heal, where she but lived to kill!
Let vanities of earth-life claim her still—
My love shall make me wifely kind and wise!
Love, I shall pray the glad sun on you rise!
Love, I shall shape the labour of my hands
To bless the highways of your life's demands—
That she may greet us with dismayed surprise!
Come, let us face her! I shall fear no more!
Let her be dead, who never lived to me;
Let her be silent, when we speak and kiss!
Perchance, hereafter, on the blessed shore
Her mask-eyed ghost may find us, chaste and free—
And give us greetings in our lovers' bliss!

—Fred R. A.

What we can do for the other fellow is a test of power; what we can suffer for him is a test of love.

We're getting so tired of these German plots. They seem to have been made over a single stupid pattern—made in Germany, as it were.

Somebody says that satirists traffic in gods and retail thrones—but if they have as hard a time selling them as we do getting rid of the Kaiser we'll bet their goods are shopworn.

Goethe said, "He is happiest, be he king or peasant, who finds peace in his home." But they don't care much now—days in Germany for what Goethe once thought.

Once we thought war a curse—now we simply curse work and let it go at that.

After we got the bad blood squeezed out of Germany we might set to work squeezing the serum out of the vaccination freaks.

We raised our boy to be a soldier all right—but hang us, if we raised him to be vaccinated!

Speaking of doctors—we think they are a pretty good sort, their worst trouble being a longness for theory and a shortness for facts.

George Washington had not learned his ideals in Germany when he cried out at the battle of Monmouth, "Young man, restrain your impetuosity; in the name of God I beseech you not to make a slaughter-house of the field of battle." Let us preserve that true American ideal—after we have made the world fit to fight in, of course.

HOOSIER'S WAR STORY.

A two-hour bomb attack from the air on a French hospital is described in the accompanying article by Alfred Thompson, a Rensselaer Ind., man now serving as an ambulance driver in France. In this attack the German airmen dropped some forty bombs, some of which were incendiary, setting fire to the wooden hospital buildings. Many wounded men were killed by the bombs and others were burned to death, while hospital attendants and others were victims of the raiders. Mr. Thompson tells the story in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delos Thompson, of Rensselaer.

Yesterday was a big day, the biggest for me that I have had in France. We have been waiting for a call any hour for the past four weeks and yesterday afternoon we got it. We have been living in our cars, you know, sleeping on our stretchers with all our baggage in the car.

When the order came we had to get everything out of our cars, the stretchers slung, see if everything was shipshape, and be ready to leave in ten minutes. It was some hustle but we did it and were one of the first in line ready to start. We were called to one of the triage hospitals, which are the hospitals to which the wounded are taken from the post de cours (first line hospital, preparatory to being picked up by the ambulance drivers), which are very close to the trenches.

The hospital we went to was about eight or nine miles back of the front lines and we supposed we were to do evacuation work, that is, carry the wounded (the wounded) from there way back to a base hospital. We stopped once on our way and when we tried to crank the car again we couldn't get any results at all.

As a result almost every car in the line passed us, and when we finally discovered the trouble and got started we were fifth from the last. We finally arrived at the hospital and lined up to receive our charges. It was pretty slow going and we had a long time to wait, so we got out and walked around. It was the closest to the front I had ever been and there were lots of interesting sights.

Sky Filled With Airplanes.

There were several airplanes in the sky and the sky was filled with air. Several times we could see the French shooting at Boche planes over us and every few minutes a plane would rise from the field and soar off.

We, Doc and I, walked up to the hospital and the first tent we looked into was jammed with Boche wounded. They were a sorry, sorry sight. Men with no chins, one eye, one arm or leg, shot to pieces and covered with bloody rags. Their uniforms were torn and covered with mud and blood. It certainly was a ghastly sight. We walked on up to the rest of the buildings and looked in.

Some were filled with Boche wounded, others with French, most of them just recently brought in with the rough dressings they receive at the post de cours. They all bore it well, though, and there was very little groaning or moaning. Then we walked up to where they were loading and discharging cars. The cars were coming in with loads of from three to five wounded, in a steady stream. It was my first real glimpse of the horror of the war and it was very pitiful.

Germans Glad to Be Taken.

The cars of our section drove up and were loaded with five couches (dying wounded) each and moved off in pairs to make the drive to the base hospital, about forty kilos (twenty-five miles). By the time our turn came there were no more blesses to load so we waited. In the meantime we had seen two separate groups of German prisoners marched past. They had just been captured and seemed glad to be prisoners so they could get out of the trenches. There was an awful lot of them.

We waited and waited for our loads, but nothing happened. Meanwhile all the other cars had gone, leaving only five. Finally about 8:30 in the evening, they asked us in and gave us some supper and tea and wine in the hospital. It certainly tasted good.

Boches Bomb Hospitals!

After that we thought we would go, but they did not load us and we pulled out a couple of stretchers and some blankets and made a bed on the ground, as we thought we might be there all night. I was lying almost asleep when all of a sudden from the sky I heard the roar of an aeroplane motor, then a tremendous boom and felt the whole hospital building shake, then a great flash.

Immediately the rockets began to fly and the guns to boom and several searchlights began piercing the sky in search of the Boche plane. He had been high in the air, and had shot off his motor and coasted slightly down to a very low level, probably two or three hundred yards, then dropped his bomb, turned on his motor and was off like a shot before the place was awake.

The whole place was soon alive, the sky was filled with bursting shells, rockets, warning Roman candles and searchlights. I rushed to the building as soon as I could and crouched against the wall, as everyone else in the whole place did. We thought it was a pretty close shave, and thought probably it was a single Boche plane which had sneaked up trying to demolish the aviation camp, but it was mild to what was coming. We were all wide awake then and soon we heard another plane above.

Second Bomb Hits Hospital.

The searchlights tried to find it, but didn't seem to do any good and suddenly it swooped down, and there was a blinding flash, a tremendous roar, and again we sought cover by lying flat on our faces on the ground against a wall. The bomb threw stones and dirt all around us and as we looked up we saw it had struck one of the hospital buildings a hundred yards away.

It was an incendiary bomb and in half a minute the whole building, wooden, of course, was a roaring mass of flames. I never saw fire envelop a building so quickly in my life. The blaze lit up the whole country for a mile or more and we and the hospital were plainly visible to the attacking planes. The fire they had started made a splendid target for the planes and they proceeded to make good use of it.

There must have been a whole lot of planes. For a while all would be quiet and people started to resume their usual work, and we started out to watch the fire. Then we would hear, sometimes see, a plane in the air, the warning rockets and guns would begin to pop, and we would see the plane swoop down, a moment of deadly silence, then another terrific crash and again we would lie prone while the debris, etc., fell all around us on the buildings.

Attack Lasts Two Hours.

They kept that up for two hours at intervals of a few minutes, and we all felt that at last we were seeing some real war at first hand. Then we were called to line up our cars and receive our blesses, most of whom, if not all, had been hurt in the bombardment, and to evacuate them to another hospital fifteen miles away. We did so.

Just as our car was filled the cry went around that gas was coming from the bombs dropped. We didn't hesitate much in putting on our masks, and every one in the place did likewise. The bombs were pretty bad, but the cry of "gas" was the last straw, as it is fearful stuff, and I endured the terrible smell of the mask and the uncomfortable feeling of it with gladness and I was mighty glad we had them.

After our car was loaded with its load of wrecked bodies we had to wait for the other four cars to load. It took a good deal of time and it was nervous work sitting in the car with the engine running waiting either to go or be bombed.

On Duty Under Fire.

Finally, the order came to move and we pulled out and passed the still flaming building, past a dead horse that had been fearfully mangled, out on the road. We could still hear the planes above and every now and then a terrific explosion, or a great flash of light, according to whether the bomb was just explosive or incendiary as well.

One I saw strike a little ways off in a field and a great column of stones and dirt shot skyward. Finally, we were off and it was with a sigh of relief that we saw the glow of the fire fade in the distance and as we breathed fresh air again without our masks.

Every now and then we could see the flash of the incendiary bombs. They lit up the road for us for a couple of miles or more. Of course we drove without lights and did not find it so very difficult, either, although we had to drive very slowly. We finally arrived without further excitement at the hospital that was our destination and discharged our wounded.

Most of the cars had received their wounded at the hospital we just came from during the bombardment. One of the cars had two dead men in it when they arrived, but ours were all alive, but some had terrifying holes in them. After we had received our stretchers and blankets back we proceeded back to our old camp and arrived about 3 a. m., tired and sleepy, and no longer filled with any looking at the men in the hospital, and having no longer the rather scornful idea of the effect of the air raids.

Wounded Are Banned to Death.

This morning we heard they dropped some forty bombs. Many of the wounded in the hospital were burned to death, as they couldn't move and there was no time for the others to take them out. It was not over a minute at the most after the bomb struck, that the whole sky was a mass of flames. Our American chef, who has been in the service many months and who has seen many bombardments by aeroplanes and artillery, was there and said it was one of the worst he had ever seen, as the bombs were much worse than the heaviest shells, and there were so many of them.

He said before the whole section this noon that we stood it very well. It certainly was quite a baptism of fire, for the first time we have done any work, but I am mighty glad I was there. Wouldn't have missed it for anything.

We may be here a month now and have no more work. On the other hand, we may go out again tonight, but it is very, very unlikely that we would run into anything like that again very soon, if ever.

HOLD BOYS' RESERVE
MEETING AT SCHOOL

Isaac D. Strauss and Asa J.
Smith Urge Espousal of Cause.

"It is so tremendously necessary," declared Isaac D. Strauss, federal state representative of the United States Boys Working Reserve, at the high school yesterday, "that we increase our food supply that I am letting my own business be neglected to aid in this work. Indiana farmers must not fail the country in the crisis and the young men of the country must volunteer to aid the farmers plant the crops next year."

In view of the continued state of unresponsiveness toward the working boys for boys in Fort Wayne only a small number of boys and young men have volunteered for the war work, some wonderment has been aroused as to the cause of the disinterestedness. "It seems there is some misapprehension," continued Mr. Strauss, "about this boys' reserve. There is nothing about it that makes the volunteer open to military service. Each boy will be paid the full market value for his services and he will receive all the protection necessary. It is possible that the necessity of each boy taking the oath of allegiance is in the way and creates an impression that there is some intention to make the boy a soldier, but such is not the fact. Every man who enters the civil service of the government in any way has to take the oath of allegiance."

Five prominent local men have agreed to serve on an executive committee for the reserves. They are C. A. Whiting, George W. Davis, Rubel Weinstein, H. G. Hogan and C. R. Lane.

Asa J. Smith, of Wabash, state organizer, who addressed the meeting at the high school, explained in detail the purpose and plans of the Boys' Working Reserve. He said that as a reward for faithful service the government had prepared special bronze medals to be given to the boys and in case of special service, a bar will be added to this medal. Mr. Smith said further that working hours would be so arranged in every case that they would not interfere with school work. He said that if parents decide that it is not wise for their sons to continue in the service a written order will release them.

CARD INDEX OF ALL AMERICAN SOLDIERS
Aluminum Tag for Each Man and a Record of It in War Department.

Washington, Sept. 28.—A card index of all American soldiers at home and abroad, is to be compiled by the war department. Congress has appropriated money for the purpose in the general deficiency bill. Every man in the army, whether officer or private, will be indexed by name, and the records filed in alphabetical order for immediate reference should he appear in army orders or casualty lists.

With the description of each soldier will be given the name of his next of kin and emergency address.

The plan of giving each man a number virtually has been abandoned and it is understood that each soldier instead will be supplied with a small aluminum tag bearing his name and company. It will be worn around his neck, as at present.

Plans have been completed for the creation of a "statistical division," with a branch in Paris which will employ several hundred clerks to compile records. It will include not only men actually in the fighting corps, but civilians, war correspondents and others attached to the forces. Major J. J. Jones, of the adjutant general's department, is to head the statistical division here.

WOMAN'S SCREAM CALLS ATTENTION TO TANGLE
Eternal Complication Promises to Be Five Angled Mystery.

When Mrs. Neva Kurtz, 321 West Superior street, ran screaming from her home, Thursday night, she called up a lot of trouble for police and started a court investigation which caused Judge H. W. Kerr to scratch his head in police court Friday morning.

Al McKee, laborer, went to the home of the woman in summons to a telephone call, says the man who is charged with disorderly conduct in city court. He found Mrs. Kurtz and her two small children in the house. McKee and the woman quarreled about the relations of Mrs. Kurtz with Lewis Kurtz, railroad fireman, McKee testified.

Mrs. Kurtz was screaming from the house at 11 o'clock. Neighbors, who were alarmed by the woman's cries, called police. When officers arrived McKee was in the house attempting to care for the small children. The woman had fled into the night.

McKee was locked up. An officer was posted at the house to await the return of the woman. The patrolman waited through the long hours in vain for Mrs. Kurtz did not come back home during the night. She did not appear at the house until late Friday morning. She was at once placed under bond to appear as a witness against McKee on Monday morning.

"This woman is supposed to be married to Kurtz but I don't think she is," said McKee, Friday morning. "I have bought all her clothes for the past four years. Most folk think we are married. I take her to shows and things."

"Whose children are these at the house?" queried Judge Kerr.

"We don't know," calmly replied McKee.

"Let us try to unravel a part of this tangle on Monday," said the judge as he ordered McKee held and the fireman and Mrs. Kurtz placed under bond.

MAXWELL SAYS HE IS RESEMBLANCE VICTIM
Was Shot in the Leg Because He Was Mistaken for Another.

Charles Maxwell, local bartender, and secretary of the bartenders' union, has notified Fort Wayne friends that he was shot in the leg in Anderson, Thursday evening because he was mistaken for another man. Maxwell was only slightly hurt as the bullet entered the fleshy part of his leg and was easily extracted, it has been learned.

Maxwell was a delegate to the Indiana Federation of Labor convention at Anderson. He was on a downtown street when Weldon Neff, an Anderson teamster, shot him through the leg. Neff fled and later took a train for Elwood. He has not been captured.

For a time it was thought that Maxwell was critically hurt. Hospital examination revealed that the wound was not critical, however. Anderson police claim that Neff had quarreled with a man named Ross, whom Neff accused of being intimate with his wife, and that Neff no doubt took Maxwell for Ross as the two men resemble.

"FLYING SQUADRON" AT COLUMBIA CITY

Byron Somers Speaks There
Under Auspices of State
Council of Defense.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 28.—Over 300 people of Whitley county heard the speeches of the "flying squadron" of state council of defense orators who spoke at the Commercial club here Wednesday evening. Judge Wilkie, of Elwood, a native born German, gave his impressions of German autocracy during the first twelve years of his life spent in Germany, and Judge Egge-man, of Fort Wayne, stirred everyone with his impressive eloquence. Editor Frank I. King, of Wabash, outlined the present war conditions and stated that it matters not whether democrat or republican, Catholic or protestant, the boys will go over the top in France with elbows rubbing in the spirit of fellowship in the cause of democracy and liberty. The spokesman of the evening was Byron Somers of Fort Wayne. A message to D. V. White-leather, chairman of the Whitley county council of defense, was read, urging that farmers of the county in-crease their acreage of wheat 25 per cent and of rye 35 per cent, making the necessary acreage—wheat, 25,000 acres and rye, 3,000 acres.

Columbia City Brief Items.
In a letter to his father, Attorney Joseph H. Harrison, of this city, Lieut. Ray P. Harrison, now with the Pershing forces in France, states he is now in command of his company during the absence of his captain, who is acting major over another battalion. Lieuten-ant Harrison recently was person-ally introduced to President Poincare, ex-Premier Clemenceau and General Joffre.

Miss Gertrude E. Martin, of Decatur, Ill., graduate of James Milliken uni-versity, and instructor in summer school art at the Kansas State Normal, has begun her duties here as art in-structor in the schools, succeeding Miss Eleanor King, who has gone to Cincinnati.

The Commercial club committee which attended the agricultural street fair at Bluffton, reported favorably on the matter and will recommend that a similar fair be given for Whitley coun-ty, in this city, next year.

County Auditor Thomas A. McLaughlin announced Thursday that Whitley county's share of the auto vehicle tax distribution for the first six months of 1917 is $7,457.99, as against $5,114.41 last year. There are at present 72,792 miles of county roads, under process of completion. The above distribution was partly given over to township roads.

Attorney Frank J. Heller, grand vice chancellor of the Knights of Py-thias lodge of Indiana, left Friday to prepare for the opening of the grand lodge next Tuesday at Indianapolis, when he will be made grand chan-celor of the order in the state. Mr. Heller, who several years ago was chan-cellor-commanded of the local lodge, began official grand lodge work five years ago. He had many friends who did everything to assist him in his rise to the pinnacle of state Pythia-ism, and his future title carrier with it a handsome salary. Mr. Hel-ler's successor as grand vice chan-celor will probably be his next in rank, Charles L. Pulliam, circuit judge of Terre Haute.

Mrs. Mary Quinn, aged 30 years, sister of Mrs. Aaron Burnheimer, of Elma, and born and reared in Noble county, died at her home in Garrett, Thursday, from a complication of ail-ments. She leaves her husband and three children, Mildred, George and Willard; also two brothers and a sis-ter. The funeral occurs Saturday at Ormas.

The Whitley county conscription board has certified the following six men to the district board: Fred Keupf, Clifton Cordill, Albert H. Feuker, Simon J. Hively, John Alba Glaskev and Cudley Phillips. So far twenty-one have been certified from the last ninety-four examined, with two more cases pending.

Thursday morning at 6 o'clock at low mass occurred the marriage of Mrs. Louise Hartford, aged 48, to Martin Mindlich, 55, at the Catholic church, by Father J. F. Kohl, for whom the bride has done housekeeping for sev-eral years. The couple will reside on a farm near Larwill.

Harry Travelbee, brother of John Travelbee of this city, has arrived safely in France, according to a cable sent his father, Will Travelbee, of La-fayette. Mr. Travelbee is first lieuten-ant in the United States artillery.

DR. NEUENSCHWANDER BUYS IN SOUTH WOOD PARK.

Another of the professional men to select home sites in South Wood Park, the new south side residence devel-opment of Hilgeman & Schaaf, is Dr. Wilbur E. Neuenschwander, dentist, of 2015 Broadway. Dr. Neuenschwander property fronts on Drury Lane. It is one of the handsome wooded lots in that portion in which Dr. H. A. Duem-ing was one of the original purchas-ers. The sale of the Neuenschwander property was handled by Former City Forester Carl J. Getz, who has been a member of the Hilgeman & Schaaf sales force since his resignation from the city office.

NOT ALL WOODED LOTS HAVE BEEN SELECTED.

In answer to the inquiry as to whether the wooded property in Sec-tion B, South Wood Park, has been sold, Hilgeman & Schaaf state that a few of these choice selections remain. A photograph of one of these appears elsewhere in today's Sentinel. The number is growing gradually less, and all who wish to join this high-class community should give prompt thought to the plan.

MACHINES NARROWLY AVOID FATAL CRASH

Three Youths Unhurt When Car Does Not Turn as It Leaves Road.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 28.—Three Os-sian youths had a lucky escape Thursday afternoon when a Ford au-tomobile driven by Lee Somers left the road and plunged into a deep ditch. Somers and his two compan-ions were coming to the Bluffton fair when the accident occurred. They were going at a high rate of speed try-ing to keep ahead of a National Six, which was following. Both cars were speeding when the driver of the larger machine went around the Ford. The wheels of the National slipped on some loose gravel at the edge of the road and skidded, locking its back wheel with the front wheel of the Ford, caus-ing the latter to plunge into the ditch. The Ford did not turn over, which was a miracle considering the speed at which both cars were travelling. The driver of the National slowed up to see if anyone was hurt, but on seeing the boys crawl out of the wreckage resumed his trip.

WILL DEDICATE CHURCH.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 28.—After months of patient endeavor and effort on the part of the congregation, the Union Chapel church, located near the Wells-Jay coun-ty line, will be dedicated Sunday, Sept. 30. Plans are being made for an all day meeting to be featured at the noon hour by a big basket dinner. The church struc-ture was destroyed during the cyclone 17 years ago, and the congregation has been busy ever since raising funds to have the church rebuilt. The new build-ing is a great improvement over the old one, and a good sized vestibule at the front adds to the convenience of the church. Rev. Arlick, of Farnham, will preach both in the morning and after-noon.

TRAIN KILLS FARMER.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 28.—A farm-er by the name of Marsh, residing two miles east of Swanton, O., was killed Tuesday by New York Central passen-ger train No. 636, eastbound, according to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McDonald, of this city, who were passengers on the train. Mr. McDonald said the train was run-ning at high speed to make up time, when the fatality occurred. Marsh, who was 55 years old, stepped onto the tracks just as a freight train cleared the crossing and was in the direct path of the passenger train which struck him, badly maiming his body.

HAS EYE REMOVED.

Warren, Ind., Sept. 28.—C. H. Abess, of this place, was operated on at Hartford City for the removal of his right eye following an accident last Friday week. While working on a silo on the Wolver-ton farm, north of Hartford City, he was struck in the eye by a fragment of stone. He thought nothing of the injury at the time, but two days later the eye began to pain him and he consulted a doctor. It was found that an ulcer had formed on the tear sac. Last Sunday the eye burst and the eye was removed as the only means of saving the other eye.

VALENTINE BURNS DEAD.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 28.—Valentine Burns, well known civil war veteran, is dead at the state soldiers' home at La-fayette. Mr. Burns was of advanced age and death came from a complication of causes and his old age. Surviving besides the wife are several children and a step-daughter here, Mrs. Nora Hedges. Mr. Burns was a member of the G. A. R. post here and only went to the soldiers' home about a month ago. The body will be brought here for burial, arriving tomor-row morning. The funeral will probably be held Saturday.

GO INTO A DITCH.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 28.—About 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening A. L. Eyerl was driving out of town on Lake street and after he had crossed the old river bridge he was blinded by the lights from another auto coming south, and in trying to make room for the other car, he and the car that he was driv-ing went over the embankment. The car turned over with Eyerl underneath. He was unhurt but the top of the car was torn off.

PIERCETON MAN HURT.

Piercetown, Ind., Sept. 28.—Alva South, who is employed as lineman of the Piercetown Telephone Co., was slightly injured on Wednesday while working on a pole near the John May-nard home north of town. The pole broke and fell over with him, alight-ing on his feet. Drs. Long and Leedy attended him. He was brought to his home here.

WILL BE ASSISTANT.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 28.—Warren Otis, who is a senior in chemical engineering in the University of Mich-igan, returned to that institution Thurs-day afternoon to resume his work for the coming year. He has an appoint-ment as assistant in the laboratory for the year, necessitating his return a few days earlier than the formal open-ing which takes place next week.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Stroh, Ind., Sept. 28.—Roy Shrock and William Cox narrowly escaped death when they fell a distance of fifty feet from the peak of a barn. Cox suffered a dislocated arm and a frac-tured leg, while Shrock received a badly sprained leg. The men were engaged in tarring the roof of the barn on the Dr. H. E. Penning farm, about four miles east of here, when the acci-dent occurred.

WARNS PIE-HUNTERS.

Nankin, Sept. 28.—Before leaving Nankin for Peking, Acting President Feng Kuo-Chang addressed a cir-cular letter to all probable place-hunters among his followers, warning them that they should not go to Peking in

FARM HOME BURNS.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 28.—The farm home of James O'Connell, five miles east of here, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday. A defective flue is believed to have been the cause.

According to recent dispatches from Berlin, German men both on and off the firing line are wearing shirts made of paper and wood pulp, owing to the scarcity of cloth. This will probably be hailed as something new, and as further showing the ingenuity of the Germans under stress of necessity. But, as in many other instances, the Yankee inventor was first in the field.

Thomas Edison thought of the paper shirt about twenty-five years ago and put it on the market. It failed to be-come popular and soon passed out of use. There is one difference between the American and German product. The American paper shirt was intended to be worn until soiled and then thrown away. The German sends his to the laundry, and, though it gener-ally returns to him a shapeless, sod-den mass, he must do it again, for "shirt cards" are extremely scarce.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. F. B. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 30

THE GOODNESS AND SEVERITY OF GOD.

(Review.)
LESSON TEXT—Daniel 9:3-19.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.—Psalm 103.

A profitable way to spend the hour would be to make a study of Daniel's prayer as recorded in the lesson assigned for our reading today, and have the lessons of the quarter as illustrations of the goodness and severity of God. Announcement of the plan may be made the Sunday before, and the different lessons of the quarter assigned to different members of the class to tell how they bear upon the topic of the lesson for this week. A broad analysis of Daniel's prayer is as follows:

I. Confession of the Nation's Sins (vv. 3-15). The circumstances of this prayer were extraordinary. The crisis was so serious that Daniel sought after prayer to the Lord with fasting, sackcloth and ashes. In his confession the people's sins are placed in contrast with God's righteousness. He acknowledges that their sorrows and sufferings justly belong to them. Daniel, the holy man against whom there is no record of wrongdoing, includes himself with his people.

II. Supplication for Mercy and Forgiveness (vv. 16-19). He pleads for God's anger and fury to turn away, and his remembrance of the Holy City and his chosen people. The Lord's honor was at stake. He confesses that Israel had no merit, were utterly destitute of righteousness, and pleads consideration on the ground of covenant relationship.

Another way to conduct the review would be to ask different members of the class to report on the different lessons by giving the vital and central teaching of each. The following are suggested as vital teachings of the several lessons:

Lesson 1. God is absolutely holy, therefore those who have been sanctified by fire from the heavenly altar are qualified for his service.

Lesson 2. He who turns away from the Lord shall be judged by the Lord.

Lesson 3. In Hezekiah's reformatory work the Passover Feast was restored, showing that the only way to get people to return to God is to gather them around the Cross of Christ—the Atonement by Blood.

Lesson 4. Though our unfaithfulness and cowardice have shamefully humiliated us, we should turn to God in prayer.

Lesson 5. God's gracious invitation is extended to all without money and without price.

Lesson 6. No matter how wicked one may have been in his apostasy from God, if he sincerely repents, God will be found of him.

Lesson 7. Regardless of one's age and experience, God can use him in doing mighty work if he will but open his heart unto him.

Lesson 8. The Word of God found and read will mightily convict of sin, and transform one's life and environment.

Lesson 9. God's predictions as to the captivity of Israel were fulfilled to the letter. Nothing shall fail of that which God has said he will do.

Lesson 10. Jehovah is the shepherd of captive Israel, and will surely gather them out from their wanderings and save them.

Lesson 11. One should be unflinchingly loyal to God under all circumstances.

Lessons 12 and 13. God is able to deliver those who trust him, from fire and from wild beasts.

When God Probes.

God loves us too much to let what would hurt us stay with us. So, because of this love, he himself is willing to hurt us in order to save us from the greater hurt. Probing is done in order to get rid of something that would injure. And so, as Prebendary Webster has said: "Do not be afraid of God's probing. He never wounds except to heal. He never humbles except to exalt. Do let God deal with you; do not be afraid of his probing." Most of us have been afraid of it; we may be dreading it just now. We shall not fear if we remember what kind of love is back of it; that all-sacrificing love that died for us on the cross. So we can safely, gladly let ourselves go utterly into his hands and ask those all-piercing hands to do with us what they will. Then he can begin to show us his love as we may never yet have known the meaning of love.—Sunday School Times.

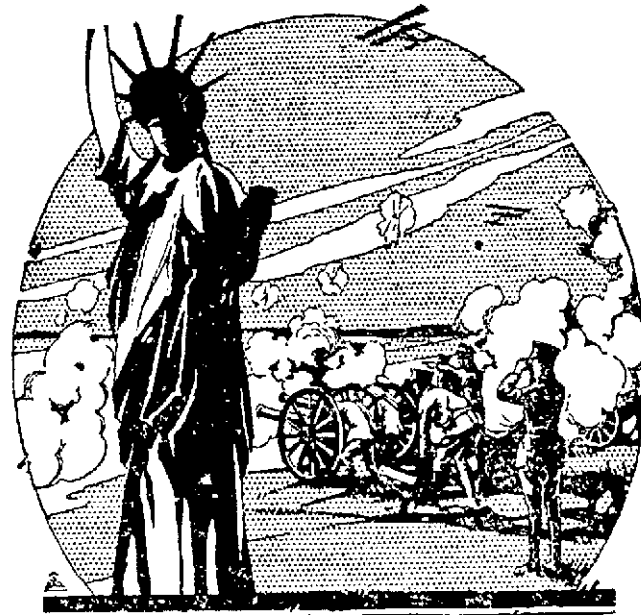

Need to Catch Vision of God.
When we are content to live on the lower levels of life it is because we haven't caught the vision of God.—L. K. Smith.

Martyrdom Sublime.
Christianity has made martyrdom sublime and sorrow triumphant.—E. H. Caplan.

The Mother's Influence.
There never yet was a mother who taught her child to be an infidel.—Henry W. Shaw.

Bilious Headache.

All that is needed is to correct the biliousness and the headache disappears. Take Chamberlain's Tablets and you will soon be as well as ever. In fact you should take a full dose of these tablets as soon as you feel the first symptoms of an approaching attack.—Advertisement

Credit Is Fighting Liberty's Battles Abroad

There is not enough actual cash in circulation throughout the entire world to finance the great struggle for universal liberty which is being waged in Europe. Without the extension of credit to the nations engaged in warfare civilization would be trampled into the dust.

When the great nations of the world look upon credit with favor certainly the individual has every reason to feel the same way towards the system that enables him to supply the comforts of home which are his privilege and do so at his own convenience.

Let us explain our credit system to you in detail.

Considering the amount of coal it consumes, this Howard Heater, beyond a doubt, gives more heat than any other base burner manufactured. There are hundreds of these Howard Base Burners in use in Fort Wayne and every one who has ever used one, feels that he cannot be too strong in their praise. It is economical in fuel, holds fire as long as you would want it to, and throws its heat in every direction.

GREEKS LOOKED FOR AN AMERICAN FLEET

Come Over to Support
King Constantine.

Athens, Aug. 26.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The proclamation of martial law, which is now in force by royal decree, has been adopted by the government as a means of dealing with the elements which continue to agitate in behalf of the old regime of King Constantine. It is a drastic measure, suspending the constitutional guarantees of free speech, speedy trial and placing the capital and the section of southern Greece, comprised in Attica and Boeotia, in a state of siege, and giving to the military instead of the civil authorities the safeguarding of public order.

On the abdication of Constantine most of his ministers and chief officers were exiled or deprived of their functions. But it was impossible to make a clean sweep of all those friendly to the old regime, and many of the leaders, including prominent military men, remain at Athens. It is said they hold meetings at two points, one at Kaphissia, a suburb, and the other at Athens, where plots are hatched and the eventual return of Constantine is looked forward to. While the new administration has a firm hold of affairs, and is in complete accord with the entente allies, yet the entente officials feel there is still a danger in the old military element which continues to agitate with the public, and is even said to have some of its representatives in the entourage of the new king.

Martial law is expected to reach these military plotters. It is also expected to put a stop to the flood of sensational rumor which keeps the ignorant classes and the peasantry in a continual state of unrest, with the evident purpose of making them believe that a German victory and the return of Constantine are near at hand. Some of these reports were of the fall of Verdun, the flight of the French government from Paris, and a separate peace by Russia. The government and the allied diplomats are satisfied that all this is part of a systematic campaign by which the central powers are operating through the element favorable to the late king.

An American official closely in touch with recent events tells how a report circulated, that an American fleet was coming to support King Constantine. This report was widely believed and had been printed as a fact in the local press. One of the king's household met the American minister, Mr. Droppers, and said:

"At last we are to have the American fleet."

"Indeed," said the American minister, "when is it coming?"

"Very soon," it has passed Gibraltar; we have telegrams from that point."

"I am sorry to differ with you," said the minister, "but I don't believe the fleet is coming."

"Why not," demanded the royal official.

"Because," said the minister, "if an American fleet is sent to Greece the American minister will be one of the first to know it."

This put an end to the report that the fleet was coming, and it brought about considerable coolness toward the American authorities. It is this sort of rumor, for political effect, that martial law will seek to stop.

The rigors of this martial law are indicated by the rules issued by the commanding general of the Athens district. One of the prohibitions he lays down is as follows:

"The communication in any public manner, by expose, opinion, or information, of anything likely to increase in the eyes of the people the force of the enemy, or to diminish our force or that of our allies, or which will attribute too much importance to the dangers of the war and the losses it involves, or inspires fear or uncertainty among the people or in the army, or doubt upon a favorable issue of the war, or upon its efficacy, or upon the necessity to consent to all sacrifices in view of this issue."

Another prohibition is against expressing any "hope or tendency in favor of the reversal of the present regime." This sweeping measure puts an end to any open plottings by the old regime, but it remains to be seen to what extent they can carry on their work in secret.

Skin Without Wrinkles
Now Easy to Have

There's no excuse for any woman having wrinkles now. It has been found that a simple mixture of sassafras and witch hazel has a remarkable action upon the deeper wrinkles, no matter what their nature, whether caused by worry, habitual frowning, a debilitated condition or the ravages of Father Time. This harmless remedy, which anyone can easily make and use at home, acts both as an astringent and a tonic. The combined effect of tightening the skin and brightening its vitality is to immediately affect every line and wrinkle, keeping the cuticle smooth and firm as in youth.

The proportions are one ounce sassafras (powdered) to one-half pint witch hazel, ingredients which are found in every drug store. The solution should be used as a wash lotion. It is equally effective in ridding of flabbiness of cheek and neck, as well as sagging below the eye. Admiration.

FINDING PLACE FOR LABORERS OF INDIA

Them to West Indies
and to Fiji.

London, Sept. 19.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—A plan for encouraging the emigration of native laborers from India to British Guiana, Trinidad, Jamaica and Fiji, announced by the British government, is expected to result in the permanent settlement of many thousand East Indians in each of these four colonies, three of which are close enough to the Atlantic seaboard of the United States to make the project of neighborly interest to the American people.

The object is to provide a fair substitute for the abolished system of indentured or contract East Indian labor. In some countries to which Indians used to go under the indenture system, their coming led, as it was bound to lead in the end, to serious trouble. They were white communities, which wanted the labor of the East Indian but did not want him as a settler.

It is claimed that there was and is no question of that kind in the case of the four Crown colonies selected as areas for the new settlement scheme. They each possess already large and prosperous Indian communities. Their industry is tropical and depends on Asiatic labor, which they have been accustomed to obtain from India without any sense of grievance on either side.

Laborers who enlist under the new plan will serve a probationary period of three years' employment in their new homeland, before being invited to become landholders. During this probationary period of employment under government supervision, they will be trained and fitted for the new conditions of life, at the same time affording the colony the benefit of their labor.

On first arrival the immigrant will undertake work for a period of six months under selected employers. He will then be free to move from one employer to another a month's notice, being encouraged to work for the ensuing two and a half years in agricultural industries by the offer of numerous benefits, subsequently as a colonist. At no time will he be under any indenture or contract, the relation between him and his employer being exactly the same as that prevailing in the colony between any employer and employee.

For the protection of the immigrants, the government will decide who may or may not employ them. A fair minimum wage will be fixed, and will be revised every five years on the basis of changes in the cost of living.

As soon as the worker has completed three years' employment, he will have the choice of returning to India or becoming a permanent settler. If he chooses the latter the land will be put at his disposal by the colonial government.

The emigration from India of whole families will be encouraged as far as possible, particularly of families containing young unmarried girls who may become in the colonies the wives of other immigrants. Women unaccompanied by their families will not be assisted.

MEXICO TO FIGHT SMUGGLERS.

Mexico City, Sept. 23.—Word has been received here from General Salvador Alvarado, in charge of military operation throughout Chiapas, Campeche, Yucatan and the states of the south that he would draw a close cordon of troops along the border between Chiapas and Guatemala in order to prevent any supplies or munitions reaching the rebels in Chiapas from Guatemala. The country along the border is wild and not densely populated, and it is said munitions have been smuggled into Mexico without the knowledge of the Guatemalan authorities. The presence of the strong cordon along the border also has served to quiet apprehension of German activities along the frontier, fostered by German coffee planters.

THE MARKETS

MUCH HAY WEIGHED AT THE CITY SCALES

Fifteen Loads of Oats Are Received, But Only Three of Corn.

Hay receipts were rather heavy at the city scales Friday, twenty-two loads being weighed, bringing from $18 to $18 a ton. There also were fifteen loads of oats, with the price at 59¢ 65c, and but three loads of corn, with the price at 1.30.

Peaches are retailing at 23¢ a bushel, but lower prices are predicted. Tomato prices are said to be holding steady because of the heavy demand made on the market by canning factories. Dealers say that without this demand tomatoes would be selling at 50¢ to 60¢ a bushel.

STATE BOULEVARD IS TO BE EXTENDED
Every Item in the $60,000
Program Passes the Board of Works.

Among the numbers on the $60,000 improvement program of the board of public works, Thursday evening, was the passage of a resolution for extending State boulevard, from Spy Run avenue, over the old feeder canal, to Clinton street. Movement for extending the drive has been under way for several months. Objections were always raised to the extension plan because of the expense of filling in the canal.

The boulevard extension was the only item on the lengthy session of the works board to meet organized opposition. There were built a dozen citizens who remonstrated in person to the proposed improvement. They asked that the extension be delayed until after the war. The resolution was passed over the head of the objectors and work of extending the boulevard will start soon.

A delegation of Florida drive residents, in Forest Park, appeared before the board and asked the installation of a boulevard lighting system for the drive way. Their petition was granted with the understanding that the property owners pay additional costs for more posts than are installed by the city.

The board approved the plat for the new Joseph Tomkinson addition in the south side. An assessment roll was adopted for building a sewer in the alley between Oliver street and Bowser avenue, from Grier to Eckart.

Bids were received for the paving of several alleys. Those for concrete were a little above $2 and for brick about $3. Concrete was specified, but property owners may have this changed within ten days. The alleys for which bids were received were: First west of Indiana avenue, from Kinnaird avenue to the alley south; between Wildwood and Kinnaird avenues, from South Wayne to Indiana avenue; first east of Fairfield from Kinnaird avenue to the first alley north between Jefferson and Madison from Lafayette to Monroe; first west of Wells from Putnam to Archer.

The board also adopted resolutions for construction of sewers in the alley between Wagner street and Prospect avenue, from the alley east of Spy Run avenue to the St. Joseph river; in the alley between Elizabeth and Kamm streets, from the main sewer to the alley east of Spy Run avenue; in the alley east of Spy Run avenue, from Elizabeth to Clinton streets; in the alley between Barr and Lafayette street, from Elizabeth to Kamm; in the alley between Randolph street and State boulevard, from the alley west of Spy Run avenue to the alley west of Clinton street; in the alley west of Clinton street from the alley north of Spy Run creek to the north line of Jacobs' third addition, and in the alley east of Clinton street, from the alley north of Spy Run creek to the alley south of Spy Run avenue.

Assessment rolls of benefits and damages were allowed for the following improvements: Vacating Welser Park avenue from Eckhart street to Welser park; vacating the street along the north side of Jacobs' third addition; widening Richardson street at its intersection with Osgood street, and opening of Shady court from Burnett avenue to Oakdale drive.

Improvement resolutions were confirmed for the building of sidewalks on the east side of Piqua avenue from the alley south of Wildwood avenue to Packard avenue, and on both sides of Fairmount place, from Wells street to P. A. Randall's sub-division.

HARVARD SQUAD SMALL.

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 28.—Only twenty candidates reported for Harvard's "informal" variety football team when fall practice began yesterday. In other years from sixty to eighty men have come out on the first call.

WORKING TO MAKE CITY GARDEN FAIR SUCCESS

Allen County Farmers Are Urged to Hear
Vrooman.

The necessity of bringing home to the farmer and city producers the necessity of increasing crops next year and the conservation of all available products has impelled the local committee on food relief, headed by Frank Hilgenann, to more strenuous efforts in making the city garden fair Oct. 3 at the baseball park a big success. The address of Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of the department of agriculture at Washington, should be of great benefit to farmers and gardeners, it is pointed out. In addition, the speech scheduled by ex-Congressman Moss should attract many.

received yesterday from the chairman of the state council of defense, by William H. Scheiman, chairman of the Allen county patriotic council, which reads as follows:

"United States department of agriculture and the national food administration urgently request Indiana farmers to increase acreage of wheat 20 per cent and of rye 30 per cent. The necessary increase in your county is estimated at 6,000 acres. These crops are absolutely necessary to meet food demand. As only a few days remain for seeding, every agency in your county should be used, and the county agent, the food production committee, farmers' institutes, grain dealers and millers and use papers and other agencies to secure largest possible acreage. We urge immediate action and request an early report."

Mr. Scheiman declared that nothing is as important in days of war than an ample supply of food next year for the allies, in a statement today. He said further that it was necessary for American farmers to rise to the relief of their country in the time of emergency.

While the exhibits at the city garden fair will be limited to products grown in Fort Wayne city lots, farmers over the entire county are being urged to attend. All persons who intend to enter the exhibits in the city garden fair can obtain information by calling M. Costello at the headquarters of the food relief committee on Barr street, phone 2800.

SHERMAN'S STORES RAISE PRICES ON MEN'S CLOTHING

Tomorrow is the last day in which you can buy Sherman's clothes at the old price of $10. Many people have taken advantage of the old price this week and bought two or three suits. In fact the amount of people taking advantage of the time limit is so overwhelming that the store is unable to come to the local store that it was impossible to wait upon them at times.

The raise in price was found imperative as the government has taken over the entire supply of wool to furnish the troops with the necessary clothing.

The Sherman's stores are located throughout the middle west and the raise in price effects every store. The present price of $10 will be in effect until Saturday night and when the doors open for business Monday morning every suit and overcoat will be marked $12.50.

HAD STOLEN $200
WORTH OF GOODS

Telford Craddock, Colored
Elevator Boy, Makes Confession in Court.

A trunk full of silk shirts, waists, sweaters, ties, silverware and other jewelry opened in police court, Friday morning, bears mute evidence of the culminating power of "little by little and bit by bit."

Telford Craddock, colored, formerly elevator boy at the Tepper store, on East Berry street, admitted that he had gathered the goods, valued at $200, by the patient process of removing an article at a time from the store by putting the piece of goods under his coat when he left the store on an evening.

Police claim that Preston Lyons, colored, former porter in the Tepper store, was an accessory to the theft. Officers produced a signed statement which Craddock admitted that he had sworn to on Thursday evening and which told that Lyons had helped steal the property.

Craddock testified that he had signed the statement under the influence of Chief of Police Lenz and Detective Sergeant Walter Immel, who Craddock testified had told him that he would get off light if he involved somebody else in the case. The officers deny making such a statement and declare that outside influence has been brought to bear upon Craddock since he made a full confession.

Lyons stoutly denies a part in the theft. Both the colored men were bound to the circuit court under $500 bond.

Craddock was arrested in Chicago Thursday, after Detective Sergeant Walter Immel had located him in that city and had wired officers to capture him. Craddock had tried to sell the goods, officers state. On the way back to Fort Wayne the negro divulged evidence which caused Lyons, a married man, living on Bureki street, to be arrested.

THE TERRIBLE TRUTH ABOUT BLOODY SUNDAY IN RUSSIA

Russell and Duncan and the Rest of the American Commission Refused to "Run for Their Lives," and Saw the Simply Awful Spectacle of Democracy in Song, Speech and Parade.

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.
I was telling you, if you remember, of these Russian scare stories and wild-eyed fakes about impending disaster, how easily they are made, and what they amount to.
About 8 o'clock on the morning of Saturday, June 30, hysteria was doing a pretty lively business around the Winter Palace.
The next day was to be the grand open sweepstakes free-for-all demonstration for all the nation, and ruin and devastation were to mark its awful course. Five hundred thousand or a million or two million low common persons were to parade the streets first, blow up the Winter Palace next, and then with curses fling our mangled remains into the Neva. Various gentlemen of the English-speaking colony ran about in a state of uncontrollable emotion. A special train was hastily provided for the commission to take us into Finland and safety over Sunday, and we were told to be ready to depart that evening at 5 o'clock.

"You can't tell what might happen," was the favorite wisdom of the excited ones. "With all these violent persons let loose and armed there will certainly be scenes of terrible slaughter and your only safety is to get out of the city until the rioting has ceased."
If any of us protested or said that perhaps not quite everybody in Petrograd that day was to be put to death he was told with pitying condescension that he knew nothing about Russia.
"We that have lived here so many years or all our lives or some other interesting period, we know Russia, and we tell you that it is absolutely dangerous for you to be in Petrograd. You can't tell what might happen."
Jim Duncan, who is about as subject to scares as a wooden Indian is to chills, remarked that so far as he was concerned if he went out of Petrograd that day it would be best first. He said that if there was going to be any fireworks he wanted to see them, because he hadn't seen any in a long time that were really good, and fireworks were his fancy. Also he said that if the working people of Russia were of the kind that riots, ruins and revels in bloodshed, he has sized them up all wrong, and ought to stand by and take notes on his mistake so that he shouldn't make it again. Also he said that in the course of his interesting visit to Russia he hadn't noticed the hysteria stunt were world beaters as infallible guides about Russian affairs, and if they said he was about to have his throat cut he would take his chances that they had the wrong dope.
Anyway, it was NIX on that special train, and gents from the English-speaking colony lamented all day our foolhardiness and consigned us to an early and unmarked grave. When evening came they returned to the charge with triumphant vigor, certain now that they should be able to save our lives in spite of ourselves. Conclusive evidence had been discovered that the terrible Bolsheviks planned to attack the palace and destroy us. The evidence was in the hands of the government, which was convinced that we had better get out of the city. The special train had been re-engaged and would leave at midnight from the Finland station. Pack up your hand baggage in a hurry and get down to the station lest the bloodthirsty Bolsheviks discover they are about to be cheated of their prey and begin the massacre tonight.
Jim and I had a speaking engagement that night to address 6,000 soldiers at a big Coney Island kind of a place outside the city, so we missed a lot of this show, but those that got the whole of it told me afterward it was fine, and the excited persons that always go around seeing visions of wholesale murder and Russia sunk in a sea of disorder, did a great turn and well worth the price of admission.
We got back from our speaking stunt about 3 a. m. and turned out at 8 to see the horrible outrages begin. A vast army of people was already moving down the Nevsky Prospekt accompanied with bands. I never saw so many bands in any one place, and didn't know there were so many in all Petrograd, but the explanation of the mystery was simple. They were the regimental bands of the garrison and the nearby troops. As soon as they heard about the demonstration they volunteered to furnish the music, and certainly did a good job.
There was one fact about these bands that struck me first as remarkable and then as very significant.
They played only two tunes.
Behind them marched in broad, straight rows men, women and children. From early morning until 2 p. m. they marched up one street and down another until they came to the great Field of Mars, the old parade ground of the troops, and present colonel Speech Vent of Petrograd.
Between the playing of the bands they relieved their souls by singing. Also by carrying banners expressive of their varying emotions. "Let the council be supreme" was the favorite. Next, some called for the elimination from the ministry of the ministers that were not socialists. Some denounced the capitalists of the world, some demanded that all the warring nations should lay down their arms, some demanded the vigorous prosecution of the war.

All of the banners were red and white except the banners in the tiny anarchist section. They were black.
Six hours they marched like this. There was not a disturbance, not a sign of riot, not an altercation, not a row. No blood was shed and no shots fired. Except in the songs and an occasional cheer, there was no voice raised.
When they reached the Field of Mars they piled up their banners on the graves of the men and women that fell in the revolution, broke up into groups and listened to oratory until 4 p. m. Then they went home.
It is true that at one stage of the proceedings a very large detachment made a move toward the winter palace, where the American commission was quartered.
They came to cheer the "Americans" until they were hoarse, and to serenade us with their fine bands and to return our acknowledgments by waving their caps in the air and shouting their cheerful salutations.
A group stopped Ambassador Francis in his carriage in a side street and cheered him until he stood up and made them a cracking good speech and then they cheered him some more.
So ended this terrible day of riot and bloodshed. There wasn't even an arrest, and the nearest approach to any fireworks that Jim Duncan got a lighted my cigar. Jim doesn't smoke, that being the only blot upon his otherwise excellent character.
But about those two tunes the bands played all day.
One was the "Marseillaise" and the other was the "International." That was all. First the "Marseillaise," then the "International," then the "Marseillaise," then the "International." And when the bands let up the people sang them, first the "Marseillaise," then the "International," then the "Marseillaise," then the "International."
Some day, wasn't it? Nobody had his throat cut or was slaughtered in his bed. But we came just as near to such things as Russia has to a thousand other disasters the hectic ones have been equally sure of.

DISAGREE OVER PLACE TO HOLD CITY FAIR

Mayor Wants Exhibits at Market and Hilgeman Favors Ball Park.

Word has not yet been received by Chairman Frank Hilgeman from either Congressman Moss or Dr. H. E. Barnard, state chemist, as to whether they will be able to appear for the City Garden Fair, October 3. Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, has telegraphed his acceptance of the invitation to speak.
A controversy has arisen between Chairman Hilgeman and Mayor Hoesy over the best place for holding the City Garden Fair. Hilgeman declares that the place for the fair to be held is at the ball park because of the advantages in seating the large number of people who are expected to be present, while the mayor says that the city market is the logical place for holding the fair. Hilgeman in a statement Friday declared that the more people could hear the speakers and because of the excellent acoustics arrangement hear them better at the ball park than at the city market, and he said that further that rain could not interfere with arrangements at the ball park. Mayor Hoesy is of the opinion that the fair could be held at the city market with less expense and persons could would not have so far to go to attend.

MARTYRED SINN FEIN LEADER STIRS WRATH

Medical Experts Say Ashe Did Not Die of Starvation in Prison.

London, Sept. 28.—The death in Dublin on Wednesday of Thomas Ashe, a Sinn Fein leader, reported to have been due to voluntary starvation, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Dublin, has accentuated painfully the difficulties underlying the surface of Irish politics and Sinn Fein opinion is inflamed seriously.
Ashe's body, dressed in the uniform of the Irish volunteers, lies in state in a Dublin hospital and there may be a public funeral on Sunday.
It is said that other Sinn Fein leaders in the hospital prison, where Ashe died, are in a dangerous condition. At the inquest Thursday into the death of Ashe, Professor McMeeney testified that the postmortem examination at which several other doctors were present, showed that Ashe did not die of hunger.
The body was not emaciated and there was an abundance of food in the stomach. Death, he said, was due to syncope, arising partly from heart trouble and partly from an intense congestion of the lungs. Ashe's heart, he added, was abnormal and he would be apt to succumb to any sudden shock or prolonged struggle.
Dr. McKenna, a hospital surgeon, testified that Ashe told him after he had been fed forcibly on Tuesday that he had collapsed from a fit of coughing.

DISLIKE PRINCIPLE OF IT IN ANY FORM

House Fighting New Cen- sorship the Postoffice Department Asks.

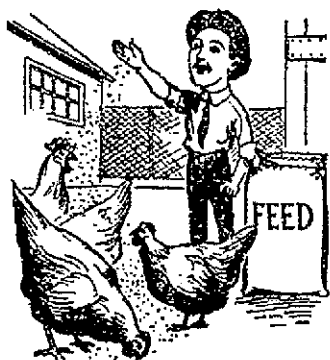

By GILSON GARDNER.
(Staff Special.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 27.—A military censorship, with power to suppress newspapers, is again before congress. A paragraph in the "trading with the enemy" bill now in conference, it is claimed, would give the postmaster general power to suppress any publication voicing sentiment he disapproved.
The paragraph was sent to the conferees by the postoffice department solicitor and by them incorporated in the law. But when the conference report came to the house Friday, September 21, it was objected to by half a dozen members and went over under the rule.
The new legislation proposes that, after any publication has been deprived of its second-class mailing privileges under a postoffice interpretation of the espionage act, it shall be unlawful to circulate the publication in any other fashion. The wording is: "Nor to transport, carry or otherwise publish or distribute any matter which is made non-mailable by the provisions of the act relating to espionage approved June 15, 1917."
Under the above act the postoffice department, through Solicitor Lamar, has suppressed a dozen publications, including Max Eastman's The Masses. The department holds up the papers as non-mailable and then withdraws the second-class mailing privileges on the ground that they are not mailed "regularly."
The proposed new legislation would make it unlawful to circulate publications under the postoffice department ban, either by freight, express or carrier. So, practically they would be closed up and confiscated.
As there is no appeal from the postmaster general's ruling the courts could give no aid.
Objecting members of congress say such a censorship would be intolerable. Congress refused to pass a censor bill even when it safeguarded the freedom to criticize or express opinion, and provided ample appeals against arbitrary or bureaucratic rulings. These members say this amendment seeks surreptitiously to create a censorship more drastic and tyrannical than any hitherto proposed.

tax-rates, while the 3 1/2 per cent issue is exempt. The effect of this will be that holders of large amounts will be able to keep their tax exempt bonds although they bear a lower rate, while the smaller holders, who have not enough to come under the new surtaxes, will convert their bonds to the higher rate.

SEES OVER-SUBSCRIPTION.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 28.—Vast over-subscription of the three billion dollar second liberty loan was confidently predicted by Secretary McAdoo in an address here today before the American Bankers' association calling upon the bankers to give the same patriotic support to the new bond issue that they gave to the first.

"It has been urged upon me," said the secretary, "that many men of wealth will refuse to buy the 4 per cent bonds with liability to super-income taxation. I should be loath to believe this; but if it is true, the position of the government must always be to offer a bond upon terms fair and equitable to all alike, and which will make the widest possible appeal to the people without regard to the fact that a man may be rich or poor."

It has been suggested to me that patriotism should play no part in the sale of government bonds. I do not concede this, although I believe the American people will buy these four per cent government bonds on the basis of patriotism first, love of country above everything—above life itself; second, love of country, combined with vital interest in the nation's welfare and safety, which will make secure the material interests of each individual and promote his happiness and prosperity.

If this be true, the man of wealth, with patriotism or modified patriotism, or without patriotism, has a greater stake in the security of the government than any other class, because if the government's credit is destroyed and disaster comes upon the country, as it inevitably will if the government's credit fails, what is property worth to the rich man, what is life worth to the free man?

Great Job Ahead.

Emphasizing the tremendous financial tax ahead of the nation Mr. McAdoo pointed out that it would be necessary to raise between thirteen and fourteen billion dollars by additional bond issues before June 30, 1918. This will not be easy, he said, but it can be done by everybody, banker, business man and men and women in every walk of life joining hands to see it through.

"Fortunately," he added, "the resources of America were never so ample for ourselves and so formidable for our enemies as now. The combined resources of the national and state banks (including trust companies) of the United States are now $7,000,000,000. At the outbreak of the war the combined resources of the banks were estimated to be $1,500,000,000, and yet with these limited banking resources the union government raised $3,000,000,000 by bond sales, or twice the amount of the banking resources of the country."

"Upon the same basis we should be able to raise $74,000,000,000 through government loans. I am not suggesting that this may be done; I am only drawing a comparison."

The secretary briefly reviewed the causes for America's entry into the war, declaring this could not be done too often, because of the efforts of noisier agitators and disloyal writers to confuse the issue. Much of this propaganda, he said, probably had been carried on with money left behind for the purpose by von Bernstorff, "the adroit and malevolent German ambassador."

Thousands of these men, unrestrained because the United States is not at war with Austria, Federal investigators have found, have been free to carry on whatever activities were planned.

OFFICIALS ARE SILENT.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Federal officials in Chicago today continued their policy of silence on the activities of the grand jury investigating the I. W. W. charges.

There was early no hint of when indictments would be returned in court or whether they might not be presented in chambers with an accompanying secrecy that would prevent publication of names of persons indicted until after arrests had been made. There has been activity in the federal building here for weeks, both preceding and following the spectacular nation-wide raids on I. W. W. quarters.

THE CONGRESS OF DEMOCRACY

of the refusal of the soldiers' and workmen's delegates at Helsinki to oppose the reopening of the Finnish diet, although the government had forbidden it the Bolsheviks burst into loud cheers.

"Cheer, my friends, if you will," said M. Kerensky, when he was able to make himself heard, "but bear in mind that a German fleet is moving up the Baltic."

MUST SAVE REVOLUTION.

Petrograd, Sept. 28.—The democratic congress held its first session this evening in the municipal theater, about twelve delegates from all parts of Russia being in attendance. All the members of the provisional government, headed by Premier Kerensky, were present. Several members of the diplomatic corps occupied a special box. N. O. Tchaidze, president of the council of soldiers' and workmen's delegates, said that the moment had arrived for democracy to gather all its political wisdom to save the conquests of the revolution, which were threatened with irreparable catastrophe if not safeguarded.

The boilermakers' union was one of the four organizations affiliated with the iron trades council that voted against acceptance of the temporary agreement. The boilermakers face suspension from the iron trades council for their action, it was announced today. Two years ago they were expelled from the council for a similar act, but later were readmitted to membership.

any of the various efforts made to bring about a peace conference.

NO PEACE YET.

London, Sept. 28.—Viscount Milner, minister without portfolio in the British war council, speaking today at the American luncheon club, declared against any peace with the "unrepentant German rulers."

Touching on the entry of the United States into the war and the moral significance, Lord Milner evoked a tremendous outburst from those at the luncheon when he said: "I feel that your country and mine are now united by something far stronger than any written pact or alliance, namely, by an absolute unity of motive and aim."

FIGHT REICHTAG PEACE PLAN.

Copenhagen, Sept. 28.—Charges that certain government authorities are supporting the pan-German and conservative forces in the agitation to reverse the reichstag majority, peace resolution and commit Germany to peace, the so-called "Hindenburg peace," may be made the subject of an interpellation at the present session of the reichstag.

Berlin newspapers which arrived tonight after a three day interruption, indicate that the interpellation was discussed at a meeting of the steering committee of the reichstag on Wednesday. It was decided to postpone action in order to give Chancellor Michaelis and his aides an opportunity to make certain explanations. This Philip Scheidemann, the socialist leader, explained would allow the committee to determine the form which the interpellation should take, but it will not head off a big debate on the subject. Georg Ledebour, the radical socialist, made a vain attempt to set the debate for today.

JUSTIFIES TURKEY'S WAR STEP.

Amsterdam, Sept. 28.—Turkey's entry into the war was justified by Talat Bey, the grand vizier, in a speech closing the congress of the party of union and progress, according to a dispatch from Constantinople. He defended the Turkish treatment of the Armenians, but admitted that the deportations could not be carried out by regular forces because the government and order could not be maintained.

Irregularities in connection with the deportations had been investigated, he said, and the guilty parties had been punished severely, some with death.

Referring to the pope's peace note Talat Bey declared that Turkey adhered to the principle of arbitration. Regarding disarmament he said: "We shall oppose no solution which is compatible with our vital interest."

He concluded by saying that no one could say when peace would come, but it was obvious that the end was approaching.

SUICIDE AT CAMP TAYLOR

The deceased was a member of the Sixty-seventh company a Fort Wayne organization. He was the first man to be called up in the draft from Geneva and had been regarded as being in good health by those who knew and unopposed to serving in the army by those who knew him. Before coming here was a laborer at Geneva, having been employed in several places shortly before being called into service. He is said to have relatives in Fort Wayne.

The only Coffelt listed in the city directory is Percy Coffelt, 227 Montclair street, a barber, who could not be reached.

Washington, Sept. 28.—With a reward of fifty dollars for the delivery of each deserter the provost marshal general's office today began a drive to round up at once all drafted men who have not reported to their local boards as directed and all who have not reported to the adjutant general's office of their respective states when ordered. All such are considered deserters. Where delinquency is shown to be not willful, they will only be delivered to the proper camps. Willful deserters will be court-martialed.

French refuse Germans.

Paris, Sept. 28.—The Germans made an attack last night in the Argonne region. Today's official statement says they were repulsed three times, suffering heavy losses.

GERMAN OFFICIAL REPORT.

Berlin, Sept. 28.—British forces which yesterday advanced for strong local attacks northeast of Frezenberg and on the Meuse road, on the Belgian front, were driven back, says the official statement issued today by the German war office. On the Ypres-Paschendaele road, the statement adds, the British still occupy crater positions on the German front line.

AUSTRIAN FRONTIER CLOSED.

Geneva, Thursday, Sept. 27.—The Austrian frontier was closed yesterday. No telegrams or travelers or newspapers arrived in Switzerland today from Austria. Abbas Hilmi, former khedive of Egypt, however, received a special pass from Vienna. The ex-khedive, who has been living in Switzerland for several months, has decided to take up permanent residence in that city.

a dozen miles of the important north and south railway line connecting Lille with Ostend, on the coast, the cutting of which permits domination at even medium range, artillery fire, and would seriously handicap the Germans in their Flanders campaign.

In the Tower Hamlets and Polygon wood regions, toward the British right flank the clearing up process which followed Wednesday's battle was carried out further by night and the Germans were driven from isolated positions to which strong parties of them were clinging.

There has been other military activity, but little of a nature to call for mention in the official statement, except in the Argonne region on the French front. The Germans made an attempt to break into the French lines last night but were repulsed three times. These attacks were all repulsed, the Germans sustaining heavy losses, says today's Paris war office report.

On the Caucasus front the Russians are showing renewed aggressiveness. In engagements with the Kurds detachments of their hostile force have been driven back to the Rura region, where the Russians today report capture of the town of Oromaru, twenty-four miles west of Meri. The Russian admiralty reports the loss in the Baltic of the Russian destroyer Oohotnik, which struck a mine.

The Russian convention has begun its sessions in Petrograd with 1,200 delegates in attendance. Premier Kerensky met with a mixed reception when he addressed the body, the principal applause for him coming from the less radical delegates. The conservative trunited the extremists who have great strength in the congress, with friendliness to the Germans.

Great Britain's attitude toward peace with the present German government was indicated by Viscount Milner, member of the war council, when in a speech to the American Luncheon club in London today he declared against any peace with the "unrepentant German rulers and reiterated that it was the aim of the allies to pursue to the end their aim to make the world "a better place to live in."

President Ilrigoven, of Argentina, is understood to be against a break with Germany over the Luxemburg incident. It is reported he will inform congress to this effect in a message pointing out that the Argentine government considers the incident closed by the explanation given by the foreign office.

AMERICAN HURT DURING GERMAN RAID OVER CAMP

Washington, Sept. 28.—The slight wounding of First Lieut. Howard E. Keating, of Philadelphia, medical corps, during an air raid on the night of Sept. 24, was reported to the war department today by General Pershing.

The death of Private James Tracoy, Company F, first engineers, as a result of "an accident in the line of duty," also was reported. His next of kin is Mrs. E. J. Tracoy, 1947 West Morris street, Philadelphia.

SHE ONLY ALLOWED HIM THIRTY CENTS A WEEK

Husband Calls Pusillanimity
Treatment.

Besides being quarrelsome and fiery tempered, Mrs. Agnes Murphy only allowed Lloyd Murphy, $30 Greely street, thirty cents a week for picture shows and maybe some chewing tobacco and sodas, the husband sets out in the cross complaint he filed against the divorce action of his wife, in superior court, Friday. The paltry sum of three dimes for seven days is classed as a form of cruel and inhuman treatment by Murphy.

The wife filed divorce action on Tuesday. Her attempt to slither the kordian knot, which has bound the pair since December 15, 1914, brought prompt response from the husband. The only thing in the wife's complaint which he admitted is the bond of wedlock. All other statements are denied and besides Mrs. Murphy often cursed Lloyd and accused him of associating with immoral women, the cross action, filed by Attorney Andrew W. Perry, sets out. There is a son, Charles, aged 13. Both parents ask custody of the child.

Local Companies Sued.

Two suits for $100 from William Arthur and Elmer Wundel and $200 from the Maier Hise & Far company were filed in the circuit court Thursday by Jack Reams, proprietor of a store at Spencerville. He alleges that the above amounts are due him for wool that was stolen from his store by Lee Chapman, Eugene Baker and Russell Davis and disposed of to the firms named in the suit. He claims that they refused to surrender it to him when he informed them it was stolen property.

City Will Do It.

An agreement was reached Thursday whereby the city will make up the assessment rolls on the new twenty per cent property tax to be put into effect next year for paying of street intersections. The agreement was reached between Deputy Auditor J. H. Johnson and City Attorney Guy Colerick. The special tax which was made possible by an act passed in 1909 has never been in effect before here.

Grubstool School Levy.

The Grubstool school levy for 1918 will be fifty cents on tuition and fifty cents on the special fund with a fifty per cent poll tax for the two funds.

Stock Increased.

The certificate showing the increase of the capital stock of the Indiana Engineering and Construction company from $10,000 to $15,000 has been filed with the county recorder.

Suit on $1,800 Note.

Suit for $1,800 alleged to be due on a note has been filed by the Tri-State Loan and Trust company against Catherine Sherburn and Michael Sherburn.

A decree for divorce was granted in the superior court Friday to Charlotte Glass from Charles Glass, Mrs. Glass's maiden name of McBride was restored.

Decision in Kelsey Case.

Judge Watkins, of the Huntington court, gave a decision Friday in the superior court in the case brought by Homer J. Kelsey against Daniel W. Rhodes and others, involving the building of a house on a property line.

Two Judgments.

Judgment for $308.03 was given to John G. Alexander by Joseph L. Wensley and judgment for $240.40 to Fred J. Hoke from John and Charles Maxwell.

Notes of the Courts.

Tom Snook has filed his bond as a notary public.

A petition has been filed by the Ford Sales and Service company to change its name to the Pennell Auto company. Theodore C. Koch, administrator of the estate of the late Christian Koch, has filed his final report and asked that he be discharged.

Final report was filed by John W. Brewer, administrator of the estate of the late John Linker. He asked to be discharged.

THE DEATHS.

MINERS AND OPERATORS DEADLOCKED ON WAGES

Washington, Sept. 28.—Negotiations of the special committee of coal operators and miners conferring here on wage demands of workers in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania were deadlocked today. TELL THEM DAILY

The business man, the public stenographer, the architect, the moving man, the chiroprapist and the carpenter who advertise in the classified columns of The Sentinel all know how important it is to keep their business announcements before Fort Wayne people every day in the week, month after month. They know that Fort Wayne people use these columns like they use the City Directory or the telephone book, "looking up" what they want to buy in the carefully indexed "For Sale" classification, and using the "Services Offered" column in the same way when they want to get in touch with reliable professional people. Whatever you do can profitably be told every day in The Sentinel.

EVANSVILLE TO HAVE PUBLIC NIGHT SCHOOL

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 23.—Night school courses offered in connection with the day public school system in this city are expected to become an educational factor of economic importance this year. The classes will be under the regular high school teachers, and are open for all persons who need the special training provided. Each course will meet two nights a week beginning October 1. ## Stop-Wasting Half Your Fuel Coles Original Hot Blast BURNS THE GAS YOU WASTE

How To Save the Valuable Gas Half of Your Fuel and Turn It Into Heat.

The most valuable Half of soft coal is gas, which is distilled from the burning bed of coal and is continually collecting in the upper part of the stove.

How to save this valuable gas and turn it into heat, is of intense interest to every one.

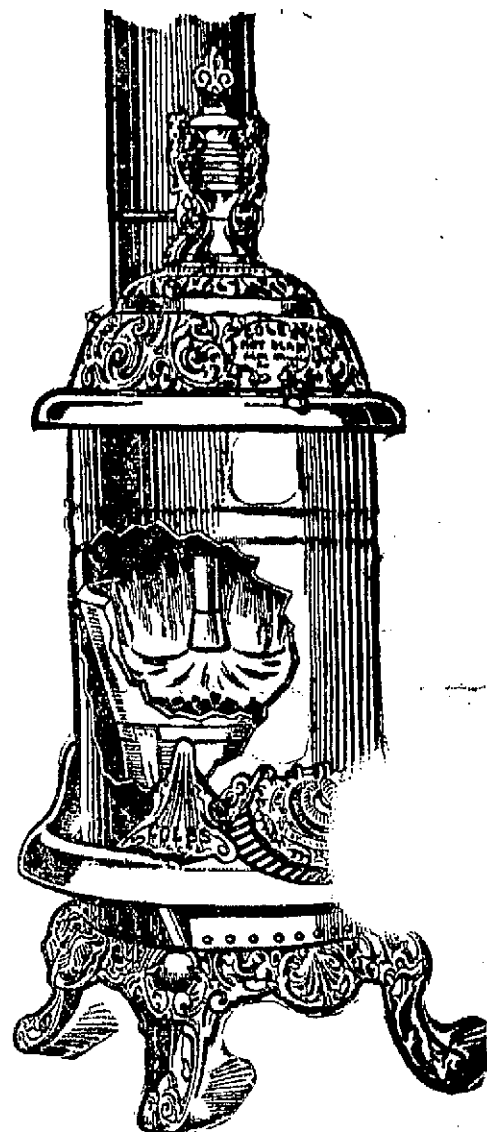

In order to prevent its escape up the chimney you must first of all have an absolutely air-tight stove. The slightest leakage of air into the stove from below the fire pot, as in all oak stoves and imitation hot blast stoves (See illustration No. 3) passes up through the bed of coals and pushes this valuable gas half of your coal up the chimney unused and unused.

The secret of our remarkable fuel saving air-tight construction lies in the fact that Cole's Hot Blast Heater is really "two stoves in one"; i. e., the ordinary oak stove, placed inside a jointless boiler plate body, double-seamed and riveted bottom and side absolutely air-tight.

This air-tight construction gives perfect control of the air entering the stove and is the secret of operation of Cole's Fuel Saving Hot Blast Draft. This draft tube extends from the top center of the stove to a point just over the fuel bed (See illustration.) Down this tube a blast of fresh air heated to over 600 degrees Fahrenheit is discharged over the surface of the burning coal and thoroughly churned and mixed with the valuable distilled gas held above the fire and prevented from escaping up the chimney by our air-tight construction.

This thorough mixture results in the combination of the superheated oxygen in the air with the carbon in the valuable gas rising from the coal and results in perfect economical combustion.

The economical operation of Cole's Hot Blast stove, just described, has never been equaled by others and it is the only heater in the world sold on a guaranteed saving of one-third in fuel as against any underdraft oak stove of the same size on the market.

Read This Remarkable Guarantee

1. We guarantee a saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size, with soft coal, lignite or slack.
2. We guarantee Cole's Hot Blast to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any other base burner made with same size fire pot.
3. We guarantee that the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning with the fuel put in the stove the evening before.
4. We guarantee that the stove will hold fire with soft coal or hard coal from Saturday evening to Monday evening.
5. We guarantee a uniform heat day and night with soft coal, hard coal or lignite.
6. We guarantee every stove to remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.
7. We guarantee the feed door to be smoke and dust proof.
8. We guarantee the anti-puffing to prevent puffing.

SUBURBAN DAY FOLKS TO HELP GARDEN FAIR

Invited to Join Fort Wayne on the Next "Busy Wednesday."

FREE TO ALL.

Chairman Frank H. Hilgeman, of the food conservation committee, wishes to make it plain to all out-of-town people that the big City Garden fair is free to all. The exhibit and the addresses during the afternoon and evening will be of benefit to all who arrange to attend.

Elsewhere in today's Sentinel, additional details of the big city garden fair of next Wednesday are presented, showing that the occasion is to be one of great interest not only to the people of Fort Wayne but to the people of the cities, towns and rural communities who will come to Fort Wayne on Suburban day, next Wednesday, October 3.

In many of the cities and towns of the Fort Wayne trading area, the real significance of Suburban Trade day is just beginning to be realized. For these, the following condensed bit of information will be of value:

Fort Wayne's Suburban Trade day is an established thing. Backed by more than one hundred of the city's leading business houses who form the Fort Wayne Suburban Day Trade association, every Wednesday will be known as Suburban Trade day. The series of "Busy Wednesdays," as they have come to be called, began on the 19th of September. A large crowd came on this first day. The attendance was larger on the second week, and next Wednesday will doubtless see a much broader representation of people from the cities and towns within the Fort Wayne trade circle. These "busy Wednesdays" are characterized by the offering of many attractive Suburban Day "specials," which are liberally advertised by the merchants and others who are back of the movement. Also, with the growth of the importance of the day, big events are coming into the arrangement, such as the city garden fair of next Wednesday at Levee park, conveniently located down town.

FREE DENTAL CLINIC FOR SELECTED MEN

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 28.—A free dental clinic for all drafted men will be broached tonight at a session here of the thirteenth District Dental society. Dr. John A. Stoeckley, president of the society, has called the meeting to formulate plans for the work. Dr. Stoeckley states that because more than 600,000 men are being thrown into service and because a shortage of dentists exists it has been impossible to care for men with bad teeth. In order to cope with the situation the government has asked dentists over the nation to assist in getting the drafted men in condition before they are sent to the training camps, said Dr. Stoeckley.

The present demand for flash lamp batteries exceeds the output by 200 per cent. The flashlight is an almost indispensable part of the soldier's equipment.

Girls! Juice of Lemons Clears and Whitens Skin

Prepare a quarter pint of lemon beauty lotion at the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness, and tan and is the ideal skin softener and beautifier.

Is Mobilizing Woman Power for Red Cross

Upon the sturdy shoulders of Miss Florence Marshall falls the great task of mobilizing the womanhood of the country under the Red Cross flag. She has been appointed to organize the women of the country so that surgical dressings and other necessities in Red Cross work will be made in great quantities.—Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

While this event was not arranged by the association but by the food conservation committee, the event fits into the association's plans admirably. The merchants are making elaborate plans for next Wednesday, the theaters will present attractive matinee and evening programs, and altogether the day will eclipse in interest the two preceding Wednesdays of the series.

HOW DOES THIS BUILDING SITE APPEAL TO YOU?

This is one of the few unsold wooded lots in Section B, South Wood Park. Many of the pictures of South Wood Park which have appeared in The Sentinel have presented views of lot which have been purchased by many of the best-known residents of the city; but today the rule has been changed. The photograph shows one of the few lots in the wooded section that have not yet been chosen, and the reason for the breaking of the rule is that many appear to believe that all of the wooded property in Section B has been sold. This picture will appear again in The Sentinel, just as soon as the site—lot 162—has been sold. In the foreground is Pembroke Lane. The large tree is in the parkway. The second fence shows the lot line. Now, then, who will become the owner of lot 162 in the new Hillman & Schaaf development?

GEESSE BREAK ONCE MORE INTO HISTORY

This Time They Were Ducks, But They Saved British Detachment.

With British Forces in Saloniki, Aug. 20.—(Correspondence.)—This is the story of how geese of Kale-Zir gave the warning and saved a British detachment.

When the Bulgars left their native fastnesses and came down into the plains, their advance was halted by a certain famous river and a historic lake. A British company was holding the upper lake, for it was divided into two parts connected by the river. The company was charged with responsibility for the upper lake and five miles of the connecting stream as far as Kale-Zir. They had absolute command of the lake, thanks to the motorboats, and a crossing there was inconceivable, but the river flowed through a maze of reeds and swamps and forests, most parts of which appeared absolutely impenetrable from the British side. A feeling of comparative safety pervaded the British camp.

Then one evening the orderly officer set out from the camp on his bicycle to visit two outposts up the river, nearly two miles from the camp. It was very dark. As he neared the sentry, he heard the movement of wings, and distinguished flock after flock of ducks flying from their night rest among the reeds.

"Looks odd," he remarked to the sentry. Then to a sergeant, "I'll take one man, sergeant, and we'll cycle down the path and have a look."

The path ran a quarter of a mile along the marsh and then died in an abrupt death in a stifling fence of reeds. The officer and his orderly dismounted and listened. They could discern over in the swamp a long line of men in single file.

Back to the picket post, the orderly sent a man to warn the camp, while he remained behind to keep the enemy raiders under observation.

The raiders were two hundred strong, under command of a German officer. They kept to the path until just before it came into a clearing. Then they halted and prepared to attack. They got into a loose sort of open order and came on quickly. At that moment the British officer fired four shots. Immediately a light over the British camp appeared. The glare was dazzling. There was a moment's silence and then a roar of fire. It was a complete surprise. The raiders were hunched close, and must have had fifty casualties in the first fusillade. They made no attempt to resist, but flung everything away and made for the maize fields.

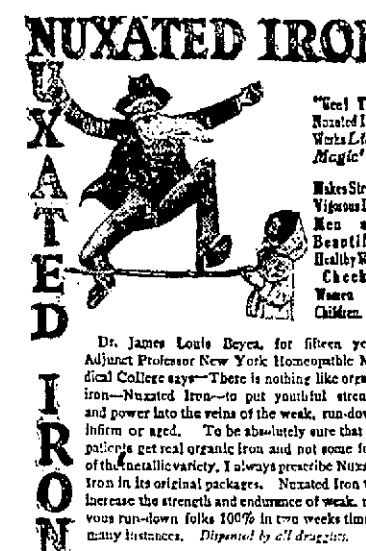

The first person picked up was the German officer in charge of the enterprise, who had been hit in the thigh. Altogether there were 25 dead and 58 wounded, while 35 more surrendered during the morning at different places and more kept giving themselves up for several days. Probably not more than five or six ever got back to the Bulgarian lines.

PARISIANS TRAFFIC IN COINS OF COPPER

Authorities Work to Break Up Speculations in Small Pieces.

Paris, Sept. 28.—(Correspondence.)—Traffic in copper coins which frequently has been denounced during the past two years is still going on in France. In a great many stores, tobacco shops, groceries, bakeries and meat markets, at ticket offices of transportation lines and places of amusement, sous and double sous are taken in all through the day and evening, and none given out if it can be avoided. Subway and tramway employees have even refused to sell tickets unless the passengers offer the exact change. Theatre and moving picture box offices are also collectors of coppers.

M. Hudelo, the new prefect of police, made a round of parts in the subway the other day. He was required to furnish coppers for his tickets after offering a franc silver piece. At one station the ticket seller refused in his presence to make change for a two-franc piece. M. Hudelo passed in his card and ordered that the ticket be delivered, whereupon both the ticket and the change were forthcoming.

"So you had the change. Now you may go to the office and get your pay. You are discharged," said M. Hudelo, whose authority extends to all employees of public services.

The prefect was called upon to make his own change at the ticket offices of

The result of his investigation was a circular to commissaires of police, calling upon them to enforce the regulations and prosecute every person speculating in copper money, and to send to police headquarters the names of every employee of any public service refusing to make change without a plausible reason.

There has been a regular market for coppers at the Place Gambetta where subway employees and other collectors bring sous and double sous in rolls and dispose of them at a bonus of 10 per cent. The buyers get back the premium they pay for this small change and make an additional profit of 15 per cent, through illicit exportation to Switzerland. Though French paper and silver money is at a discount there, copper money, curiously enough, passes at par, which has provoked the systematic traffic that the police propose to stop.

Soldiers Will Prove Strong Opponents for Friars Club

Have Big Array of Talent in O. R. C. at Camp Custer.

Some classy football for Fort Wayne is the prediction of George W. Fisher, president of the Fort Wayne Friars club, during the coming season. Fisher says that the Friars will be fully as strong this fall as formerly, if not stronger. A large number of players have already agreed to places and the caliber of these men indicates the strength of the club for the coming season.

The first game of the season should be as good as any that follow, according to Fisher. The football team of the 85th division U. S. A., at Camp Custer, is composed of members of the officers' training camp similar to the one at Fort Benjamin Harrison which was attended by a number of Fort Wayne athletes.

Every player on the soldier team according to word received by Fisher is backed up by a college or university football reputation. Among the stars who will be seen at the ball park October 7 are Chief Gardner, former Carlisle star; Harry Costello, of Georgetown university, All-American football choice; Miller and De Prado, of the Michigan Aggies; Mabbott and Shields, of the Detroit Tigers, and numerous other luminaries including two University of Michigan men. One the whole they form an array which will be hard for the Friars to beat. The soldier footballers are continually training and therefore with their previous football practice will be well qualified to stack up against some of the best teams in the country.

Because of the fact that the soldiers will be the first opponents the Friars' first game will be attended by a military and patriotic demonstration of some sort which is being planned by the Friars club. The embryo officers themselves will probably form a part of the parade which will precede the game.

The following is an excerpt from a letter received by President Fisher from Lloyd A. Rowe, office division athletic director, at Camp Custer:

"A word of explanation in regard to our team at this time will not be amiss and I wish to say that we have among the officers of the 85th division men who have played considerable football and all the members of our team have college or university records back of them. These men are giving their time and effort to the building up of our 85th division team and the money taken in by the team this season will be used to purchase athletic equipment for the entire division. Such being the case you will readily see that it is our desire to make as much money as possible in order that athletics may be encouraged to the maximum in this division."

Recognizing the worthiness of the officer athletes' enterprise the Friar management has made a notable concession not usually made for teams playing here in that the game will be played strictly on a 50-50 basis. Season tickets are now on sale for all the games by the Friars and fans who are figuring on attending all the games can save money by buying these, the Sentinel is requested to announce.

Veteran in Charge of Giants' Pitchers

George Gibson, veteran coach and right hand man of Manager McGraw. He will coach the pitchers in the coming season, and will have a good deal to say as to their selection for mound duty.

CITY SERIES TO WIND UP BASEBALL SEASON

Mart Cleary Hopes to Cop Two Games and Win Championship.

The final base ball windup of the season will occur in Fort Wayne at League park Sunday, when Babe Myers' Cubs and Mart Cleary's Lincoln Lifers cross bats for the last time this season. The championship will no longer be a mooted question. It will be positively decided for once and for all time—that is, until next spring.

In Boston, the Braves and Red Sox will play for the city championship of Boston, and in St. Louis the Cardinals and Browns will fight it out for the championship of Missouri. The fans have to stand for that, and in Fort Wayne Cleary and Myers will settle all past and present personal grudges in a base ball way, Sunday afternoon in a double header.

If Babe's team can win the first one, Mart will be up against it and the championship of the Summit City in a baseball way will have been decided. Mart hopes that his team can win both games and take the championship. The second game will be played even if the Lifers lose the first contest and the series. Cleary has stood pat on his regular line-up throughout the season and has brought in no new talent for the series.

Ostemyer and Lampert will do the hurling for the Lincoln Lifers while Dietrich, Seltz and a new man will probably be on the mound for the Cubs.

JOHNSON PICKS SOX

Walter Johnson, the brilliant pitcher of the Washington club, is undoubtedly one of the hardest men to interview now in the national game. He is always backward about expressing an opinion of other players for fear of hurting someone's feelings.

Walter was caught off his guard last week in a conversation at the Washington park, the great pitcher never dreaming he was talking for publication, and for this reason his views on the coming world series can be taken as a true blue opinion. "The world series this year," is going to be an extremely hard fought contest, but I believe the White Sox have just enough edge on the Giants to win out.

"I understand McGraw and the followers of the New York team are building on the pitching force of their three left-handers, but before the series is over they will be using right-handers or I miss my guess. Joe Jackson and Eddie Collins don't like southpaws as a rule, but they are far from weaklings when going against them. McGraw will have to figure on beating the White Sox right-hand hitters, as Felsch, John Collins, Chick Gaff and Rieberg are hard men to fool and every one of them is especially good against left-handers.

"I have pitched against the White Sox enough to know that a majority of them are natural hitters, and pitchers must have a great deal on the ball to keep them from driving it into safe territory. The way I figure the White Sox is that the only men on the team with whom chances can be taken are the pitchers, and sometimes they hit the best I have a mile or more.

"There are no .500 hitters among them this season, but their winning strength lies in the fact that they generally come through with safe hits when there are men on the bases, and I need not tell you that is the time to hit the ball. I don't believe any of the White Sox can be classed as backstoppers when a hit means a run or victory, at least I have always found them at their best at a critical time.

three of the Giants, but I have seen the many times in action and almost the same that I have said about the White Sox applies to them. Kauff, Robertson, and Burns are natural hitters, with Zimmerman almost with them. There is a youngster on that team by the name of Holke who I have seen handle a bat very cleverly and I wouldn't be surprised if he would turn out to be the best hitter of the Giants in the big series.

"The Giants will have to reckon with a formidable trio of pitchers in Russell, Cicotte and Faber. I wouldn't be surprised if the first named did not outpitch the other two.

"Where McGraw might figure on left-handers beating the White Sox the comedown is in Russell, as he will be able to run or victory, at least I have always found them at their best at a critical time.

"I have pitched against only two or

AHERN TAKES A "SQUIRREL FOOD" SLANT AT WHITE SOX PARK

ALEX PICKS GIANTS

Grover Cleveland Alexander, the king of pitchers—who still retains his throne, peeping through the periscope into the future, sees victory ahead for the New York Giants over the Chicago White Sox in baseball's classic.

Here's a pitcher, the modern king of 'em all, willing to admit that pitching alone will not win the series. Quite the contrary, Alex the Great deduces triumph ahead for New York because bats wielded by the Giants will be far more productive in the art of run-getting.

What Eddie Cicotte, Red Russell, Williams, Faber and Danforth will make the Giants think they are swinging toothpicks when they go up there to take a crack at the ball? Where do you get that stuff? Now, it may be so that the Chicago pitching will throw a monkey wrench into the New York artillery, but I have reason to think otherwise.

"Do I think the Giants are a great scoring machine? Look at my record against them! I won a game from them in our last series; that's all this year. It's beyond me to explain why they bumped me so hard. "When McCarty is catching and Saltee pitching, you have to face nine men, anyone of whom might break up the old ball game with a long drive.

"I've heard it said that the Giants throw away chances to score by playing the hit and run for a flock of runs. That's not so. The Giants can sacrifice as well as hit and run and I look for them to continually mix 'em up against the White Sox. New York is the greatest one inning scoring team I ever faced.

"So much for the offensive of the Giants. Now the pitching. There are two men in the Chicago lineup whose bats must be hushed up—Eddie Collins and Joe Jackson. I look for McGraw to pin his faith in left-handers, for once Collins and Jackson are silenced the biggest danger has been removed. Ferdie Schupp, the brilliant left-hander, might shine against Chicago, but I favor Slim Sallee.

"It wouldn't surprise me to see McGraw shoot left-handers Schupp and Sallee at the White Sox in the first two games. Either could come back after a short rest but it wouldn't be absolutely necessary for there is Peritt, a right-hander, who will give the Sox a lot of trouble.

"I've been hearing a lot about Cicotte's shine ball. He might not have such a thing; it might just be a feeler. Anyhow, if he has a shine ball working he certainly will have to be at his very best to pitch it past that hard hitting club.

"The Giants are not a ball club that might be considered a mark for left-hand pitching. They have a batting order well balanced with both types of hitters, a strong infield with Fletcher and Herzog, a great combination around second, a pitching staff especially strong in left-handers, good catchers and a smart outfield. There had been some talk of Herzog being sick. I look for him to play an important part.

"I do not expect the Giants to have a walkover, but they have all three things necessary to win, hitting, pitching and fielding, with cool heads under fire."

COLUMBUS MEETING COMES TO AN END

THIRTY OUT AT CORNELL

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Nearly thirty football players are working out on the Cornell team, one of the few big eastern colleges that will be represented this year on the gridiron.

The latest in submarines is said to be a two-ton model, twenty-five feet long and twenty-eight inches wide, which is built for a crew of one man.

RIGHT HANDERS EASY FOR ROWLAND'S SOX

A. L. Champs Hand Senators Beating—Athletics Win.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Charles A. Con-laker's pennant winners indulged in a merry batting practice yesterday. They faced three of C. Griffith's perfectly good right-handers and at the end of a perfect day the Sox had hung up an even dozen base hits. They triumphed over the Senators 6 to 1, bringing their season's victories to 29 games. As they have three more games on their official schedule it is safe to wager the men of Rowland will finish the season with 100 wins to their credit. Score: R.H.E. Chicago... 21 8 0 0 0 0 0-6 12 0 Washington... 0 1 0 0 0 0 0-1 6 1 Batteries—Benz and Lynn; Shaw, Galla, Croft and Almsmith.

Athletics Defeat St. Louis. Philadelphia, Sept. 23.—The Athletics defeated St. Louis yesterday 6 to 5. Bush blanked the Browns until the eighth inning, then gave the visitors three runs and the lead. The Athletics came back in their half and scored four runs off Loudermilk. After the Browns had scored two in the ninth Bush wound up the contest by striking out Jacobson. Score: R.H.E. St. Louis... 0 0 0 0 0 0 3-2 10 4 Philadelphia... 0 0 0 0 2 0 4-6 11 5 Batteries—Groom, Koob, Loudermilk and Soverold; Bush, Perkins and McAvoy.

IN FOOTBALL CAMPS

WISCONSIN.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 23.—Coach Richards of the University of Wisconsin football squad spent most of yesterday afternoon building up a defense for forward passes which his regular back field and ends have been using to good advantage in the daily scrimmages. The morning practices have been discontinued with the opening of classes and the squad worked late into the afternoon.

INDIANA.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 23.—Six of the varsity football men are ineligible because of scholastic rule. Arrangements were made for tutors to assist the stars who have been conditioned. Inasmuch as the material is exceedingly short, the coaches cannot spare any men. Coach Stehm told the varsity last night their tackling in the scrimmage with the freshmen yesterday was bad. He had them hit the dummy for a long drill.

GREAT LAKES.

Great Lakes, Ill., Sept. 23.—In its last workout before the Marquette university game at Milwaukee Saturday the Great Lakes Naval gridiron team scored seven touchdowns in a half-hour's scrimmage with the second one. Pat Smith, who was shifted from fullback to tackle; Phil Proctor, Nebraska, and Raymond, Michigan, were the bright lights. Lieutenant Angell, head coach of the jockies, missed his beefiest line men to oppose the regulars.

NOTRE DAME.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 23.—Notre Dame men will know their signals if nothing else after a few drills like yesterday's, for Harper kept them at it nearly all afternoon. Rockne gave the line men personal and individual instructions. Jake Kilne's yearlings were permitted their first line scrimmage and also had their usual signal practice. Seventy men were out.

MICHIGAN.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 23.—Handicapped by the loss of veterans now in the service, Michigan gridironers began practice yesterday morning under Coach Yost, about forty men turning out. Among the veterans who have responded to Yost's call are Weske, the Cress boys, Goodsell, Boyd, Culver, Sparks, Hamish, Wieman and Froemke. With these men is the mentor placing his hopes. Due to the fact that this year marks Michigan's re-entrance into the conference, an unusual interest is being shown by the returning student body in the development of the eleven. The first game, to have been played on October 7, has been postponed a week to give the Yost men time to get into shape.

PURDUE.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 23.—Scrimmage is on the program again for the Purdue football squad after a day spent in tackling the dummy, falling on the ball and running through signals. All of the men, with the addition of Jordan, were out on Stuart field yesterday, and showed up in fine form. The men are hitting the dummy with accuracy, falling on the ball with speed and force, and Coach O'Donnell has expressed himself as highly pleased with their work so far. The eleven has been strengthened by the return of Orville Roberts, one of the husky guards of last year.

Comiskey Needs Some Help

—Will Make It Chicago Affair.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Try this on your adding machine:

Orders for 100,000 seats for each game of the world series at Comiskey park had been received yesterday. There are 33,000 seats.

Thousands of out-of-town applicants will be disappointed, as the White Sox management has announced that the home-grown fans will be "taken care of first."

The one ray of hope remaining for the tardy ones is the fact that 15,000 pavilion and bleacher seats will be placed on sale at the park in the morning before each game. According to the national commission "there ain't no such animal" as the ticket scalper—but brokers are offering $2.50 for $1.50 reserved seats and $7.50 for $5 box seats.

LIPPE'S FIGHTERS BARRED.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 23.—Fighters under the management of Al Lippe, of New York, will not be allowed to box in the state of Wisconsin in the future. The alleged failure of Lippe to post Jeff Smith's forfeit money for the latter's bout with Harry Greb here recently and his refusal to appear before the board for a hearing resulted in the action. As a result, the proposed bout between Tom Cowler, New York heavyweight, and Fred Fulton, of Minnesota, some time during the early part of next month, has been cancelled.

To the Man Who Needs Fall Clothes

Dear Sir:—

In view of the enormous advances we are forced to pay the mills for further quantities of the fabrics we are now showing, we will be compelled to advance the prices on September 29th.

In case you are going to need a suit or overcoat this Fall and Winter and will place your order on or before September 29th, you will get the advantage of the old price. You may call for the finished garment any time thereafter up to and including November 30th, but the goods must be selected no later than September 29th.

Trusting that you will see your way clear as you have nothing to lose and all to gain if you will protect yourself against paying the higher price, we remain

Yours very truly,

WILL USE AMERICAN FARMING MACHINERY

Will Tear Soil of Macedonia
and Thessaly With Plows
Made Here.

Athens, Aug. 22.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—American agricultural machinery is to be used on a huge scale to develop the rich agricultural resources of Macedonia and Thessaly, which have lain for ages in an undeveloped state. One of the largest orders ever given by Greece has just been placed with United States concerns, and the first shipments of 200 farm tractors, 1,500 auto-rakes, and a whole shipload of other large implements left New York on the first of the Greek liners to sail since the entente blockade was raised.

A company with $3,000,000 capital, has just been founded to carry on this development of Macedonia and Thessaly. It is chiefly Greek money, with some French and American. But part of the plan called for utilizing modern American methods, by which farming is conducted in the western states on a huge scale. The ancient methods of ploughing and harvesting still prevail in Thessaly and lower Greece, and this will be the first time that the big steam farm tractors have been operated here on a large scale. Even the primitive wooden plough is used by many peasants, but at Volo, in Thessaly, iron and steel ploughs have been turned out for some time past.

This development of the Balkan granaries on a large scale is one of the necessities forced upon Europe by the war. All of the countries have suddenly realized that they could not feed themselves in the pinch of war. Greece alone has bought about $15,000,000 worth of grain every year from the United States, Russia and Bulgaria. With these countries cut off by submarines and war conditions, Greece is now trying to get wheat from India. The other Balkan states are in the same condition. They have lots of idle land but are feeding themselves from America, and beyond seas.

The formation of this new company has resulted from this determination.

encouraged by the government, to develop the fertile Balkan regions so that Greece and the other Balkan countries may hope to be self-supporting and even contribute to the grain supply of the rest of Europe. Macedonia virtually is a virgin soil, very rich, and capable of large crops. The Macedonian tobacco already commands high prices in the world's markets. It trebled in value the last year.

Thessaly is the region where the French High Commissioner, M. Jonnart, introduced intensive farming the past summer in order to meet the pressing needs of Greece. It is one of the best wheat regions, and even with primitive methods it produced last year 5,000,000 bushels of wheat, oats, barley and rye, 10,000,000 pounds of tobacco, and much cotton and rice.

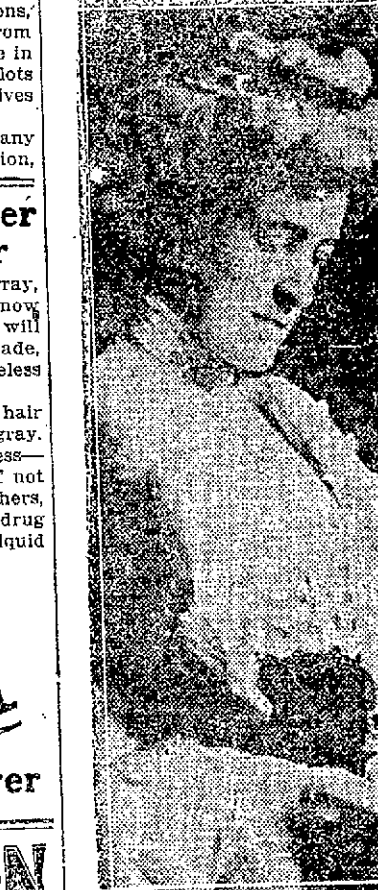

With the large consignments of American machinery now on the way, and abundant capital available, it is expected that these products of Macedonia and Thessaly will be enormously increased, and that the hope will be at last realized of making it one of the largest granaries of Eastern Europe.

NECESSITY TO CLOSE A NEW GATE TO SPIES

Uncle Sam's Mail Bag Will Be Censored Against Sky Letters.

BY MILTON BRONNER.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 27.—President Wilson and Postmaster General Burleson now have under consideration a mail censorship plan whose object will be to eliminate chances of information being slipped out of this country to Germany and her allies.

Uncle Sam is the only belligerent in the world who exercises absolutely no censorship on mail matter.

The greatest censorship bureau in the world is the British. Not only have vast stores of useful information been obtained by censoring letters, but immense numbers of tips to Germany have thereby been killed.

Practically all mail from this country to the six neutrals of Europe is censored by the British and French. Mail for Asia is censored by the British and Japanese.

The British and French censor all mail for Africa.

But there are ships that ply directly between Havana and Spain and between South American ports and Spain. The chances for a leak into

Catarthral Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reached and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Germany via Spain, are, therefore, many.

Obviously the job for Uncle Sam is to exercise a scrutiny of all mail going to Cuba and the South American continent.

Cuba will readily help us, having come into the war because we came in. The South American matter will have to be handled in a different way if it is to be effective. It will mean a real censorship on all mail matter for those countries.

The censorship will have to be exercised here at home, because we can't expect neutral countries in South America to do the job for us.

Censorship of South American mail would entail the employment of a big bureau of clerks. There would have to be people thoroughly conversant with European languages, and especially, with Spanish and Portuguese. There would have to be experts who could detect code messages in seemingly simple personal and family letters. And there would have to be still others, who could detect messages written in invisible ink.

RAISE FISH IN YOUR OWN PRIVATE PUDDLE

Acre Devoted to Fish Pond Can Be Made to Yield $200 Annually.

Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—The possibility of netting $200 a year from fish raised on an acre of water is explained in a statement by E. C. Shireman, state fish and game commissioner. Although the commissioner sets forth that the care necessary to clear $200 on an acre of water in a year is more than would be required for raising a crop on an acre of land, the profit is greater and the cost of future production is less.

The time necessary for the best results after stocking the pond is three years. Mr. Shireman's statement is based on experiments in Kansas in a circular pond which had an area of about one acre. The pond was shallow near the edges and sloping toward the center to a depth of six feet. For the most part the bottom was of mud. Stocking the pond was the greatest task, and after that little was done except to provide food for the fish for three years.

About 10,000 yearling fish—black bass, croppie, blue gill, saffish, bull-head catfish, and a few gold fish—were placed in the pond in the spring of the first year. Some of the fish were too small for anything except food for the larger fish. The next year 1,500 two-year-old or supplies were added, together with 2,000 bull-head catfish. Later enough of the various kinds were added to make the total put in about 15,000.

The food for the fish included 500 pounds of chopped liver, 600 pounds chopped fish—mostly carp—300 pounds of chopped corn, 50 pounds Kaffir corn, and 50 pounds of bread and table scraps. This food cost about $105 for the three years.

The pond was kept as nearly at the same level as possible. In the spring of the third year the pond was lowered and a stream of clear water run through while the fish were being taken out to prevent injury to the fish by the mud. The fish were all removed by seines of varying size. In all 26,448 fish were taken from the pond and they weighed a total of 6,799 pounds. Counting out the amount spent for food which might be reduced in many instances on the farm, the total profit for the three years was more than $200.

The commissioner states that on almost every farm is a place where a small fish pond might be made at little cost, especially if there is a spring to provide sufficient fresh water. Such a pond would not only provide fish for the table throughout the year but should provide a profitable investment, according to the commissioner.

The fish and game commission has well under way plans for taking from the streams, near Indianapolis, the larger so-called "coarse" fish, which experts say can be prepared into palatable food. The fish are to be sold at low prices to the public. If plans work out successfully they will be put into effect in other parts of the state.

FIGHTING FIRE IN ATHENS.

Water Hauled to the Blaze in Huge Tanks.

Athens, Sept. 28.—There was a fire on the main street of Athens the other day which permitted one to see the Athenian fire department in full action. First came a huge tank of water drawn by horses. There is no water from fire hydrants, for water is very scarce and people are not permitted to take baths. So the fire department brings the tank of water to each fire, and the fire is held down as long as the tank holds out. Back of the tank comes one of the venerable hand-pumping devices which Benjamin Franklin introduced when he started the volunteer fire organizations in America. Still the Athenian fire department has a good record, mainly because Athens is built of stone and cannot burn.

The day after the fire the huge tank was seen on the same street laying the dust, and it was explained that the fire department was also the street-sprinkling department.

INDIANA HAS MADE UP PROGRAM FOR SCHOOLS

Vocational Education Under Federal Act Will Be Given Start.

Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—The state board of education has made public the program for vocational education in Indiana as adopted under the Smith-Hughes act of congress. It now remains for the national committee on vocational education established under the act to sanction the Indiana program for it to be in force in this state.

Agriculture and various of the trades demanding the highest training will be taught not only by vocational education teachers but by men and women actively engaged in the trades taught the pupils. The program sets out that the instruction is to be less than the college grade.

Equipment is specified as well as methods of instruction, and qualifications and training of the teachers. In providing for the industrial training the program announces that a study of the needs of a community must largely determine what shall be taught.

A four-year course in agriculture is provided with not less than one-half of the four years' work composed of agricultural subjects, each one a unit in itself. Close co-operation between the state board of education and the agricultural department of Purdue university is necessary in teaching the subject according to the program outlined.

The instruction is practical, farming is to be open to persons between fourteen and twenty-five who are preparing for or have entered on the occupation of agriculture. The amount of equipment and the number of subjects taught is to be determined in each case but a minimum cost of $125 for a class of fifteen persons has been set.

Adequate special training in poultry raising, horticulture, dairying, soils, animal husbandry and farm mechanics is to be included. Practical project work is to be carried on every day of the year and the instruction is to be based on the actual daily problems of the farm.

Teachers in such schools must have had five years' actual vocational training besides other necessary qualifications. The instruction in the trades and industries is to be as thorough but must be determined largely by the community's needs.

Does Your Husband Drink?

Druggist Tells How to Cure The Liquor Habit At Home

Free Prescription Can Be Filled At Any Drug Store and Given Secretly.

H. J. Brown, a Cleveland man, was for many years a confirmed drunkard. His friends and relatives despaired of ever redeeming him. His sister sought the best medical men in Europe in the hope that she might find a cure. At last, a cure was found. Finally she was recommended to an eminent chemist, who gave her a private formula (the same as appears below) and told her how to use it. She had it filled at the drug store and gave it to him secretly. The results were startling. In a few weeks he was completely cured. That was over eight years ago and he has not touched a drop since. He now occupies a position of trust and is enthusiastic in his efforts to help others overcome the liquor habit. He feels that he can best do this by making public the same formula which cured him. Here is the prescription: Go to any first class drug store and get Prepared Tescum Powders. Drop one powder twice a day in coffee, tea or any liquid. It is harmless, tasteless, odorless and can not be detected. You can use it without the knowledge of anyone. A lady who recently tried it on her husband reports: "My husband was on a spree when I got the powders and he usually stays drunk from three to four weeks at a time. After putting the powder in his coffee for four days he sobered up and has not taken a drink since and says he is through with it forever. He also complained that whisky did not taste the same. I shall not tell him what did it, but I am grateful for this help and I shall recommend it whenever possible."

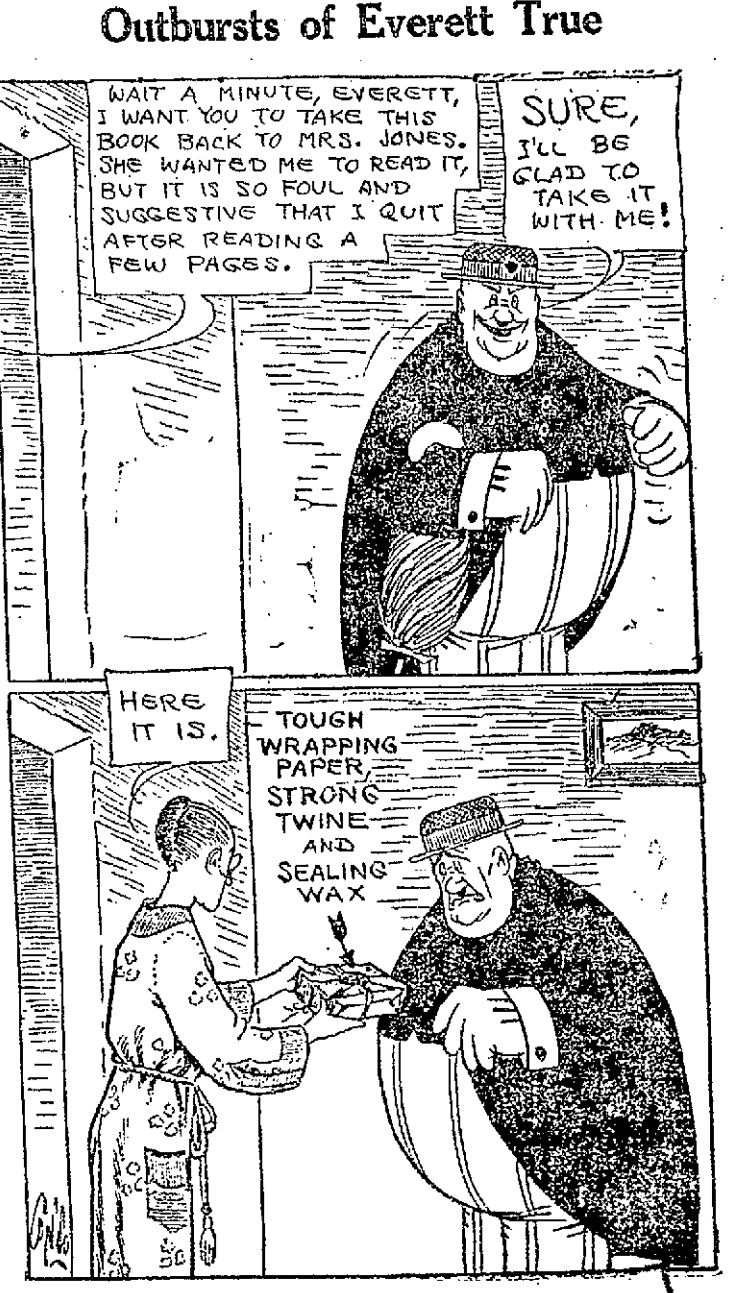

One woman who used this prescription on her husband says: "It is going on the fourth week since he has touched a drop of anything in the form of liquor or used tobacco of any kind. He seems already like a different man. Tescum has raised a wonderful enthusiasm in me. I regard Tescum as a great blessing. I have never seen my husband sober for more than 48 hours in years and now it is going on one month since he had his last drink."

Another one gratefully writes: "I have used Tescum powders on my husband and find it one of the greatest cures in this world. He hasn't taken a drink for almost five weeks and says he never will. My home does not seem like the same place and life seems worth living. I hope thousands gain what I have. This has been a good new year for me without drink in my home."

Note—A leading druggist when shown the above article said: "Yes, Tescum is a very remarkable remedy for the drink habit. It is harmless, wonderfully effective and is having an enormous sale. I advise every one who wishes to destroy the liquor habit to give it a trial."

You take no risk with Tescum as it is sold in this city under a steelbound money-refund guarantee by the Dreter Drug Co., Meyer Bros. and other first-class druggists. They guarantee it to do the work or refund the money.

MILLION BUSHEL OF SEED CORN EXPECTED

Large Amount of High Grade Grain to Be Selected Next Month.

Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—No less than 1,000,000 bushels of high-grade seed corn are to be selected from Indiana fields October 22 to 26, if the program now planned by the Indiana committee on food production and conservation is carried out. The 1918 planting program calls for approximately 6,000,000 acres in corn in 1918. A bushel of seed is required for every 45 acres.

G. L. Christie, state food director, in an announcement concerning seed corn, says the seed should be selected from the field before the time of heavy freezes. If that is done, and it is stored properly, the yield next year would easily be increased 20,000,000 bushels in Indiana.

Experiments conducted by the Purdue station comparing the germination of corn selected at different stages of maturity are of interest. The work started in the fall of 1907, and statistics kept each year since. Various conditions are covered by the reports.

Corn selected just before denting germinated 79.7 per cent; corn nicely dented when selected germinated 93.5 per cent. The ripest ears selected when the corn was ready to shock showed 92.5 per cent germination, while the ripest ears at husking germinated 88.5 per cent.

GERMANY OWNS CEMETERY.

Rome, Sept. 28.—War has drawn attention to the fact that the great Protestant cemetery in Rome, where are buried many distinguished foreigners, including the poets, Keats and Shelley, is the property of the German government, and the rentals for plots therein are still paid to German agents. More than a century ago Prussia was the only non-Roman Catholic power represented at the Vatican.

Therefore, it was Prussia which obtained the concession for a cemetery to be used for the bodies of those not of the Roman faith, and the property still remains in the hands of the German government. Prominent foreigners here are now urging that the Italian government should take over the cemetery and place it under British protection.
